WOMEN ORGANIZE TO SUPPORT WORK H. DEMONSTRATION

In order that the work of the home demonstration agent might prove as effective in the future as it has in the past years, a group of representative women of the county met yesterday and formed themselves into an executive committee, pledging their services and time to the furtherance of the work of that office. It is hoped that in this way no break in the work will occur as the result of the resignation of Miss Pool and the assuming of that office by Miss Grayce Teich.

The committee plans to meet once each month at which time plans for the work will be discussed and a program made out.

Each woman on the committee will supervise a certain phase of the work as follows:

Miss Alice Hanley, Medford, chairman, canning teams and exhibits.

Mrs. W. J. Warner, Medford, secretary, publicity.

Mrs. J. N. McCracken, Talent, Valley View, nutrition.

Mrs. W. B. Smith, Central Point, clothing.

Remarkable Growth in 1922

Our Association has increased over $70,000 in assets the past year, by far the largest increase we have ever had and second largest in the State of Oregon.

Even the most conservative now recognize the fact our association affords as safe a place as there is in Medford to place their money and the most profitable of any.

Prospective borrowers or investors will be given courteous attention and Building and Loan carefully explained to them, by calling in our office.

Big Pictures for Page Theatre for New Year

The Page theatre management is starting the New Year right with big pictures of great entertainment value, the first one Harold Lloyd in "Grandma's Boy," opens Sunday for a four days engagement, others booked for the ensuing weeks are "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "Gilded Cage," with Gloria Swanson, Sherlock Holmes with John Barrymore; Thomas Meighan in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow"; Norma Talmadge in "The Eternal Flame"; Harold Lloyd in "Dr. Jack"; Constance Talmadge in "East Is West" and Guy Bates Post in "Omar The Tentmaker." These plays are all proven national successes and will no doubt be met locally with the same enthusiasm which Medford always shows over the bigger and better line of any worthwhile entertainment.
