Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry.

The jury in the trial of William Z. Foster, hellraiser de luxe, who only desired to establish the Soviet form of government in America, was unable to agree. And learned counsel for the defense made the only woman juror hawl.

Turkey has adopted Prohibition. A nation that has specialized in the murder of women and children for centuries, ought to do something uplifting.

Objections are made to removing the venerable structures along the right-of-way, as they were just painted in 1919.

A LADY TALKS

I have my work to do, and my future to make, but I paused for a minute to listen, and one old codger said to the other: "Where is Heaven, and where is hell?" There's no use to hunt, for they'll get both here. I did, mostly the latter, if you got to know. And one told the other: "I made a friend and a dollar today," and don't let 'em fool you for a minute, the friend had the dollar. You ought to hear Elsie squeal in an automobile. She gets me down. So I said, "Dry up! All Jackson county knows you're here." And Elsie said: "I'm going to leap out. You've turned against me." Then the mail salesman said: "Go ahead, but don't roll so far out in that field we can't find you on the way back." And that smoothed over things like water on oil, and everybody had a good laugh, and we're going again Sunday, if the house don't send him to Lakeview, but that's old stuff.

A well-known married woman became quite excited recently over the sudden disappearance of her husband. She was looking for a detective as she claimed that hubby had disappeared with another woman, and she was going to bring him back no matter what it cost. From her manner and demeanor, those who heard her making her statement would be impressed with the idea that she means just what she said.

WANTED—Woman to wash, clean, sweep, cook, and tend small child, and be companion in July and August to elderly invalid. Good place, pleasant surroundings. Phone 6754-L. (Want ad Pendleton Tribune). Haven't they got a cow to milk?

Farmers are getting the rain they prayed for last summer, and some steam heat is arriving that was badly needed last December.

At the conclusion of the three hour sermon, a number went forward and congratulated Rev. Pearson. (Glen Dale News). But be careful or you'll start him again.

News Summary of Last Night

BELIAN—The bolsheviks are reported to have executed 340 peasants in the Ukraine, apparently because of protests against the soviet proscription of high church dignitaries.

RIGA—Two of the German specialists who attended Nikolai Lenin's funeral, announced that the president may die at any moment and that his illness will inevitably cause death.

Editorial Correspondence

CARMEL, Calif., April 4.—April weather! Yesterday clear skies and sunshine; today leaden skies and the deluge! Once more, like the festive flies the early season tourists have vanished, and Carmel is reduced to its primitive foundations which are essentially artistic and intellectual. Around a cheery log fire in the hotel, the intellectuals are gathered, mainly feminine, for tating and conversation. The conversation is illuminating. All humans, for example, are constructed like onions. That is to say they are built in layers. The outer layer is what the individual appears to be, under normal circumstances, civilized and properly clothed. But any sudden crisis is apt to uncover the other layers, as far back as the stone age, or even to the primeval slime. In other words, each individual is a living record of the history of his race development; civilization is merely the thinnest of veneers, the individual may at any time become a caveman and behave as humans behaved before they learned to walk on their hind legs.

William Jennings Bryan should be here. He would be horribly scandalized. For everyone apparently believes in evolution. But to return to the onion. Early yesterday morning when the sun shone, two strange figures appeared on the Carmel beach,—which is perhaps the finest sand beach in the world. One was a man, the other a woman, and they dressed exactly alike in one-piece bathing suits. The man was built, it seems, like a Greek god, a perfect specimen of Walter Camp's daily dozen. He suffered but one blemish. His face was covered with a riotous growth of coal black whiskers. The woman was not similarly disfigured. Her hair was bobbed, her figure slim and her cheeks pink. So it seems were her toes. (This description comes second hand, but by an eye witness). Well these two joyous beings pranced along the beach hand in hand, dashed into the surf, sported about like a couple of dolphins, returns to dance on the beach and finally ran, hand in hand, through the sand dunes and disappeared in a pink plaster house, where they no doubt enjoyed a warm breakfast of bacon and eggs and flapjacks. What does this idyll illustrate? Why the onion theory of course.

These two children of nature are none other than Mr. and Mrs. George Graham who came to Carmel only two years ago from Council Bluffs, Iowa. They first saw the ocean from the Carmel beach. And it had a marvelous effect upon them. It peeled off several coats of the onion, took them back, so the theory goes, to the comparatively recent time when their ancestors sojourned in the Ark. Mr. Graham suddenly found himself a reincarnation of that Greek god, Pan, and Mrs. Graham became a modern edition of Eve with a water-nymph complex. And they have a perfectly wonderful time, these two. They take marvellous pictures, hazy impressionistic photos, which make the subjects look so artistic and interesting and entirely unlike what they had always supposed they looked like. In short even the camera has shed a few layers of onion. It is all "very intriguing," the intellectual middle-aged recounter of the episode related. And everyone agreed.

