THIRD SERMON ON SAYINGS ON CROSS IS FORCEFUL TALK

The third saying on the cross.

"Woman, behold thy son. Behold thy mother" was the theme of the pre-Easter week message at the First Baptist church last night by Dr. S. J. Reid. The speaker paid a heautiful tribute to Mary, the mother "You may think it incongruous "You may think it incongruous "American Laundry. Phone 873.

Just a line to remind you that I will gladly duplicate any bonatide order booked by a transient agent for the same or less money and give you better service. N. S. Bennett, prop. Eden "You may think it incongruous "Value" "Value" "Value" "Phone 873. Dr. S. J. Reid. The speaker paid a beautiful tribute to Mary, the mother of Jesus, and brought our forcefully the ancitity of the home as shown by what Christ said and did while on the commerce, but the greatest business man of the world was a cross. Suffering the pangs of death in the midst of His great grief, Christ did not forget His mother. He made provision for her. The mother was Noah and he floated a company when the entire world was in liquidation." stood by the cross, but she could do nothing. She knew her son was innocent. It is sin that makes grief. Death does not break the heart like sin. If there is sin in your life it will work till it brings a hell into your life. This helped Mary, knowing Christ was innocent. Christ did not die a sinner, though He died for sinners. For three hours Christ was silent on the cross. After these seven swords He did not speak again. If Christ died for our sins we need not die.

The made a strong plea for better churches and better schools. "Spending money on schools and churches." said Dr. Reid, "is true economy, For the more you spend on churches and Christ remembered His mother. Christ remembered His mother. God's curse rests upon those who forget their parents. There is no place in hell hot enough for them. A man who is capable of forsaking his mother or father is capable of committing any crime in the category. What are example Christ left when He ties and I want to see her with adequate school faciliold woman, and how she is being cared for. When my mother died, said the speaker, I was not present, but she said I had always been kind I would rather have her say that than to have her leave a million building to be built here." dollars for me.
