

MISS FALLDINE, CO. HEALTH NURSE, RESIGNS POSITION

Everyone interested in public welfare work in Jackson county will learn with regret that Miss Falldine, county health nurse, has resigned her position here and will leave Friday for Alaska where she will take a very important and responsible position with the American Red Cross.

Miss Falldine has been health nurse for Jackson county the past two and one-half years and in the opinion of Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, state secretary, has attained the best organization for public health work in the entire state. Energetic, capable, combining a deep human sympathy with sound practical sense, she has probably done more to improve health conditions in Southern Oregon, and assist unfortunate individuals to help themselves than any other person who has ever come to this district.

'CHECK' SEAL ADS IN MAIL TRIBUNE

In October, 1921, after several months of careful study, the Pacific States Electric company started what is known as the "Check" Seal Program for good workmanship, standard materials and fair prices in Los Angeles. In the early part of 1922, this Los Angeles effort was expanded to cover the entire state of California as well as Oregon and Washington.

The original purpose of this program was to educate the public to understand and appreciate that there is a difference between the qualified electrical contractor and the service he renders and the job that is let on price alone. This effort has been a success and the influence is being felt throughout these three states. Contractors, dealers and the general public have responded and the "Check" Seal Program which will mean much to the electrical industry of the entire country.

The Pacific States Electrical company is launching an advertising campaign in the interest of the "Check" Seal Program which will include a series of ads in twenty-five leading papers of four coast states. The five newspapers in Oregon selected to carry this campaign are The Medford Mail Tribune, Portland Journal, Portland Oregonian, Eugene Guard and the Salem Capitol-Journal.

The first of the series of Pacific States Electric Co. ads appears in today's paper. The copy is carefully prepared, interesting and instructive, and well worth reading.

GOLD HILL, Jan. 16.—(Special)—John B. Hammersly, Gold Hill's ex-postmaster, mayor, recorder, marshal and editor of the Gold Hill News, like the bad penny has returned to his old tramping ground after an absence of two years. Hammersly won great distinction and became famous after his return from military service in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war, as government hunter killing and trapping mountain lions and wolves with a pack of trained dogs. Hammersly was the government hunter reported to have been killed and devoured by the timber wolves in Upper Evans creek a few years ago. He later appeared in a distant frontier settlement unharmed. ### ORE. CLUBWOMEN ALREADY PREPARING FOR MEDFORD MEET

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17.—Club women of Oregon are anticipating the state convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Medford in May. The women of southern Oregon are planning to entertain hospitably and appointments as delegates will be sought eagerly by scores of women who hope to attend this big state meeting.

Club politics may have a place on the schedule and lively interest is being shown in the election of officers. Mrs. Saidie Orr-Dunbar, secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis society has been endorsed for the presidency, by the Grade Teachers' association, the Progressive Woman's League, the Tuesday club, the Women of Rotary and some other organizations. She is a business woman, systematic, capable and all that can be desired, say her proponents.

The Federation hotel board of New York City Federation of Women's clubs, has opened a drive to raise $200,000 for a hotel for working women. Mrs. Richard M. Chapman is chairman.

Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs of which Mrs. H. G. Reynolds is president, publishes a well edited "Club Woman," the official magazine of Kentucky. Mrs. Reynolds sends greetings to Oregon clubs. In the southwestern states a movement is underway to standardize state constitutions.

All clubs of the state federation are being reminded that a day in January always is set apart for scholarship loan fund as a topic of discussion and an inspiration for a silver offering, entertainment for the fund benefit or a flat sum donation. Scores of young women who have been helped by this fund have attested to its worth. Miss Jessie McGregor of Portland is chairman of the board of trustees of the fund. Mrs. F. Eggert of Portland served for years capably, in this capacity, and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans succeeded Mrs. Eggert and was an excellent chairman. Miss McGregor is a young woman, former president of the Grade Teachers and is devotedly interested in the work she has undertaken.

COFFEE SHORTAGE IS NOT SERIOUS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Considerable attention is being given at the present time to coffee on account of rumors that have been circulated which would lead the public to believe that if they did not lay in a large supply, they would soon be without this necessary article of diet, or they would have to pay exorbitant prices to get it.

From most reliable and conservative sources it is learned that most of this "bullish" talk comes from sources that are selfishly interested in seeing a heavy speculative buying movement started in coffee. While it is a fact that a temporary shortage of green coffee exists in the United States, there is no serious shortage of coffee in producing countries. If everyone will continue to supply themselves with coffee in a normal way, the law of supply and demand will ultimately relieve the slightly aggravated condition that now exists.

Roasters may be obliged for a time to get more money for their products on account of being forced to pay higher prices for their supplies, but the advances will be less and slower to come if speculation on the part of retailers and consumers is not indulged in.

KLAMATH COURT HOUSE WRANGLE BRINGS A RECALL

KLAMATH FALLS, Jan. 17.—A new chapter was begun in the historic courthouse controversy here Monday, when proceedings were instituted for the recall of County Judge R. H. Bunnell and Commissioner Barrell W. Short, charged in petitions mailed out to all parts of the county with having "carried on useless and expensive litigation in their attempt to complete and occupy a courthouse on block 10."

The recall is being instituted by S. E. Icebice, a prominent rancher residing near here. Further charges are that the courthouse on block 35 has been completed and ready for occupancy for four years that instead of moving into this building the commissioners involved the county in further litigation, that Bunnell and Short have not been acting for the best interests of the county, that the plan adopted by the county court has for years made Klamath county a joke, has demoralized business and has handicapped every constructive measure proposed for its betterment.

Rumors of a recall were rife following the appeal by the county of the recent decision of Judge Skpwith designating the Main street courthouse on block 35 as the official structure. Charles Martin, the third member of the court, was not included in the recall, since he was recently elected on an opposing platform by a large majority over A. A. Fortyce.