There are only three men at the hotel and only one of them talks. He is a minister of the gospel on a brief vacation. He has some ideas of his own, which is not true of all ministers. On the Jap question, for example, he is heretical. He blames the anti-Jap feeling in California entirely on the politicians. He claims if all the Japs should leave the state tomorrow, the entire state would arise in angry protest. The Jap and the Chinaman and even the Hindu, he maintains, have made California. They have turned thousands of acid acres into productive gardens, and supplied the foundation for agricultural prosperity. Moreover, he believes they all want to be Christians, and he sees a marvellous field for missionary work right here at home. If he had his way he would invite more Japs in and invite Hiram Johnson out. He considers Hiram not only a pestiferous self-seeking politician, but a pagan. Tolerance and friendliness toward Asiatic labor he considers essentially Christian. Probably no one agrees with him but they all like to hear him talk. That's undoubtedly one of the nice things about Carmel, when the tourists have gone and the rain sets in the great indoor sport is conversation.

Quill Points

Two things that aid in living a virtuous life are a pure heart and a bald head.

Ain't Nature wonderful! Some of the greatest family trees start from a humbug.

The way to improve a lettuce sandwich is to take out the lettuce and insert the ham.

Another way to avoid insomnia is to refrain from singing notes for your friends.

It isn't a supreme court we need to pass judgment on some of the laws but an alienist.

Correct this sentence: "Darn it," groaned the man, "I'm afraid I am not earning my salary."

GREETING SPRING.

THE SPRING'S at hand, and spring is good, but let us gently knock on wood before we dance and sing; oft winter seems to jump the track, but at short notice he comes back, and makes a mess of spring. Oft have I gambled on the lawn, exclaiming, "Winter's surely gone, with all its frosts and snows;" and when another dawn I knew, I had the grip and eke the flu, and chills-blains in my toes. Oft have I soaked my heavy coat when early birds put up a note that heralded the spring, and lifting it from uncle's chest, to guard again my frozen breast was a grievous thing. And often on a vernal day I've put my heavy things away and donned a lighter brand; then you might see the village doe come racing up my concrete walk, a poultice in each hand. And now when spring seems come for keeps I know that someone weeps for promises that failed; some fellow banked on weather sweet, and now his beard is full of sleet and snow—unless it hailed.

Purify your Blood this Spring with S.S.S.

OF course you will purify your blood, you realize the importance of it. Many people, however, overlook the fact that winter, with its heavy meat diets, has left their blood thick and sluggish. That listless, tired feeling creeps over them. They feel that something is wrong—yet, they can't say just what! But isn't it easy to throw off the ills of winter! Take, for instance, S. S. S., the world's best blood medicine for five generations. S. S. S. purifies the blood. It makes it clean and rich. S. S. S. stops rheumatism and skin eruptions; pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema! It builds up run-down, tired men and women, banishes complexions, and makes the flesh firm! S. S. S. will give you greater endurance, energy and strength!

Mr. D. S. Cantrell, 1209 East 4th St., Alton, Ill., writes: "For five years I was troubled with pimples and blackheads on my face and neck. After taking S. S. S. for only a short while all my pimples ceased to recur. I feel 100% better and can get more than ever. S. S. S. is a grand medicine."

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

CAPTURE OF "MILLION DOLLAR THIEF" BALKED BY A WOMAN FAINTING

ATHENS, April 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—With his feet propped against a brass rail beside the boiler in the basement of the hospital from which he was thought to have escaped on Wednesday night, Gerald Chapman, leader in the million dollar robbery in New York 21 months ago, was nearly captured today by Harry Bishop, a guard from the Atlanta penitentiary. Bishop, in giving attention to Miss Estelle Scott, a nurse who accompanied him when the discovery was made, and who thereupon fainted, told Chapman to return to his room. A few minutes later, however, when Miss Scott had been revived, Bishop was unable to find the missing criminal. An immediate search was futile. The discovery of Chapman was made when Bishop, who is on duty guarding a federal prisoner now in the hospital, started for breakfast with Miss Scott. Chapman escaped from his room Wednesday night in a suit of clothes belonging to his guard. He was recuperating from gun wounds received when captured near here last week after a sensational escape from the Atlanta Federal prison.
