

DIVINE HEALING TO BE SUBJECT OF EVENING SERVICE

Rev. F. R. Leach will, at the evening service Sunday evening at the First Baptist church, give a report of the recent conference held in Portland of all the Baptist ministers of Oregon, called to consider the entire subject of Divine Healing from a scriptural point of view.

Two days were given to the discussions. Great interest was manifested and good done. Special interest was manifested as to the position Dr. W. B. Hinson of Portland would take on the subject. Dr. Hinson visited Albany and made a special study of the movement. He is considered the leading Bible student and preacher in the denomination on the coast and stands high in all denominations. Dr. Hinson gave the final address of the conference at which time he made known his position. Rev. Mr. Leach will report fully Dr. Hinson's address and also give an outline of the position of the various ones who spoke. The local interest in this movement will make this meeting one of special importance and will not doubt be attended by many. There will be some good music for this service, including two numbers by the Baptist instrumental trio.

All members and friends of the church are urged to attend. There will be special music at both services and the orchestra, with Mr. Millard, leader, will play as usual in the evening.

SUBMIT WILL TO CHRIST OR LIFE IS A GOD VACUUM

From the text, "Wm. Thou Be Made Whole," Evangelist Wm. H. Huff preached one of his greatest sermons last night. "This," he said, "is the question of life's Master. No one but life's Master could ask broken humanity this question and calmly await the answer. And upon the answer that humanity gives to Christ depends its salvation. You will notice that the Master said 'Wilt thou.' This poor man had nothing left but his will, but Christ required him to exercise what he did have. Jesus will never bestow His blessing on top of an unsundered will, nor will He load His grace on top of a great big stack of self-importance. Until you submit your will to Christ, your life will be a God-vacuum."

It was a practical appeal that brought a response in a number of seekers. A large audience heard the sermon. There were thirty-five from Grants Pass, some from Ashland and other points in the valley. Flashes of wit characterized the sermon, and tempered its seriousness throughout. The audience laughed aloud when the evangelist said, "People have trouble believing that the whale swallowed Jonah; a shrimp could take some folk down."
The revival will continue through next week. Audiences that packed and overflowed the auditorium heard the evangelist last Sunday, and it is expected that some will not be able to get in tomorrow.

STANFORD CLUB OF SO. OREGON
IS ORGANIZED

After hearing sundry hymns of hate against the Golden Bear, the Stanford alumni in this vicinity organized themselves into the Stanford Club of Southern Oregon at a dinner at the Hotel Medford last night. Neil Allen of Grants Pass was elected president, Mrs. P. O. Crawford of Medford vice president, and C. E. Bice of Medford secretary-treasurer.

The occasion was the celebration of Founders' Day, a Stanford holiday. A radio program from the Stanford broadcasting station consisting of speeches by members of the faculty of the university was picked up on a receiving set installed by Donald Ryan.

The first act of the club after its organization was the endorsement of the membership campaign of the Medford chamber of commerce. C. E. Bice made a stirring speech on the merits of the drive which received hearty applause from the assembled company.

Neil Allen, a prominent attorney of Grants Pass, enlarged on the civic necessity of chambers of commerce and said that the people of his city were watching with interest and approval the campaign of the local chamber.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR BENEFIT BALL AT NAT. MAR. 14

Plans for the benefit dance given at the Oriental Ballroom at the Nat on next Wednesday, March 14 for Merritt Charley are about completed.

Launspach's orchestra has generously offered their services free, and its reputation for excellent music is well known.
Merrick Bros. have donated the use of the hall, and the Legion has given over their regular dance evening for the good cause, which assures everyone who attends plenty of room and a good time.

A large number of merchants, including the hardware stores, have expressed a desire to help and will contribute various articles that will add much comfort to these worthy pioneers of Jackson county.

Merritt Charley came to Oregon in 1876, settled on a homestead in the Antelope district of Jackson county. He married Ada Hurst, daughter of Martin Hurst who came to Rogue River valley by way of Cape Horn in the year 1849. Mr. Charley has done some farming but mostly stationary engineering.

For the benefit of the readers who are not familiar with the case, Mr. and Mrs. Charley are very worthy people and have lost their worldly possessions through sickness. He has been in the Portland and Medford hospitals for nearly two years and the proceeds of this dance will be used to build a house on his vacant lot in southwest Medford. The W. O. W. of which Mr. Charley is a member, will furnish free labor to build the house.

