

WOMEN LEAVING AMERICAN FARMS FASTER THAN MEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Larger numbers of women than men are leaving the farms in search of more lucrative fields of endeavor, the census bureau says, basing its statement on an analysis of the 1920 census statistics.

OREGON ELEVEN ARRIVES SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—The University of Oregon football team arrived here this morning for the deciding game of the Northwest Conference race with the University of Washington team here tomorrow.

Light practice was the schedule for the visitors this afternoon. The Washington squad completed its workouts last night.

Coach Shy Huntington of the Oregonians said his men were in the best of condition with the exception of Brown, end; and Campbell, tackle.

"We hold the Washington team in great respect," he said, "and we are expecting a hard battle tomorrow."

Coach Enoch Bagshaw of the Huskies said the Washington players were "in the pink."

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT BALL TONIGHT

Everything is in readiness for the Red Cross ball at the Natatorium tonight.

A beautiful hall, splendid music, delicious refreshments, and a jolly good crowd—none of these will be lacking at the Nat tonight.

Everyone is planning to go because it means a good time for all those present, and also money to care for the destitute and suffering during the winter. Don't forget the time and the place, the large hall in the Nat tonight.

AID TO RADIO IN MEDFORD PLEDGED AT CRATER MEETING

A large number of Craters attended the meeting of the Crater's club last night at which the officers and directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce were guests and a novel and clever program was enjoyed.

A larger number of the clever little verses concerning different people present was sung than usual and Larry Mann, who did the singing, explained beforehand that he was not the author of the verses.

A list of accomplishments of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce was read by Jerry Jerome who represented "Pop" Gates on the board.

Arrangements for the appearance of Frank Branch Riley, famous author and lecturer to appear before the Medford Chamber of Commerce and the Craters club and to give his lecture on the northwest some time in the early part of December were referred to the project committee with Carl Tenwald and B. W. Paul as advisory members.

The board of directors finished the meeting by rising and singing the usual closing song, "We Are Satisfied With Oregon."

Included in the more serious business taken up by the meeting was the question of aiding the operators of the fair grounds radio station which it is deemed is of great advertising value to Medford.

The project committee with Carl Tenwald and B. W. Paul as advisory members.

The guests gave their appreciation of the good time enjoyed at the meeting and expressed their thanks for the invitation to attend.

Bill Vawter entertained with his brother Vern at the piano and his numbers were appreciated highly as usual. The numbers sung by Mr. Vawter were "Out Where the West Begins," and "Little Gray Home in the West."

A turkey dinner with a goodly amount of trimmings (and some candy on the side, due to the generosity of Bob Bohl) was served at 6:30 and was followed by the business and entertainment session.

The meeting adjourned at 5:30 to attend the Nat smoker.

WANT TO BE A VENUS? BOX, SWIM, DANCE AND DON'T WEAR CORSETS!

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 29.—"Box, and never wear corsets, if you want to have a shapely figure," is the advice of Miss Jeanne La Mar, champion woman bantam and featherweight boxer of the world, who attributes her health and physical fitness to the fact that she has never worn "stays" in her life.

"Boxing will keep a woman lithe and young and beautiful," says Miss La Mar, who is her own best argument.

The young woman has been matched to box Micky Moran here early in December. She recently was given the best of an exhibition argument with Ray McCall, of Lawrenceville, a McKeesport.

Miss La Mar is not in the boxing game to make money, she says, but to furnish an example to girls and show them how to be athletes.

Jeanne has been adopted by the Camp Fire Girls of Pittsburgh.

"She has done them a world of good," says Mrs. Harriman, the president.

"Box, if you like, but also be sure to swim, if you are eager to be a Venus," advises Miss Dorothy Knapp, winner of a recent physical culture show contest in New York, which proclaimed her something of a Venus herself.

Miss Knapp first popped into fame by winning a bathing beauty contest; she is firm in believing that symmetry is gained by swimming.

"Box and swim, yes; but also try to dance a little bit every day," says Miss Renie Butler, recently chosen the most beautiful telephone girl in New England.

Miss Butler says she believes dancing will even cure certain ills, particularly those which come from inaction, or leading a sedentary life.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery which he called Allenhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers.

He has, therefore, instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Adv. 2

RUSSIAN ASYLUM FULL OF CANNIBALS AS RESULT OF FAMINE TERRORS

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(By I. N. S.)—An insane asylum, the inmates of which are all convicted cannibals, is one of the after-famine sights seen by J. Bentley Mulford, of Washington, D. C., on a recent trip to Samara.

Mulford, who was an official of the American Relief administration, Medical department in Moscow, has sailed for home after five months' service in Russia.

"The results of the famine are still apparent everywhere," he said, "in the crowded orphan homes where we are now feeding, in the hospitals, full of patients suffering from intestinal and other troubles as a result of eating grass and clay, in the refugees—and in such sights as that insane asylum."

It reminded him, Mulford said, of nothing so much as the Zoo. The patients who are not violent now are allowed to roam at will in an enclosed yard near the house, and in their facial expression, aimless action and dishevelled appearance they are exactly like animals.

Their number was about twelve and they are all suffering from a disease diagnosed by Dr. Foucar, the A. R. A. medical supervisor at Samara, as cachexia.

All such institutions, as well as hospitals, are now stocked with six months' supply of medical necessities from the A. R. A. stores Mulford said, including everything from blankets to hypodermic needles and cod-liver oil, which the A. R. A. incurs by the ton.

During his stay, Mulford said, he noticed an enormous improvement in Moscow, but while on the surface the city was almost normal, the suffering was still acute in the homes, due partly to lack of food, but more still at present to lack of fuel and clothing.
