W. VA. MINING TOWN IS BURNED TO GROUND

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., April 21.—The pick and shovel was discarded for the hammer and saw today by scores of miners of Burke, a mining village in McDowell county which was converted into a huge ash heap by flames last night with an estimated property damage of $1,000,000. More than 1000 persons were rendered homeless by the fire which destroyed 100 buildings, including 25 cottages belonging to the Houston Coal and Coke company.

The homeless sought refuge in the neighboring village of Keystone. Authorities said it would be only a few days until the village was rebuilt. The fire was believed to have been caused by a defective flue.
