Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry.

Another charming member of the Ladies of the Six Shooters has removed from all earthly activity a loving citizen and kind sweetie. She saved New York some money by taking the Extermination degree immediately after eradicating the objectionable person of the opposite gender.

The list of Democratic candidates for president in 1924 is growing, and is almost as imposing as the roll of aspirants for United States senator from this state.

cided to commit suicide by inaugurat-

GO RIGHT AHEAD, ETHEL!

(Panama City Star)

Notice—My husband, Saml.
Brouson, having left my home and protection without any just cause since the 13th of May, 1920, and his whereabouts are unknown to me, I therefore notify the public that it's my intention to get married.—Sig. Mrs. Ethel Brouson.

100 MEN WANTED TO EAT
CHICKEN. ROYAL LUNCH COUN-TER.—(Ad Redding, Cal., News). Exceedingly tough, and it may take more.

THEM WERE THE DAYS OF
THE YELLOW-LEGGED CHICKEN

(Literary Digest)

Time was when a long face and a grave mien were considered proper for the preacher, and he was supposed to smile only under the softening influence of a christening or a wedding. But that day, we are told, is gone. Came a group of young men who looked upon the world and found it fair, who saw that God had filled creation with things of beauty, and who could discover no reason why they could not be like other healthy-minded men and still be preachers.

The leading hellraiser of the nation is not half the idiot the general public suspected. "The American people," said Mr. Foster, from the witness stand, "are not immune from radical ideas. They sometimes accept them hysterically." And ain't it the truth.
A sugar-coated nutty notion, with a little saintliness mixed in, is apt to infatuate them any time.

THE SELF HATER

(Chico Enterprise)

I am sending you a clipping which appeared in the society columns today. You know everything about my wedding is duly chronicled by some reporter.

Lovingly and gratefully yours,
LESLIE HAMILTON.

WAITING

(John Burroughs)

Serene, I fold my hands and wait, Nor care for wind, nor tide, nor sea;
I race no more 'gainst Time or Fate,
For lo! my own shall come to me.

I stay my haste, I make delays,
For what avails this eager pace?
I stand amid th' eternal ways,
And what is mine shall know my face

Asleep, awake, by night or day,
The friends I seek are seeking me;
No wind can drive my bark astray,
Nor change the tide of destiny.

What matter if I stand alone?
I wait with joy the coming years;
My heart shall reap where it hath sown,
And garner up its fruit of tears.

The waters know their own and draw
The brook that springs in yonder heights;

So flows the good with equal law Unto the soul of pure delights.

The stars come nightly to the sky,
The tidal wave comes to the sea;
Nor time, nor space, nor deep, nor high
Can keep my own away from me.

OUTLAWING WAR.

SENATOR BORAH'S latest move for world peace has scarcely received the attention it deserves.

The senator from Idaho proposes to outlaw war. He favors an international court, which would settle disputes between nations, as civil and criminal courts within nations, now settle disputes between individuals.

Such a procedure would deprive war of its present moral and legal sanction. As international law is now formulated, one nation may declare war on another, whenever it wishes, and on whatever grounds it may deem sufficient. War once declared, force automatically becomes supreme and military necessity allows the destructive passions full sway.

An international court would not, as the world is at present constituted, eliminate all war, any more than criminal courts now eliminate all crime. But it would make the war-maker an outlaw just as the criminal court now makes the law-breaker an outlaw.

Senator Borah's proposition is absolutely sound, essentially logical and should receive the support of all people in this country who are sincere in their desire to see the world change its course and organize for peace. In its freedom from political entanglements it has a decided advantage over the League of Nations, as at present constituted, and in its uncompromising attack upon the legal foundations of international conflicts, it marks the first practical effort toward the reconstruction of a new and better world.

Quill Points

Early to bed and early to rise is a motto now used only by flies.

The odd part is that Adam named spring a season instead of a yawn.

The nearest some wives ever come to loafing is while filling a hobbin.

The annoying thing about the man who knows it all is his persistence in telling it.

Esperanto can't hope to become as universally respected as the language money talks.

Home is a place where the appearance of the table cloth tells where the children sit.

The glass of fashion now is the one that separates the driver from the occupants of the tonneau.

Compression causes heat in some instances, but the hot heads usually are the empty ones.

Isn't it about time for the last surviving member of Jeff Davis' body guard to die again?

Our old-fashioned opinion is that the proper carriage for a woman to affect is a baby carriage.

Even in these dry times it is easy to get soaked after the oil stock salesman learns your address.

Any man and wife can get along together unless both happen to feel like pouting at the same time.

FACING THE MUSIC.

THE LONG NIGHT through James Kickshaw wept, and kept the boarding house awake; men tossed in bed who should have slept, because his teeth were filled with ache. I faced him at the midnight hour, and said, "You've wailed enough, I guess; a dentist dwells in yonder tower and he will end your fierce distress. If haply you should lack the price, your fellow boarders will chip in; but go at once, take my advice, and stop this most outrageous din." But still he journeyed fro and to, and wept and wailed and wrung his hands, until the boarders hove in view, in earnest and determined bands. We rushed him swiftly down the hall and fired him through the long front door, and took his chromo from the wall, and bade him to return no more. You have unpleasant work ahead, some task that makes your spirit quail? Approach it with a dauntless tread, and don't send up a yip or wail. Then all the boys will know you're game, a gent to honor and admire, and poets will emblazon your name, when they tune up the festive lyre. But if you gnash your teeth and bawl when face to face with painful chore, some gents will rush you down the hall, and kick you softly through the door.