A dance, to be given by the Fun tan orchestra, at the American Legion hall this evening will be attended by a large number of high school students.

Roger M. Cummings, sales promoter for the South Bend Bait company of South Bend, Ind., is in Medford trying out his baits on the wily steelhead of the Rogue. He spent this afternoon fishing on the river. If he catches steelhead at this time of year local sportsmen will be forced to admit that the unusual baits, not commonly used here, but used with great success in other parts of the country are worthy of attention. South Bend baits have caught the record trout for the past two years, "Jim" Allen of this city having been the fisherman to win with South Bend bait the Field and Stream contest last year with a record rainbow trout from Pelican Bay.

Ashland girls are claiming the basketball championship of Oregon. Medford is making the same claims, according to word received here. The Weed girls defeated the Medford girls in two games this year. A game is being arranged for between the Ashland girls and the Weed girls to be played on the Yreka floor on the 16th of March. This game promises to be a very live one, being between the champions of southern Oregon and the champions of Siskiyou county in girls' basketball.—Yreka Journal.

FREE MEMBERSHIP IN C. OF COMMERCE FOR BEST SLOGAN

A membership in the Chamber of Commerce is offered as a prize for the best slogan suggested for the use of the chamber in its publicity.

There are only two rules in the competition: Every contestant must be a man, woman or child of Jackson county; and all contributions must be in the hands of the slogan committee of the membership campaign organization of the Chamber of Commerce by a week from today.

"It seems to me that Medford's message to the world can be summed up effectively in one short phrase or sentence," said Harry L. Walther, vice president of the chamber. "A contest of this kind was held in the membership campaign three years ago, but it was a failure. We think that this year some one under the spur of a $25 membership in the chamber will be able to suggest a pithy phrase with a punch that can be used on letterheads and publicity literature which the chamber sends out. While no limit to length has been set, it is of course advisable to have the slogan as short as possible."

The campaign committee suggests that high school teachers bring the matter before their classes.

Gibson "Ridin' Wild", Rialto "Ridin' Wild!"

It is a fancy-catching title, and Edward (Hoot) Gibson will do the riding for which he is famous across the screen of the Rialto theatre three days beginning tomorrow matinee.

The world's champion cowboy with the smiling personality is coming in a story of the west which is not a "typical western story." Sans and guns and the cactus, it is said that the story might be laid in any small town in the middle west or the effete east.

Edna Murphy, Wade Boteler, William Welsh, Gertrude Claire, Wilton Taylor, Otto Hoffman, Burton Wilson and Jack Walters have principal roles in support of Gibson.

The story concerns a coward, a young fellow whose mother adores him too much and by her insistence on doing things for him and keeping him out of rough contacts with the world makes a "sissy" of him.

Last Time Tonight
"All the Brothers Were Valiant" closes at the Rialto theatre tonight. The cast has pretty Billie Dove, Malcolm MacGregor, Lon Chaney, Robert McKim and William Mong.

Primitive Love, Page
Constance Talmadge, Sidney Frankland Frances Marion and Edgar Selwyn have concocted a perfect prescription for excellent entertainment in "The Primitive Lover," the first National attraction at the Page theatre beginning tomorrow at 12:30. It is just about the cleanest, finest fun that has been projected on a Medford screen in months and a sure cure for the blues.

"The Primitive Lover" is unusual entertainment. It will be a shame for anyone who appreciates well played farce to miss it.

"Dangerous Age" Closes Tonight
"The Dangerous Age," which has made something of a sensation at the Page theatre, where it closes a four days engagement tonight. It is from an original story and an excellent one, lending itself admirably to picture technique.

C. OF COMMERCE WILL HOLD NIGHT MEETING MONTHLY

Hereafter the Chamber of Commerce will hold one monthly meeting at night in addition to the regular forum luncheons every week. The plan has been suggested by several members of the chamber and approved by the board of directors.

It was felt that the formality of the forum luncheons was in some respects a detriment to the free discussion of the affairs of the chambers. The evening meetings will be informal, and members will be free to discuss any subject which they bring up. The only food that will be evident will be food for thought. A larger membership for the chamber will mean that discussions will be more varied and have a broader scope.

The place of these meetings has not been decided on, but the first one will be announced shortly after the end of the membership campaign.
