TABLE ROCK LOOKS FOR BUMPER FRUIT CROP, HEAVY BLOOM

TABLE ROCK, April 26.—Prospects are excellent for a bumper fruit crop in this district, the trees being laden with blossoms, in fact so heavy is the bloom that a thinning by the frost would be a benefit.

So far no damage has been reported from low temperatures although many of our orchardists have lighted their smudge pots for several mornings. At the Modoc orchard where there are many thousand trees to protect they begin lighting before the danger point is reached thus playing safe should there be a sudden drop in temperature as it requires considerable time for the lighting crews to cover the big orchard.

A letter received from Harry Wilcox of Pasadena, Calif., expresses thanks and gratitude to friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown to him and his sister during their late bereavement.

Mr. Wilcox and sister will remain in Pasadena for the summer where they have rented a cottage and are keeping house.

Mrs. S. M. Tuttle and her tiny son returned Sunday from the Medford hospital where this bouncing young fellow was born April 9th.

Carl and Vaughn Quackenbush left Saturday for Weed, Cal., to work in the lumber camps. These two young men have been trusted employees at the Table Rock orchard for several years and their many friends in this district wish them success as they go forth to seek their fortune in other fields.

Mrs. M. E. Duggan has recently joined the Wool Growers association and says that this is one of the farmers organizations that is really making good.

L. P. Brown and Ernest Peachy, forest examiner and ranger respectively gave an interesting and instructive lecture on fire prevention illustrated with stereopticon views before the Parent-Teachers club last Friday night.

Ike Peterman of Medford delivers fresh meat in this district on Tuesday and Saturday of each week which is proving quite convenient to our busy farmers.

Several flocks of wild geese passed over Monday evening on the first lap of their long journey to their nesting grounds in the north.

H. Dietrich, the Agate dairy and poultry man, was a visitor in this district one day last week and while here purchased a large quantity of wheat for chicken feed. Only a small amount of wheat is left in this vicinity as during the last few weeks many orders have been filled to poultrymen throughout the valley.

The bulk of wheat sold by Table Rock farmers this spring brought $1.20 per bushel in the buyer's sacks.

John Dodge, the Medford well driller was here last Thursday. He had just finished drilling a well for the Rogue Elk resort and states that they now have an abundance of pure water.

Watt Beebe, the Agate chicken fancier and incubatorist delivered some of his fancy baby chicks to Mrs. J. H. Lydiard last week.

C. E. Hamlin of Medford was thru this section recently looking for fat beef. He claims that the Pelton ranch in Sams Valley has a car load of the largest steers he has ever seen.

Two salesmen from the Standard Oil Co. were canvassing this section last Monday in the interest of that company's products.

Corn and potatoes are being planted in this section which is a little earlier than usual for corn.

Mr. Norman, the poultry man, was a business visitor here the first of the week. He had just delivered more than a thousand baby chicks to Agate farmers.

Mr. Norman who came here some ten years ago from England still bears some of the ear-marks of that country. Last Wednesday he was inquiring for Johnny Bull seed potatoes of one of our farmers who not having them persuaded him to try Uncle Sams.

There is some talk of organizing a bachelor's club in this community.

The Table Rock school are planning to attend the annual track meet at Talent.

A glimpse at the county expense fund for March shows that the good work is still going on, many employees apparently getting in overtime.

The expense of the prohibition officer and the sheriff's office must run the price of booze captured by the county somewhere around $100 a gallon, which is a little high even for these times.

The Modoc ball team was defeated at Eagle Point last Sunday by the team from that place.

The Modoc smudgers seemed to have the game nicely tucked away until the last inning when their pitcher weakened allowing three runs. A return game will be played at the Modoc grounds next Sunday.

Miss Mildred Pearsons of this district and Lloyd Palen of Medford were married in that city last Thursday evening, April 19, at the home of the officiating minister, J. Randolph Sannett. The young people are both well known and highly respected in this district and their many friends extend congratulations and good wishes for a pleasant journey on the seas of life.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Tiny Dugan, who for the last half century, has been living on a tract of land known as the old John Young place, but a year or so ago moved onto the M. C. Andrews farm just outside of Medford on Bear Creek, has moved back onto his old farm to do some plowing and get the land ready for sowing wheat the coming fall. He was raised an orphan by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, and by his industry and good management has acquired a competency, raised a bright and happy family and now is rated as among our most prosperous farmers, and has in this community, a host of warm friends. The same day that I met him, last Saturday morning, I also met Mrs. Maxfield of Brownboro. She had come out and went to Medford on business and on her way home spent the night with her sister, Mrs. Charles Cingcade, the wife of one of our prosperous farmers and stockmen who with his brother and family are operating the Cingcade farm on Antelope creek.

