

Local and Personal

With the return of Floyd Young, the frost expert, last night from Yakima, Wash., where he had been making arrangements for installing the frost season service there, it was announced that Mr. Young, who is in personal charge of the service here this season, as usual, will inaugurate that service today. This means that the night before the first frost he will issue a warning.

The Durant Corporation has offered for sale stock in the Hayes-Hunt Body Corporation, a subsidiary of the Durant company, under the same sort of a contract which he made for the Fisher Body company and General Motors.

Mr. Durant offered, a few weeks ago, one hundred million dollars for the Fisher Body corporation, which the General Motors refused, evidently because they considered it worth more.

As the Durant Corporation is now third in production and is growing rapidly, it is very likely that history will repeat itself in this case. Anyone wishing some of this attractive stock may phone Dr. E. H. French, Telephone 915.

"Big Bill," one of the four elk in Lithia park, shed one of his horns this morning. Customary to nature, the big animal soon knocked off the remaining horn in order to prevent himself from presenting a lop-sided appearance. As a result of losing both of his horns, "Big Bill" is wandering around the enclosure in a light-headed manner. Ridding himself of his horns is taken as a sign that spring has come for good.—Ashland Tidings.

Mrs. Fred Strang will return tomorrow to her home in Roseburg. She will leave her young son Billy here with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strang until he has completely recovered from an operation performed for the removal of his tonsils last Monday.

"Say, lady!" She turned as a detaining hand was laid on her arm, "I've a good notion to go right down to my friends on Riverside, and tell them about these bargains up here. They're great. Those pretty hats are so cheap, and those are the dearest clothes for kiddies, to say nothing about all these other articles. I'm sure she will be glad to learn about them. I must confess I was very agreeably surprised myself." "Why, certainly, tell her about them. They are for everybody, and don't forget to mention that beautiful rug we've been trying to sell for a widow who has a very sick son. That is a hooked rug and represents three months work. Think of her willing to sacrifice it for that price. And look at those beautiful, round sofa pillows—all made of new ticking and feathers and covered with such pretty colors and stitches. We're trying to sell those for a lady who is bedridden and can only use her hands, and she is trying to help her family in this way." "Well, this is sure an interesting place and I know she'll be making the Thrift Shop a visit very soon," said the customer as she smilingly made her way through the throng on opening day.

It Only Cost Columbus $7250 to Discover America

And here lately we met a man of 43 who had spent $3000 on $60 to $80 made to order suits before he discovered that (Michael's-Stern, Hirsch-Wickwire) clothes at $30.00 to $50.00 delivered the same identical service—to say nothing of the vast improvement in style that goes home with every suit we sell.

Perhaps you have been paying too much or too little—in either case we say—STOP—LOOK—don't be penny wise or dollar foolish—there is a right and wrong price to pay for good clothes—it's the inside price that is printed plainly on the sleeve of every garment hanging in this store!
