

GERMANS STRIKE AND BLOW SIRENS TO ANNOY FRENCH

GELSENKIRCHEN, Mar. 29.—(By Associated Press). Fifteen thousand miners are on strike in the Gelsenkirchen district at all mines occupied by troops, according to estimates made in German quarters. The men quit work as a protest against the occupation.

Five thousand men are out at the Westerholt properties, 4000 at Rheinaden, 4000 at the Concordia mines and 2000 at the Blumenthal plants. They have served notice that they will not return to work until the last soldier leaves.

From Rheinaden comes the report that the sirens blew so long in protest that the soldiers threatened to shoot unless the noise was stopped.

The Germans assert semi-officially that the occupying forces are having difficulty in operating the loading apparatus at these mines and that so far they have succeeded in loading only three or four small trains daily.

Before the occupation, it is asserted, a train load of reparations fuel rolled out every ten minutes.

The Germans charge that in order to give a false impression of heavy coal shipments, the French have begun a daily shuttle between Ludwigshafen and Laterburg.

CASUALTY LIST OF MOONSHINE BATTLE IN KENTUCKY HILLS

HARLAN, Ky., March 29.—County officers and possesmen had returned today from the mouth of Beech creek, in the hills of Leslie county, with an account of the desperate last stand of the "Strong's," a battle in which three men and a woman were killed yesterday.

Kelly Walker, deputy sheriff of Taylor, Ky., Isaac and George Strong and Mrs. Isaac Strong were killed.

Carrying a warrant for the arrest of Isaac on charges of liquor law violations, 22 possesmen arrived at the Strong home and surrounded the house. Deputy Walker advanced toward the house with the warrant.

A hidden marksmen fired and Walker staggered with a wound in the breast. As he ran for cover a second bullet pierced his head. Companions of the slain officer concentrated a withering fire from high-powered rifles on the house from behind trees and ledges. The fire of the defenders increased. When the officers entered the house the two men and Mrs. Strong were dead. The woman, according to the officers, was found with a repeating rifle clutched in her hands.

Two stills were found in a strongly barricaded position back of the house. They were destroyed, together with 700 gallons of beer.

OUT OF TOWN FOLKS ATTEND REVIVAL

The fourth saying on the cross, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me" was the theme of Dr. S. J. Reid's sermon last evening at the First Baptist church. For the moment, said the speaker, not only the crowd but the father seems to have left Christ alone, in a sense to have forsaken him, as he was bearing the sin of the world. That was due to the fact that Christ was bearing the penalty of sin. Yet there is a mystery in the text, not easily understood.

For three long hours Christ was silent on the cross, prophetic of God's present silence. God's voice is not heard today. This is the day of grace. You will not hear God's voice again till Christ shall again come to earth. There was enough done on the cross to satisfy the world. Christ was lonely in a way we can never be. Great characters are always lonely. It is not man's righteousness that saves, but it is Christ that saves. Man has nothing to do, but to take Christ to be saved. A little faith in a great Giver saves.

In response to an appeal a husband and wife came forward for membership. A delegation from Grants Pass was present in the meeting. Tonight the fifth saying on the cross will be discussed, "I thirst." These services are intended as a preparation for Easter. They are similar to meetings held in the large cities during this week, and are open to the people of the city to enjoy. Friday evening will be the last meeting of the week. Sunday will be a big day with an Easter sermon in the morning and a number of baptisms, and in the evening the choir renders the cantata, "From the Sepulcher to the Throne," and Dr. Reid delivers his last message.

MONTH FOR DECISION IN 'DAVID' CASE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 29.—Federal Judge John E. Sater of Columbus, Ohio, today had under consideration the voluminous testimony and exhibits in the suit of John W. Hansell against the Israelite house of David. A decision on whether the cult shall pay the $50,000, the value placed by Hansell on property deeded to him when he became a member and his labor during membership is not expected for some time, possibly a month.

The decision is to be based on the showing that fraud was or was not practiced in the guise of religion. Attorneys immediately began preparations for the suit of Ruth Bramford Reed and her sister, Gladys Bamford Rubel of Detroit, to come up in circuit court, in which each seeks damages of $100,000 from Purnell. The cult leader is charged with mistreating the young women at the Benton Harbor colony.

BUNCO MEN GUILTY LENIENCY URGED, GRAND JURY ACTS

DENVER, Colo., March 29.—Following conviction yesterday afternoon of twenty alleged members of a nationwide confidence ring who have been on trial in district court here for ten weeks, interest today centered in the county grand jury before which body the jurors had been summoned to appear this morning.

Subpoenas were served on the jurymen immediately after they had given their verdict and had been discharged shortly before six o'clock last night.

The grand jury probe is believed to be in connection with alleged attempts to influence members of the jury during the trial.

The twenty men found guilty after the jurors' 150 ballots and a record-breaking session of four nights and five days in the jury room, received the verdict calmly and without display of emotion. The wives of three of the convicted men however, burst into hysterical weeping.

Several hours before the verdict was returned the grand jury returned an indictment against three of the defendants, Lou Blonger, A. W. Duff and Jack French, and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Clarke, charging them with violation of the prohibition law as the result of a drinking party alleged to have taken place in the grand jury room at the courthouse Saturday afternoon after the jury had retired. Leniency was recommended to the court by the district court jury for all the defendants, but especially for three of them in a communication handed to the judge after the verdict had been returned.

George Sharp, a juror, started the court attorneys and spectators when the jury was being polled individually, by announcing that his verdict was "on condition." Homer Hawkins, chief counsel for the defense, leaped to his feet and filed exceptions to the finding of the jury and requested permission to question the juror. The prosecution objected and was sustained. After he had been questioned several times by the court, Sharp gave his verdict as guilty with qualification and the court accepted the verdict. Sharp declared that he had been ill since Saturday.

The twenty men face penitentiary terms ranging from one to ten years. They were convicted on three counts, conspiracy to commit fraud through the operation of a confidence game; general conspiracy of committing or attempting to commit crime through the operation of a confidence game and larceny in connection with a confidence game.

At the request of the defense, the court granted twenty days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

KLAMATH STAGE STARTS SEASON

Due to the long warm weather and lack of rain, the Howard and Grimes auto stage line between Medford and Klamath Falls began its regular season today with stages leaving at either end of the line and running over the Topsy grade road, as the Green Spring mountain road is impassable yet because of much snow and will be for two weeks yet, if the present weather continues.

Charles Howard arrived home yesterday afternoon from having driven a trial run between here and Klamath Falls, having made the round trip in seven hours. He found the road dry but very rough in places.

The stage will depart daily at 8 a. m. unless another bad spell of weather should prevent.

SELL SHIPS, BUT NOT GIVE AWAY LASKER'S POLICY

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Mar. 29.—The position of the government today relative to the sale of the government ship tonnage was that this tonnage should not be sold at less than world market prices unless would-be purchasers guarantee to continue the routes on which the ships now are being operated.

The policy was outlined last night in a statement by A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, who is here as a member of President Harding's vacation party.

Chairman Lasker's utterance was in the nature of comment on the recommendations made on Monday by the American Steamship Operators association wherein it was urged that the shipping board retire from business, scrap inferior vessels and sell its remaining tonnage to American citizens "without any restrictions."

The association's recommendations were made in response to the shipping board's request for suggestions to aid in formulating a policy with regard to the merchant marine problem.

Mr. Lasker said he knew that members of the shipping board never would agree to the recommendations holding such views as would make agreement impossible.