Alex Vestel, R. H. Sears of Reese Creek and David Smith, at one time marshal of our town, were here trading with our popular merchant Fred McPherson.

J. H. Miller, at one time in the timber and saw mill business in Butte Falls, but now a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., was here for dinner last Saturday and after introducing himself to me, remarked that he had been away from here for the last 14 years and never failed to read the Eaglelets in The Mail Tribune for a single week, that he had been taking the paper all these years and by that means had kept posted on what was going on around his old home town. And still people wonder how it is that The Medford Mail Tribune has such a wide circulation, and it is simply because they keep such a good corps of correspondents, and the editor, manager and their assistants are all wide-awake business men and women and know what the people want and get it for their readers.

Among the other callers for dinner Saturday was Paul Peyton, a member of the Salvation Army of Medford. He came out Friday to announce that a number of the company would be out here that evening and conduct services on the street and in the church that evening.

It so happened that evening was one of those cold, blustery times such as we occasionally have here in April and the result was they did not have as large an audience as would have been present had the weather been pleasant, but as it was there was a goodly number of our citizens as well as several from the country were there, and I understand that the services were very good and if they will come again when the weather is pleasant, no doubt they will have a full house. While I am on the subject of religious meetings, I will so announce the meeting for next Sunday night, April 29, for the Christian Workers of Medford and will urge everyone who can to turn out and give them a cordial greeting.

I am inserting an obituary notice that was sent to me by a daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Walter F. Charley, of Climax:

Morrison Bryan died at his home in Fairfield, Calif., April 13, 1923, after a brief illness of bronchial pneumonia, complicated by a weak heart. Aged 69 years. Moving to Jackson county from Washington with his family in the fall of 1905, he lived in the Wellen district for six years, when he again moved to Josephine county, living near Kirby for two years, thence to California, where he has since resided, being employed as deputy marshal of Fairfield, Cal., for the past two years. His wife having died January 30, 1922, he leaves three sons and six daughters, who are: Maurice Bryan of Klamath Falls, Ore.; Mrs. Bertha Charley of Climax, Ore.; Mrs. Nellie Martin and Mrs. Genevieve Hair of East Stanwood, Wash.; Mrs. Beate David of Vallejo, Calif.; and Mrs. Lella McKean, Mrs. Paul Yorton, Barney Lee Bryan and Geo. M. Bryan of Fairfield, Calif., beside 13 grandchildren. Interment at Fairfield, April 16.

The business in our town seems to be looking up, judging from the number of strangers to be seen on our streets and at the Sunnyside, for it is not an uncommon thing to see as many as from two to fifteen here for dinner at a time. Some are men who are working at different jobs, some on the canal, some on the laterals, and some in the orchards, and many are strangers looking over the country with an idea of locating, but I find that it is becoming quite difficult for me to get the names and location of many of them, owing to my difficulty in hearing and sight.

Last Saturday morning we had 14 here for breakfast and among them was one of our neighbors, Thos. F. Nichols, and he reported that right after he and his partner in the pool room business, Clarence Pruitt, had gone to bed someone came in and turned on a small flashlight that woke him up and when the would-be burglar discovered that there was someone in the house, he started to run. Mr. Nichols had no idea who it was, but there was no damage done.

Sunday there was only a few, outside of our neighbors, came in for dinner and they, knowing a good thing when they see it, come so often that I don't like to use their names so often, but among those from a distance were Mr. W. C. Elam and Francis Connelly of Ashland; Cliff Hickson, Albert Roberts, John Foster of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, L. Farlow and Lyle Van Roy, one of our bright high school boys. Monday morning, while on my rounds, among the first I saw was our energetic street commissioner, Mattie Brown Mrs. W. H. Brown) but everybody here calls her Mattie. And she had a gunnysack in one hand and a rake in the other and informed me that Monday and Tuesday were the days set as clean-up days and she was hard at it.

I see that I have omitted a very important item in the Sunday report: There was one of the most interesting ball games played here Sunday afternoon that they have had for some time, it was between the Table Rock and Eagle Point ball teams and it was nip and tuck which one would come out ahead, but according to reports to me by Fred McPherson, the score stood 9 to 19 in favor of Eagle Point.

Among the business callers as reported by Mr. F. J. McPherson Monday were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carlin of Derby; Charles Brastly of Derby; Lyle Carlton, Wellen; R. W. Rose, the mighty nimrod of Round Top; A. C. Huker and Carl Stanley, whose family is here, but he is working at Prospect.

Among those I met at the Brown Bros. store were Mrs. George Wicks and her daughter and Ed Phillips of Trail.

I have been requested by a member of the Ladies' Civic Improvement club to ask the merchants and business men and women to burn up their waste paper as by throwing it outside the wind scatters it over the town and makes a bad impression on strangers coming in.
