BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE REPUBLICAN

Practically Complete Returns Give Republicans 226 to 206 for Democrats in House 53 to 42 in Senate—G. O. P. Losses Enormous, But Majorities Were Also Big.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—There will be twenty more republicans than democrats in the next house of representatives and eleven more republicans than democrats in the new senate unless results indicated by practically complete returns are overthrown. In the house the republican majority over the combined democratic and scattering vote will be seventeen, while in the senate it will be ten. In the present congress republicans have a house plurality of 166 over the democrats and a majority of 165 over all. In the senate the republican majority over the democrats is 24 with no scattering votes. The lineup of the new house heretofore listed as including 225 republicans and 207 democrats was altered to 226 republicans and 206 democrats today through a change in technical party affiliations by one of the successful candidates in Tuesday's election. Representative Guy E. Campbell of the 26th Pennsylvania district who in the past two campaigns has run as a "republican-democrat" but has been carried heretofore on the official house membership roll as a democrat, requested the house clerk to list him hereafter as a republican. The request was complied with. Present senate—Republicans 60; Democrats 35; Farmer-Labor, 0. Totals, 95. New senate—Republicans 53; Democrats 42; Farmer-Labor 1. Totals, 96. DILL PLEDGED TO GET GOAT OF SEN. NEWBERRY

SEATTLE, Nov. 10.—Clarence C. Dill, democrat of Spokane, whose election to the United States senate is indicated by returns in which Charles Hebbard, republican state chairman, does not expect "any material change," will be the youngest member when he takes his seat March fourth, it is said here. Mr. Dill who was 28 years old three weeks ago, is a bachelor. Besides Ernest Lister, former governor, he is the only democrat to win in a statewide contest in Washington since the populist wave. He is the only democrat ever re-elected to congress in the state, having served from March, 1915 to March 1919. George Turner of Spokane, the only other democratic senator in the history of the state, was put in by a fusion of populists and democrats in the legislature in 1897. Mr. Dill was born October 18, 1884 near Fredericktown, Knox county, O., and graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1907. He has been a school teacher and a newspaper man. His profession is the law. He was a deputy prosecuting attorney and was secretary to the late Governor Lister. "I based my campaign pretty largely on the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry," said Mr. Dill. "That I conceived to be the weakness in the armor of my republican opponent, Senator Miles Polindexter. I talked the Esch-Cummins act, taxation and farm legislation in my campaign. I believe that these are vital. "But I gave the people a pledge that if they would elect me I would go back to the senate and work for the unseating of Newberry. I assume that older men in the senate will take the lead in this fight. It appears now that nine senators who were up for re-election. Newberry kept his seat by a vote of 46 to 41." Dill's supporters are declaring that when the figures have all been assembled his campaign will be found to have cost almost nothing especially in the turn-over, said to be unprecedented in this state. Rich men, it is related when asked to contribute to the Dill campaign, pointed out the improbability of a democratic senator being elected in Washington. The largest gift is reported to have been $100 from Pat McCoy, a Skagit county lumber man. An each expense was incurred the money is asserted to have been gathered in donations ranging from $1 to $10 by the personal solicitation of Robert P. Odham of this city, democratic vice-chairman and Harry H. Collier of Tacoma.

CLEMENCEAU TO CAMPAIGN FOR LEAGUE

Ex-Premier of France On Eve of Departure Says He Will Leave U. S. Politics Alone, But Will Point Out Necessity of Some League—Rarin' to Go.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Georges Clemenceau sails away for America tomorrow, happy in the spirit of adventure. Today he was gay—interested and interesting—keen to be off. Considering his great age, he was 81 last September, the eagerness with which the Tiger of France anticipated the experiences that are soon to come to him in the United States is quite touching to those who see him and talk with him. What impresses the American editors most is his youthfulness of outlook. He talks of the present and the future in the manner of a man in middle life, he refuses to be revivified. "I never was much of a chap for the past," Clemenceau remarked to the correspondent, who inquired about the former premier's earlier visits to the United States. This is not his first trip to America, as he commonly supposed, but his third. "My intentions in going to America are good. I feel sure of that," the aged politician said, "I see with considerable clearness how it will be to the moral and material interests of the United States to examine European difficulties with other conceptions than those they have at present." Clemenceau expects to enlarge his own judgments of European situations by putting his ideas into contact with American views. He does not go to New York with his mind made up and closed to what would be to the mutual and collective advantage of the United States, France and Europe generally. "I shall talk about the League of Nations" (Continued on Page six.)

BATTLING SIKI LOSES HIS LUCK

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Batling" Siki, aspirant for the crown that sits upon Jack Dempsey's head, today was standing with reluctant feet where the champions and has-beens meet. Last night the French boxing federation snatched away his title of lightweight champion of France and suspended him from practicing his business in France for a period of nine months. Only a few hours before, the black conqueror of Georges Carpentier had stumbled into another block of hard luck.—The British home office forbidding his scheduled fight with Joe Beckett to take place on British soil. The action by English authorities was taken because Siki is a negro and Beckett is white, and it was deemed that "all sorts of questions would be aroused," if they met in the ring.

FIND ERROR IN CALIFORNIA DRY MEASURE WINS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Prohibition enforcement in California apparently has carried, as a majority of about 3900 in favor of the measure was revealed today by a recheck of the Alameda county vote which showed a large error in tabulation at the county clerk's office in Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The majority against prohibition enforcement in California was 21,374, according to figures from 5414 precincts in California out of 6681 compiled at 1 p. m. today, although these figures were disputed by the Alameda county campaign committee for enforcement which claimed that its recheck of the Alameda county vote today would show a state-wide majority for enforcement of 2905.

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 10.—The Alameda county campaign committee for prohibition enforcement claimed today that the measure had carried in California at Tuesday's election on the strength of a recheck of the Alameda county vote made by Rev. D. O. Colegrove, the county chairman who said that it reduced the county majority against enforcement 24,279 votes, thus wiping out a previous state wide unfavorable majority of 21,374.

Rev. Colegrove said his recheck on the complete county vote showed 42,840 votes for and 45,947 against, a negative majority of 2207. The unofficial election count made by county officials was: For 32,284; against 58,770. A margin of 26,486 against the measure. The county clerk rechecked with Rev. Colegrove, but declined to comment on the result.
