

GERMANY MINISTER PUZZLED BY LACK OF AMERICAN AID

ESSEN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Approximately 5000 Essen citizens stormed last night the doors of the Kaiserhof, the city's leading hotel, demanding the expulsion of the French commission, which the crowd believed was lodging there. The management's assurances that not a Frenchman was in the house, were unsatisfactory, especially in view of the fact that a flower pot inopportunely fell from an upstairs window among the demonstrators. Scores of persons swarmed into the building, but Dr. Hans Luther, former burgomaster of Essen, and now minister of food in the Cuno cabinet, appeared in time to prevent more serious consequences.

Dr. Luther, when the disturbance began, had just begun to read an address to the foreign correspondents gathered at the Kaiserhof hotel, in which he cited instances of acute distress among the people, to refute the French charge that Germany is able, but unwilling to pay.

In the course of the interview, Dr. Luther mentioned that he had just come from the largest mass meeting ever held in Essen at which citizens of all political creeds, with the exception of the communists, had protested against the French occupation.

He read a copy of a resolution adopted at this meeting. It was addressed to the German ambassadors to Great Britain, and to the United States and called attention to the alleged illegality of the French invasion.

The resolution asked America and Great Britain to come to the moral support of Germany. It further asserted that the French policy spelled perpetuation of hatred between the French and German peoples and constituted a most serious danger to world peace. Dr. Luther was noticeably disappointed when informed the American government was withdrawing its troops from the Rhine. "That is the worst possible news we could receive," he said. "Why in the world doesn't America support us in this?"

HARDING HOPEFUL CONGRESS TO ACT TO AID FARMERS

FREDERICK, Mo., Jan. 11.—President Harding "is earnestly hoping for very useful legislative accomplishments" at the present session of congress in the direction of ameliorating the economic situation of the agricultural industry," he said in a letter read here this afternoon at the eighth annual convention of the Maryland Agricultural society and affiliated organizations.

Those who read his recent address to congress, Mr. Harding was sure, he said, "appreciate the keenness of his interest in behalf of the agricultural industry."

The president feels strongly, he wrote, that the disposition of congress is equally favorable and that it is possible to look forward with a good deal of confidence to some very important achievements.

President Harding's letter, which was addressed to Colonel D. John Markey, president of the chamber of commerce follows:

"Dear Mr. Markey:
"I have received your most cordial invitation to the gathering of farmers which is to be held at Frederick on January 11. I regret exceedingly that the pressure of public duties, together with the insistence of personal cares, render an absence from Washington at that time impossible, and therefore that I can not have the pleasure of accepting your invitation. I would be glad to have you convey my compliments to the gathering, and to indicate to those who will be present that I am earnestly hoping for very useful legislative accomplishments at the present session of congress in the direction of ameliorating the economic situation of the agricultural industry. Those who have taken note of my address to the congress on December 8 will, I am sure, appreciate the keenness of my interest in their behalf. I feel strongly that the disposition of congress is equally favorable and that it is possible to look forward with a good deal of confidence to some very important achievements."
"WARREN G. HARDING."

PROBE RAILROADS BOX CAR BUILDING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Notice was served on railroads of the country today by the interstate commerce commission that it intended to proceed immediately to an investigation of their expenditures during recent months on maintenance of equipment and the methods they have followed in providing freight car service for shippers.

Though the commission's order instituting the investigation said no formal complaint had been made as to railroad expenditures on maintenance, informal petitions asking for an inquiry have been filed recently by the international order of machinists and other organizations involved in the shop crafts strike which began last July.

The Stage

"Father On His Vacation," the new comedy with music, based on the ever-popular comics by George McManus, will be the attraction at Page Theatre Monday night, January 15th. All the famous characters, including the beloved Jiggs, Maggie, his termagant wife; Dinty and the rest of the Mahoney clan will be seen in the flesh. Innovations and other features not to be found in the common run of offerings, a number of unsurpassing novelties and original ingredients will be provided.

SCREEN

Rialto Presents "Boston Blackie." One of the most popular magazine characters, Boston Blackie Dawson, is the hero of "The Face in the Fog," which comes to the Rialto Theater today. Blackie was created by Jack Boyle, former San Francisco newspaper man, and on the screen is played by Lionel Barrymore. Boston Blackie is a reformed crook, who becomes innocently involved in a plot woven around the famous Romanoff diamonds. The supporting cast in the picture includes Senna Owen, Lowell Sherman, Louis Wolheim, Mary McLaren and Gustav Von Seyffertitz.
