Attention is called to the fact that the regular Y. M. C. A. league games are to be played Tuesday of this week, owing to the big Rogue River-Medford high game here tonight.

Patrons of the game should make note of the change in order not to be disappointed. The regular Monday night schedule will be observed hereafter.

One round of games has been played and we are consequently starting on the last half of the indoor Y. M. C. A. schedule with Tuesday night's games. These will be between the North M. E. and Christians (first game) and the Presbyterians and Baptists (second game). According to the dope the Christians will have a fair opportunity to tie the north M. E. for second place in the coming game, while the Presbyterian youngsters might take one from the Baptists if they are able to set the same pace which they showed the last game. The South M. E. will rest Tuesday night.

It is probable that the Central Point team will be included in the league for the remainder of the season. In order not to disarrange the schedule as now set up, an attempt will be made to have all Central Point games on Thursday nights, the team whose practice night it chances to be playing the C. P. team in place of having open practice. Announcement of this will be made later.

Practice nights this week are: Feb. 26—Monday night, Christians. Feb. 27—Tuesday night, regular games.

Feb. 27—Wednesday night, South M. E. March 1—Thursday night, Presbyterians. March 2—Friday night, Baptists. March 3—Saturday night, North M. E.

BEST SHOW EVER PROMISED TONIGHT ELKS MINSTRELS

Tonight fifty real live Elks will perform at the Page theater. They're not the four legged elk that roam the hills 'cause this is not an animal show. It is the biggest and best minstrel entertainment lodge 1168, B. P. O. E. has ever staged and that means a lot. For five years Elks' minstrels have been applauded by Medford people as well as those from Grants Pass to Yreka and east to Klamath Falls. This season the stunts are better, the songs newer, the music more enjoyable and the jokes appeal to everyone.

A little advance inside dope gives a sidelight on tonight's show. The overture will be impressive and entertaining. It's aided and abetted by Larry Mann, Jerry Jerome, Vern Vawter and Paul McDonald. Act two consists of five big stunts. Act three introduces Bob Boyl and a storm of laughter is guaranteed. Saxaphobia is the title of the fifth act and Reg Fifer, Herb Alfard, George Cormany and Bill Vawter will perform.

After a short intermission to give the audience a chance to catch their breath, the latest musical pill, "It's Cose That I Call," will be digested by Larry Mann, Vernon Vawter, Jerry Jerome and Paul McDonald. "Sugar Cane Land," a new popular song, will be presented for the first time to Medford people by the entire company. Little Miss Barbara Mayhew, who took the audience by storm last year, will be featured in a dance "Three o'clock in the Morning." Barbara will without doubt be one of the biggest drawing cards in this evening's show. The next six harmony knockouts will come in rapid order. "Sophie," by Jerry Jerome; "Cow Bells" by Vern Vawter, "Eleanora" by Fletcher Flash, "Hot Lips" by Herb Alfard and Don Newbury, "Saloon" by Paul McDonald and "Invincible" by Bill Vawter. These six are all guaranteed gloom chasers and seven mighty good men will present them.

A genuine surprise is promised when Larry Mann sings "Toot, Toot, Tootsie," and this little surprise, together with the finale will complete the best Elks' show ever. There is every indication of capacity houses both tonight and tomorrow night.
