

EX-CHIEF POLICE TIMOTHY NAMED PARK CUSTODIAN

Mayor E. C. Gaddis was in an appointive mood at last night's city council meeting and hence a number of appointments, which have been hanging fire since he took office were made and the slate was cleared of appointments, excepting the personnel of the city boxing commission. The council approved all the selections.

Former Chief of Police George O. Timothy comes back into public service again, this time as custodian of the city and library parks, on April 1st, to succeed J. S. Antle, resigned. Chas. Davis was reappointed city superintendent, which includes being the head of the water, streets, electric light, purchasing and city engineering departments.

M. T. Burch, a left over member of the old fire department, was appointed as assistant fire chief, and E. J. Hunsford was reappointed as market master.

The three vacancies on the city planning commission caused by the resignations of Messieurs W. E. Crews and Delbert Fehl, and the fact that John H. Carkin, appointive member of the commission becomes automatically a member of that body when he assumes the duties of city attorney April 1st, were filled by the appointment of Mrs. J. B. Andrews and Ed Janney and B. W. Paul. The other members of the commission are as follows: O. C. Boggs, Elmer Wilson, Mrs. Bert Anderson and Mrs. A. J. Hanby.

—Make It Unanimous— Interest Paid Every Quarter By Society

Quarterly interest at 4 1/4 per cent will hereafter be allowed depositors with the San Francisco Savings & Loan society. There are many in this community. Heretofore, interest at this bank, as with other coast savings institutions, has been paid semi-annually. According to the announcement, interest will be credited from April 1.

Although a number of New York savings institutions inaugurated the quarterly interest payment last fall, the San Francisco Savings & Loan society is the first bank to do so on the coast. The history of this institution has been one of steady growth since its doors were first open for business February 10, 1868. It is a matter of pride to its directors that at no time in its history have its assets, which now exceed $4,000,000, been increased through merger or consolidation.

CITY PURCHASES 80 ACRES OF LAND NEAR WATER LINE

A heavy mass of business, routine and otherwise, was transacted by the city council last night, including action towards getting the city planning commission to go, decision to purchase 80 acres of U. S. government land as a protection to the city's water supply, approval of a number of appointments by Mayor Gaddis, and the passing of a teamsters, or hauling for hire ordinance.

O. C. Boggs, chairman, and John H. Carkin, member of the city planning commission, appeared before the municipal body and declaring that the commission is about ready with its zoning ordinance, which by state law must be submitted at a public meeting of the council and commission before being passed by the former body, and asked the council to set a date for such hearing. This date was set for Monday, April 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the city council chamber.

Mr. Carkin gave a rough outline of the proposed zoning ordinance which is modeled on the Alameda, Calif., ordinance, which is said to be the best legislation of that character for a small Pacific coast city.

The resignation of Mrs. Delbert Fehl from the city planning commission because of inability to give the time to serving, was read, and Mayor Gaddis thereupon appointed Mrs. Jay Andrews as her successor. The two other vacancies on the commission were filled by the appointment of Ed Janney and B. W. Paul, councilman, to succeed Mrs. W. E. Crews, who resigned sometime ago, and John H. Carkin, originally appointed as a member, but who on becoming city attorney April 1st, automatically becomes a member, as the state law and ordinance establishing the commission stipulates that the mayor, city attorney and city engineer are members.

The ordinance passed to purchase 80 acres of government land to protect the water supply, is in accordance with an act gotten through congress some months ago by the old council providing for such action. Forty acres of this land is beyond Brownboro, where the city will build a dwelling for the middle caretaker of the city pipe line running from the intake to the reservoir. The other forty acres adjoins the intake territory. According to the congressional provision authorizing such a purchase by the city of Medford the land will be purchased at $2.50 an acre.

The teamsters, or hauling for hire ordinance, provides the following fees: for one horse outfit, $6.50 per year, and $4 for the first six months and $4 for the second six months where only a half year's license is taken out; two horse team, $12 per year, $7.50 for first six months and $7.50 for the second six months.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Phetteplace of Ashland were visitors in this city Monday night.

Ann Shannon Monroe, who is in Medford, the guest of Miss Alice Hanley, has agreed to be present tonight at the Washington School Parent-Teachers meeting and will give an interesting talk on "Our Writers." This is Daddy's Night at the Washington school, which with the unusual program including Ed Andrews, is expected to draw an unusually large attendance.

The following item from the Eugene Guard will be of interest in the city and valley: "A fine, gold cased watch was stolen from Evangelist Charles Price at the armory on Saturday. While he was gone from his desk for a few minutes, a youth picked it up and walked away, according to two high school girls who saw the theft committed. The timepiece was a valuable one, and was especially prized by the evangelist because it was presented to him by a church congregation at the close of a series of meetings. Grover Corum expects to leave early next week for an extended stay on his homestead in the Butte Falls district. John G. Darling of Redding, Calif., is spending the week in the city and valley attending to business matters.
