

DOUG FAIRBANKS IN 'ROBIN HOOD' COMING, PAGE

While in Portland recently Mrs. Smith and I had the pleasure of seeing "Robin Hood." We were so pleased with the stupendous production and the extraordinary stunts of Doug Fairbanks, that when we were asked to attend a box party the next night by

IN 'ROBIN HOOD'

Editor and Mrs. E. B. Piper, in company with I. N. Fleischer, we gladly accepted and were more pleased with the grandeur of the picture the second night than we were the first.

It far excels "The Three Musketeers" keeps you spellbound during the entire two hours and I hope every one who loves a good story, well staged, with plenty of romance, adventure, wonderful stunts, and beauty of ancient court scenes and games will see this picture.

It took over a thousand people many weeks and the expenditure of an immense amount of money to produce this picture which has been styled the grand opera of the movies.

The processions of knights in their picturesque costumes, the brave soldiers going to battle for their ladies fair, the mystic forests with the beautiful giant trees—the home of Robin Hood and his band—are so colorful one gasps with the wonder of the thing. From a creative standpoint it is in a class by itself, for Mr. Fairbanks had little to base his story on. Most of it is his original idea, and he has made Robin Hood a daring sprit with character and purpose.

The picture comes to the Page beginning Tuesday, April 17th. "Robin Hood" was played five months in Hollywood where choice seats sold as high as $5; several weeks in Portland at 75c and $1.00 a seat.

CENTRAL POINT

CENTRAL POINT, April 13.—Practice for the track meet is going on every evening under the direction of Prof. Jewett. Very many are trying out for the different events, such as vaulting, running and other events. From the appearance, it seems as if the school will again win the track meet as it did last year. May fourth is the date set for the meet, which will be held at Talent, Oregon.

Mrs. Blanch Crooson of the Oregon Dancing Academy, will give an opening dance at Gold Hill next week. She will hold dances there throughout the summer. She still holds dances in the academy Tuesday and Thursday nights, a large number being present at each dance.

The new telephone office building is very near completion, only the finishing touches to be added. Mr. Porter, brother of Hugh Porter, will occupy the building when completed. The telephone using public will have night service, which will be given for a little extra charge.

Mrs. Lora Briscoe has been confined to her home for the past several days on account of sickness, but however at this time she is very much improved.

Mrs. J. C. Gill of Vancouver, Washington, arrived in the city Friday to look after business interests. He returned to Washington Monday evening, to Seattle, where he will reside for the future.

Mr. Herman Prieme left Thursday for Klamath Falls, where he will be engaged in business. He will sell or peddle McNess products along the countryside.

Who Developed the Famous Beveled Buttress Tread? LANCASTER!

The definite superiority of Lancaster Tires is recognized not only at home but abroad. Three great foreign nations have granted basic patents on Lancaster construction.

BEFORE you buy another tire, see a cross-section of the Lancaster. Study the features that have made it a triumph of tire engineering.

Note the famous beveled buttress—originated by Lancaster three years ago—and now recognized as a development of vast importance to the tire industry.

Look at the Lancaster tread—sturdy, generous blocks of solid rubber. Observe the triangular sections, supporting every block in the outer rows of the tread. These triangular sections are the famous beveled buttresses which reinforce the blocks, keep them from spreading under weight of the load and prevent rapid wear.

Since 1920, Lancaster tires have been built with an exceptionally broad, flat tread

—greater surface for the distribution of wear —better traction—more mileage.

Beyond all question, Lancaster set valuable precedents for the whole tire industry when it pioneered in bringing out the beveled buttress and the semi-flat tread.

Come in and examine the Cut-Away Cross-Section. Get the "inside story" of Lancaster Quality.
