Medford people arose this morning to find that the stretch of fine weather for the past two weeks was at an end with a half inch of snow on the ground that had fallen during the night, and with it still snowing. The fine snow melted fast and at times turning the day turning to mist. The precipitation at 8 a. m. today for the past 24 hours ending at that time was .99 of an inch. Rain is the prediction for Tuesday.

The Elks lodge minstrels arrived home early this morning from their barnstorming trip to Klamath Falls and Weed. Last Friday and Saturday nights they had large and appreciative audiences in Klamath Falls, and the next afternoon at Weed played to only 25 people, due to the fact that a Sacramento newspaper, which has a large circulation there had stated that the show was "rotten" and that the weather was exceptionally nice—too fine really for most people to be indoors. However the minstrels gave their good performance to this small audience with the result that at the night performance they had a capacity house.

The Elks minstrel show made a big hit at Klamath Falls according to the Klamath Falls Herald, which says in part: "The Medford Elks Minstrel show made a hit with the first night crowd at the Pine Tree theatre last night. The vacant seats were few and scattered, and the audience was given two hours of varied entertainment that, judging from encores and applause, struck the popular fancy right in the midriff. In spots the show went way above the best amateur standard and climbed to the top rungs of professionalism. It carries an excellent saxophone quartet; a fine vocal quartet and a real orchestra. The latter dozen-piece aggregation does a lot of the lifting of the performance above usual home talent standards."
