If you are a constipation victim you need Bran that is ALL BRAN

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is so delicious and inviting that thousands of families use it constantly to make enticing bakery batches, such as bran muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc.; they eat it as a cereal, and many sprinkle it on their favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor having a fine appeal.

Many more thousands of people eat Kellogg's Bran every day of their lives because it has permanently relieved them of constipation and the dangers of dreaded diseases that constipation leads to. If you are suffering with constipation you need ALL BRAN—Kellogg's Bran—with its permanent corrective qualities. Foods that are part bran can never give the desired relief because they do not contain sufficient of the elements that Kellogg's Bran naturally contains.

When you know that constipation heads directly to Bright's disease and other ailments, there is no time to be lost in experimenting. Kellogg's Bran, delicious in its patented cooked and krumbled form, becomes an immediate necessity. If it is eaten regularly (two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal)—it will relieve constipation permanently! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran. It will free you from proprietary pills and cathartics which are as system-racking and almost as dangerous to health as constipation itself!

Serve Kellogg's Bran regularly. Watch the health of your entire family improve. It is wonderful for children. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

SINNER MAY BE SAVED MORAL MAN MAY BE LOST, SAYS EVANGELIST

A good Monday night audience was present at the First Baptist church last night to hear Dr. S. J. Reid deliver his second Passion Week address. The Seven Sayings of Christ on the cross constitute the themes for discussion. The second saying, "Today thou shalt be with me in paradise" was helpfully presented. Christ was not crucified alone, said the speaker, there was a thief on either side. That was fitting, for it was his habit to be found among sinners. Everything that was done with malice was turned to the glory of Christ. When Christ said, on the cross, "Father forgive them, they know not what they do," the whole Jewish teaching of the Old Testament was swept away, and all men could be thereafter forgiven for the asking. The dying thief heard Christ, and also the remarks of the crowd. The thief was convicted and converted on the cross. He was not baptized, but was saved, for baptism is not essential to salvation. There was a thief on one who was saved, and a thief on the other cross, who was not saved. The cross is always decisive. It always separates humanity. We are all on one side or the other. How the confession of the dying thief under such trying conditions puts to shame the cowardice of people today! The dying thief stood for Christ alone. As the thief was dying he was born again. The thief spoke of Christ as king, so faith saw farther than sight. He believed there was a kingdom somewhere, and Christ was king. "When thou comest into thy kingdom, remember me," said the thief. "Today thou shalt be with me in paradise," replied Christ. This saying took the anguish out of the soul of the dying thief, and has done that for millions since. It is a short trip to Paradise, a mere heart's beat.

A dark cloud hangs over the other cross, for one thief was not saved. He was lost not because he was a sinner, but because he rejected Christ. So today the moral man may be lost, and the sinner may be saved. Are you a Christ acceptor, or a Christ rejecter?

A short talk on evangelism was given before the sermon of the evening. These short helpful talks will be given each night. Mrs. Scott sang a gospel solo, which was helpful to the service. Tonight the third saying on the cross will be treated. All are invited.

More Dollars for The Fruit Growers

This is the title of an interesting booklet recently published by The Fruit Auction Co., of 202 Franklin street, New York City, which they will send without charge to growers and shippers.

This book tells how some of the largest growers market their fruits and vegetables to get the highest prices; to get their money promptly; to eliminate rejected cars and to overcome many of the other problems that bother growers and shippers.

It points out that 8,885,200,000 lbs. of food stuffs are required each year to feed the 8,999,900 residents of the port of New York District and some 422,000 visitors who come to New York daily. According to this book, New Yorkers spend an average of $1,200,000 in restaurants for dinner every night.

Following the footsteps of many other women of social standing, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman has decided to go into the wholesale millinery business.

CLAIMS SOVIET ADVISED LEGAL METHODS U. S. A.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The third international of Moscow advised American communists to form a legal party, Charles W. Ruthenberg, co-defendant with William Z. Foster on charges of criminal syndicalism, testified today in Foster's trial.

Reading from the thesis and resolutions of the third world congress of the communist international held at Moscow in 1921, Ruthenberg found a section which the state had not read when the document was presented in evidence for the prosecution and from this he gave the jury the communist international's explanation that the underground or the outgrowth of persecution.

Ruthenberg testified Foster had never been an employee of the national communist party. The trade union, educational league of which Foster is the head, is an outside organization which the communists endorsed and tried to influence, the witness said.
