OPEN DOUGLAS CO. LAND TO VETERAN SQUATTERS, JUNE

ROSEBURG, Ore., May 18.—The Roseburg land office has received through the mail further particulars regarding the opening of 260,000 acres of Oregon and California and Coos Bay wagon road grant lands in Douglas and Coos counties, although a list of the lands to be opened has not yet been obtained.

The date of the opening has been set for June 11. On and after nine o'clock in the morning of that date ex-service men of the world war and preference right settlers and lessees will be allowed to file applications until June 30.

All applications received during those dates will be accepted as filed simultaneously.

Wherever more than one person has filed on the same piece of property, a drawing will be held on July 3 to determine the successful applicants.

Ex-service men then have a ninety day preference right and the general public cannot file on lands until September 20, 1923.

Applications of squatters will be received only in cases where the squatter can prove his residence on the land prior to December, 1913. In this event he will have the right to file at the same time as the ex-service man.

EDEN PRECINCT

The Phoenix choir meet twice each week at the home of Mrs. Rader for practice. The sound of the music and singing is very enjoyable for these fine evenings to the near neighbors.

Out of the three hundred baby chicks bought of W. J. Warner of Medford by your correspondent, only six have been lost, and three of them were killed accidentally. They have been the peppiest bunch of chicks in all the chickens I have ever raised.

Reverend and Mrs. Ree returned from their trip to Vancouver, accompanied by Mr. Reed's mother, who will visit with the family for a time. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bowman were at the Plant farm Wednesday after several hundred tomato plants. Mr. Bowman has the Burnett place rented and will plant a good big garden on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bradley of Talent were in Medford Wednesday, doing trading. They took some vegetable plants back home with them from C. Carey's.

table plants back home with them from C. Carey's.

A. S. Furry had the misfortune to lose a nice young cow that was out in the pasture on the Wheeler place. Mr. Furry had not seen the cow for several days and when he went to the pasture he found her dead.

Mrs. Walter Allen has had charge of the thinning crew on the Hartzell ranch the past ten days. The Apricots are all thinned and the pears will be the next of the fruit to be thinned.

The concert given at Phoenix Wednesday evening was hardly as much of a financial success as is generally met with in Phoenix. Twenty dollars was the sum added to the piano fund, which the ladies have undertaken to raise in different ways.

The last week of school is nearing a close, and then the school work is over for this year. The graduating cards are out and the members of the class are working hard for the final evening's tribute, the well-earned diplomas.

Talent is still all excitement over the prospect of oil in the city limits. There are some unusual minerals in the Burnett well, and analysts say it is oil. It smells like oil, tastes like oil, but who says it will burn?

Mr. and Mrs. Will High and Ed Richardson left for Davis, Calif., Wednesday morning, where Mr. High went to look after his several properties, and Mr. Richardson will look for work.

It does seem a pity that there should arise a sort of squabble over the irrigation water just when the farmers need it in order to be able to set out their fields of tomato plants. We have heard that an injunction suit is pending between the Talent and Medford companies. If this be true the water may be held out of the ditches for some time, causing no end of inconvenience to the land owners. It would seem that the price the water is to cost the user is enough, and him have what there is to be had, without his being held out on account of petty differences between the two companies.

Work has again been halted at the Trigonia well. How long the work of recovering the lost drill will last, remains a guess. It seems that there is some spell working to retard the work at this well. If it is not shortage of fuel, it is some breakdown. China is a long way off yet.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Charles Humphrey of Derby, came out last Saturday with his truck, made two trips to Medford bringing out merchandise for our merchants and on the second trip brought out a lot of household goods for Mrs. Effie France a daughter of R. H. Sears of Reese Creek, but Mrs. France came out on the stage and went up home ahead of him. Mr. and Mrs. France expect to settle in this section but were going to visit her parents a while before settling.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Walker of

Nichols, Wisconsin, came in Saturday afternoon. They were brought out from Medford by H. E. Campbell and wife, our bankers, and engaged board and lodging. Mr. Walker came out to look over the old Snowy Butte grist mill with a view to purchasing it. He looked over the property on Monday, and Tuesday made a trip to Medford, and I think Jacksonville to make further investigations. He is a practical millwright and miller and the prospect is that the old Snowy Butte mill will be started up again and business in that line will be revived and the good old days come again when our streets will be crowded again with farmers delivering their wheat.

