Judge J. W. Hamilton in circuit court in Roseburg on Wednesday granted an order dismissing the case of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association against Ernest Riddle, prune grower of Douglas county and gave Riddle judgment for costs. A demurrer decision recently was given by Judge Hamilton in favor of Riddle, who was sued by the Oregon Growers in an effort to force him to sell his prune crop through the association. The association will probably make an appeal to the supreme court. The case has aroused interest of fruit growers and cooperative associations.

Rooters at the basketball game tonight are requested by school officials and fans to refrain from unsportsmanlike hooting and sarcastic personal remarks about players such as were heard at last night's contest. True, there was little disagreeable individual hooting done by any one except the urchins who crowd their anatomies along the side lines, but a few high school students, not in the rosters section and a few of the indiscreet young men about town were heard making sarcastic remarks. School officials said today that the "small town stuff" must be stopped.
