Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry

The banquet season is over, and there will be nothing to eat about for another year.

Things are looking bright for the Democratic party in 1924, and all this political organization needs is a bul-lish, bunkish phrase to make the women voters boo-hoo, and the men voters snifle.

OREGON TO OUTSTRIP ENTIRE WEST—(Hollins Bandon Times). Fine weather for it.

JUST THE THING!

(Evanston, Ill., News)
The bungalow is of an entirely new type. A bed closet hides a new and comfortable wall bed for use when guests are to be accommodated, large enough for four people, and is used for all but formal meals which are taken in the living room.

(Run down by Lois J.)

Autoists travelling Main Stem, selves, and utter Holy Mackerel! He patient. The holes will repair themselves if Gov. Pierce is given full charge.

Now that the Ceepee has to live with the Espee, and can't be divorced, the latter ought to come across with a tootsau, for the second honeymoon.

Gold Hill, Feb. 12.

Dear Sir:
The Gold Hill bank is closed today, and has a sign, "Closed On Account of Geo. Washington's Birthday," with a picture of the famous George.

Yours,
B. C. A.

IN MEMORIAM

Shep, a good dog, is dead. What then?
How many dogs have died, and many;
How many worlds, how many suns;
For so the indifferent pageant runs.
But I who miss him, may not I Remember him, and wonder why—
As men have wondered since men were—

Why men and dogs of character, Brave, gentle men, brave dogs and kind,
With cowards and curs oblivion find;
Come to one end with knives, one room.
And mix with muckers in the tomb:
Ashes to ashes, dust to dust;
Love that was loyal one with lust;
Strength that was selfless one with greed;

The briar rose and the stinking weed.
Hah!—the old riddles rust my pen!
Shep, a good dog, is dead. What then?

THE BACK NUMBER.

I MARVEL much at Beeswax Jones; the thought of autos makes him sour; he drives a pair of swaybacked roans, and goes about three miles an hour. He sees his neighbors whiz along in chugging vans that split the breeze, and Beeswax prods his team along, his whiskers falling to his knees. "These cars," he says, "are evil suares, they cost so much they do not pay; my father drove two swaybacked mares; I follow where he led the way." Old Beeswax Jones is always late, he misses everything worth while; he drives his crowbats to the gate when other men have scooped the pile. He drives along the road all day to see the circus and the clown, but all the tents are hauled away when he comes yawning into town. Time has no value in his eyes, and he has all the time there is; and men who do the moments prize in busy busses past him whiz. He sees them pass, with futile jeers, and says, "Such haste is all in vain; my grandsire drove two brindled steers, and he was strictly safe and sane." Our fathers' deeds were doubtless wise, when life was calm and deadly slow, but they are dead, and modern guys who wish to win must up and go.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's relief from the terrors of constipation!

Never make light of constipation—or any one of its symptoms—there is no telling what disease you may be heading into! The one thing to do—IMMEDIATELY—is to fight constipation to the last ditch! Not with pills or cathartics; they cannot give you lasting relief! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-bulk to do the work!
What you need, what will give you permanent relief is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's is scientifically prepared to relieve constipation. It will relieve the chronic case or the mild case. You need it, your family needs it!

But, you must eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—each day! At least two tablespoonfuls in chronic cases this amount with each meal! And, eating Kellogg's Bran is a delight rather than a hardship. It has a delicious, appealing nut-like flavor that wins the most fastidious appetite.

Every day when you eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on your favorite hot or cold cereal or cooked or mixed with hot cereals, think of the health every spoonful contains for you! Think how Kellogg's Bran is sweeping and cleansing the alimentary tract; how it is driving out the toxic poisons and freeing your system from dangers of dread diseases! Your physician will recommend it.

Kellogg's Bran is extra-delicious made into countless bakery batches.
Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran; it is also obtainable at first-class hotels and clubs in individual packages. Ask for it at your next shopping.

"I've Got My Fingers Crossed"

D'you recollect that good old game of tag we used to play?
We'd chase and tag each other 'round the barn the livelong day.
And try to make some fellow "IT" and steal the base he'd lost.
When he'd yell, "Hey! You can't get me. I've got my fingers crossed."

We've all grown up to manhood, but we're still playin' tag;
Bill's got a great big dry-goods store
—you'd get to hear him brag:
A big yard in the winder says he's sellin' out at cost.
But when you pin him down you'll find he's got his fingers crossed.

John's just an honest farmer, politicians tell him so.
He takes great pride in raisin' spuds
—his hobby, don't you know;
But seems the biggest, smoothest ones
up to the top get tossed.
And when you dig down deep you'll find John's got his fingers crossed.

My Sary married Bill's young bill a week ago today.
She took the solemn pledges in a muck and modest way.
While bill he got all mixed up, bewildered like and lost,
He rung the wrong finger—Sary had her fingers crossed.

And Walter, he's the sly old boy and lightin' on the run;
You never know which way he'll dodge until the game is done.
He sneaked up on the school fund
and grabbed a pile of dough,
And the way he heaped up taxes on us fellers wasn't slow.

Now he's went and wedged himself tight in the governor's chair;
He stole all sorts o' bases, but he finally landed there.

He ripped and raved and speechified
and peddled red hot air,
He chased and tagged the Ku Klux Klan, and Ashland's millionaire;

He vowed he'd cut our taxes down
and retrench everywhere,
And lift our droopin' spirits from the slough of black despair;

He swore the bunch at Salem town
was grabbin' all the pelf, He'd chase 'em all out, hide and tall,
and run the show hisself;

He'd raise the toilers' wages and whittle down their rent; He'd build all sorts o' highways and they wouldn't cost a cent;

He'd slay the Japs and Chinamen and capture all the booze,
And stretch the women's dresses from their chins down to their shoes;

He'd purify the movies and make the farmer rich;
He'd curb the legislatur' and press
and all of sich;

And now he's smilin' in the chair—
for Jesse paid the cost,
And yells, "Boys, it's the same old game—I had my fingers crossed."

The above was written and recited by Dick Posey "the poet of the Rogue," at the annual Lincoln banquet last night.

A SET BACK

"I'd hate to be Annabel Lee."
Thought Pierrot, heaving a sigh,
When Anna sat on a banana,
And mashed it as flat as a pie.

The jar the banana gave Anna,
Made stars blossom out in her
skp;
So he picked up poor Annabel Lee
While others let Annabel lie.

For Anna—built like a piano—
Weights several ounces you know,
But I'd rather be Annabel Lee,
Than be the banana below.