There is a young man stopping here by the name of C. R. Folsom from Klamath Falls who was so unfortunate as to be run over by a truck and had his hip and leg broken and was confined to a hospital in Klamath Falls for some four months but is so now that he can do light work such as assisting in the culinary department in a road or logging camp.

Last Saturday night the following men came in and spent the night: C. F. Arrant of Talent, L. P. Brown of Ashland, C. R. Gannew and W. P. Gannew who were on their way up to the Anderson sheep camp to shear his sheep.

John M. Allen and wife of Derby were among the business callers. Saturday in making my rounds I also met Thomas Riley, son of Joe Riley, who is driving a truck hauling lumber from the Hays mill. He had his truck here for slight repairs.

In my last letter I spoke of Miss Rose V. Wood of Santiago stopping with us Friday night and going to her new home Saturday but she only went out riding over the country and remained here Saturday night going up to her new home eight miles beyond Butte Falls Sunday. She is pretty plucky to start out in the timber to live alone in the woods with her nearest neighbor a mile away, but she seems to be very determined, and says she made her start in the poultry business in California.

Sunday was one of the most noted days we have had here in our little town for a long time. By eight o'clock a. m. the crowd began to gather on the ball ground and by 11 a. m. the crowd became so large that one who was not posted might have thought that we were going to have one of those disgusting prize fights between two or more of the modern gladiators, but it was nothing more than two ball games between four baseball teams. The first contest was between the Antelope team and the Modoc team and was to be commenced at 11 a. m. and about that time, as near as I could learn, they did commence, and the result was the Antelope boys came out victors with the score standing 24 to 12.

About 3 p. m. the game between the Grants Pass team and the Eagle Point team commenced and the result was that our almost invincible team lost out, the score standing 17 to 4 in favor of Grants Pass.

About the time that the first game got underway dinner was announced at the Sunnyside and judging from the number of persons who were there it looked as though there would be room at the tables to spare, but the few who were there ready had not been seated before a crowd came rushing in, passed through the sitting room on the run and three of them halted long enough to shake hands with me and I remarked that I did not know any of them and one man said his name was Johnson of Ashland, a brother of the Jeweler of Medford, and in less time than it takes to write it the two tables holding 24 were filled, and I did not recognize any of them except F. J. McPherson, wife, son and mother. Mrs. W. G. McPherson of Portland, and by the time they were all seated the sitting room began to fill and then I began to try to get the names of the visitors who came later but there was so much excitement that I found that I had a difficult task but I secured a few of the most prominent. I see that I have on my list Dr. F. H. Ingram, Frank Herbert, Margaret, Ellen and Mrs. Ingram of Grants Pass, Mrs. Etta True, Mrs. Mamie Gray and John Foster of Medford, and the following is a list of the Grants Pass ball players. I did not secure the given names: Messrs. Coburn, Droulette, Meeker, Beariss, Wolf, Walters, Ingram, Bennett and Waters, as fine a set of husky young men as ever handled a bat.

As near as I could count we had between fifty and sixty here for dinner, for they kept coming in up to near two o'clock p. m. Quite a number of the Grants Pass people remained and took supper.

At night the following members of the Christian workers of Medford and vicinity came out and conducted services in the Eagle Point church: Dr. W. W. P. Holt, E. M. Husong and wife and Frank Smith. Dr. Holt presided, read the latter part of the 31st chapter of the Book of Proverbs beginning at the 10th verse and made the opening prayer. There were several songs sung by the congregation and some special songs by Mr. Smith, and then Prof. Husong gave us a fine talk appropriate to the occasion. It being Mothers Day. This was followed by a selected song by Mr. Smith appropriate to the occasion, when he gave us a fine talk on the value of a mother. The promised to try to arrange to have some members of the band come out again on the 27th, the fourth Sunday of this month, but were to let me know in time to put the announcement in my Eaglets to be written on Wednesday, May 23.
