athletic director for the zone.
On November 4th the East Zone, were through rapid wire work, assem-bled at Eagle Point, instead of at Butte Falls, where all plans had been laid for their entertainment. The constant storms and the long distance made the nearer point seem advisable.

Dr. E. H. French of Medford, president of the Jackson County Humane society talked to the teachers on County Work and discussion followed as to ways of presenting required humane instruction in the schools. The value of a high school in a rural community was the subject alloted to Principal H. H. Lowe, of Butte Falls. A well patron-ized "question box" led to some thor-ough discussions and the afternoon sped away. Officers elected were Mrs. Josephine Riley Holmes, chairman, Mrs. Gertrude Stanley of Brownsboro school, secretary-treasurer; county fair committeeman, Miss Frances Greb; athletic director for zone, Mr. H. H. Lowe. A hearty vote of appreciwas extended Mrs. Holmes, who entertained the teachers and guests at the noon hour with a wonderful lunch-eon at her home.

Through arrangements recently con cluded, the Page theatre management, operating "A Greater Movie Season," will present a group of eight of the season's greatest cinematic successes during the ensuing weeks. These pro ductions are pictures that are proven successes, having been exhibited at advanced admission prices.

The first of this series is "The Pris oner of Zenda," which opens a four days engagement today. This is a Rex Ingram production of the famous novel by Anthony Hope. In magnitude, in aspiration he has achieved another distinctive triumph.

This is a story of the adventures of Rudolph Rassendyll, who for a brief but tremendously interesting time became the king of the mythical country of Ruritania. He wins the love of the Princess Flavia, after a series of com-plex plots and counter plots.

And the beautiful, charming princess loved the king and consented to become his bride. Her heart was broken and her romance shattered when she in Medford Tuesday afternoon enroute learned from his own lips that instead home to Salem from Ashland where he spoke at a chamber of commerce meet-spoke at a chamber of commerce meet-sented, he was merely a masquerader.

Despite the fact that her love for him remained constant, she could not marry him, as such a step would ne cessitate her departing from her own people. Is theintricate problem solved? Very charmingly and entertainingly.

Beautiful settings, gorgeous cost tumes and an exceptional cast contrib ute to the success of this splendid feature

In the cast are Lewis Stone, Robert Edeson, Alice Terry, Stuart Holmes Ramon Navarro, Barbara La Marr Malcolm McGregor, Edward Connelly and Lois Lec.

Alaska Story Filmed
"The Siren Call," a colorful story of Alaskan dance halls and the irresistible lure of the north, is the headline offering of the Rialto's new bill today. "The Siren Call" is truly one of the "The Siren Call" is truly one of the most delightful dramas of the Yukon yet picturized. Dorothy Dalton is dazzling in her characterization of a dance hall girl who is torn between two emotions—love for a real man who appreciates her, and duty to a whole in the control of the faithless, treacherous husband who is secretly conniving to desert her for another woman. David Powell is ideal as the leading man and Edward J. as the leading man and Edward J. Brady puts over some of his most effective villatiny as the husband. Mitchell Lewis is a valuable addi-tion to the cast in the role of an unscrupulous French trapper whose uppermost desire is to possess the dance hall girl, and whose work adds a highly melodramatic touch to the pic-

A clever baby plays an important part in the plot. It is the child picked up in the snow, and presented to her by a trapper, that causes a beautiful dance hall girl to renounce her old life. When the baby is stolen this only serves to strengthen her resolution, and in the end she wins.

A splendid news comedy called Blazes," and music by Alice Jay proride further entertainment.
