Readers of the Mail Tribune will be interested to know that today is the birthday of Arthur Perry, Smudge Pot editor of this paper, and that despite this great occasion the government at Washington still lives, thank goodness! Where he was born or how old he is are facts not known, but it is surmised that it was outside of captivity and that this on the shady side of twenty. The old gentleman has been troubled lately with rheumatism in his bones outside the head, and his cigarettes have not tasted right for months past. Outside of that he is feeling quite spry for a naval reserve veteran and was hard at work today as usual.

The fire alarm yesterday afternoon was caused by a fire in O. N. Wilson's car, caused by a shift circuit in the electrical system. Robert Boyd called the fire department over the telephone, while Wilson was mopping the flames and embers with his hat. The car was standing in front of the Model Clothing company and the large fire truck soon arrived on the scene stringing hose from the plug at Front and Main in order to be prepared should the gasoline tank have taken fire and the blaze become serious. The fire was out when the department arrived, however, having lasted but a few seconds. The only damage was burned-out wiring on the car and a mutilated rim on Wilson's hat, torn by the violent slapping at the flames.

In the detailed account in this newspaper of the Elks lodge installation of officers on Thursday night several typographical errors crept in owing to the haste of the proofreader in addition to his regular wheels, escaped notice. The article also failed to mention the fact that Louis Ulrich, the new exalted ruler, had appointed George Bohner as inner guard, and gave the initials of the newly appointed restaurant manager, P. C. Bigham, as "P. P." Otherwise the account was very veracious and complete.

person attending is requested to be seated on time so that the music be not interrupted. Rev. F. R. Leach will speak following the cantata on "The Assurance of Immortality." New members will be received at the morning service, and the pastor will speak on "A Religion that is Divine."

Why I prefer to borrow or invest in the Jackson County Building & Loan Ass'n

1st.—Because every dollar I invest stays in Medford and every dollar I borrow is from friends who will be lenient if misfortune makes it necessary to be so.

2nd.—Because every dollar invested or borrowed is from people who pay their part of Medford's and Jackson County's taxes.

3rd.—Because I am dealing with men whom everybody knows and who help support our schools, our churches, our lodges and our homes.
