SUGAR ADVANCES ON CUBAN CROP

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Exciting trading and violent advances took place in the sugar market today. Futures jumped at the opening in some cases as much as one hundred points, the maximum fluctuations permitted by the exchange in one day's trading.

May sold at $5.61; July at $5.83, and September at $5.91, all representing 100 points advances from the close of Saturday.

This unusual jump was influenced largely by the Mejer-Guma estimate placing the Cuban crop at only 2,800,000 tons, or almost 400,000 tons below the previous estimate in December. This estimate was in line with recent statistics published by the department of commerce, which made the estimated needs for the present year 725,000 tons above production.

The spot market also jumped violently, operators bidding 5 1/4 for Cuba, cost and freight, without success. The refined market also was much confused and prices were more or less nominal.
