ASHLAND LIBRARY HAS OVER 10,000

ASHLAND, Feb. 7.—Adults dote on fiction, even to a greater exten-tion children, this literary inclina-tion being established locally by the City Library in its report for 1922, fiction constituting 64 per cent of the total circulation, of which percentage adult requisitions were nearly two to one as compared with those made by children. There are over 10,000 volumes in the library at present, newspapers and periodicals being received to the extent of nearly one hundred. The total circulation during the year approximated 44,000 volumes. Average circulation daily was 150, the maximum being 378, and the minimum 50. For 306 days in the year the library was open, on the basis of 69 hours per week. It the little stomach is upset, tongue coated, or if your child is cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today suves a sick child to morrow. "The transportation of oil through pipe lines makes them independent of rallways and they have refining plants in all of the great consuming areas served by the pipe lines."

Mr. Lawrence testified that the general freight rate increase of 1926 as applied to oil, had the effect of making it impossible for refiners in the mid-continent field to compete with the Standard companies able to County Road take advantage of pipe line transportation.

said that the freight rate on fuel oil from the Oklahoma field to Cleveland amounted to 152 per cent of the value of the product, on kerosene from Okla-homa to Cleveland 105 per cent of the value, and on crude oil the freight rate was 171 per cent of the commodity's value from Oklahoma to Indianapolis, Columbus, Ohio, and Pittsburg.

Complaint that pipe line companies allied with the Standard group had reallied with the Standard group had refused to supply their refineries with crude oil was made by three independent refiners, J. P. Miller, president of the Miller Petroleum company pendent refiners, J. P. Miller, president of the Miller Petroleum company of Kansas City, Mo.; Stephen Swartz, manager of the Indiana Oil Refining company of Columbus, Ind., and Barry Stell, vice president of the Stell Oil Refining company of Louisville. Pipe lines are common carriers.
