Fiercely contesting every yard last Saturday afternoon, the Ashland and Grants Pass high school elevens battled to a 6-6 tie. It was a far different aggregation which went out against Ashland than the one which met Medford the week previous and was defeated 27-0. The players were the same but they had a different spirit and went into the game with a determination to win, and would have won except for a blocked punt which was recovered by an Ashland player and carried over the goal line for the score which tied the game. The game was one of the best that has been seen on the local gridiron in recent years.—Grants Pass Courier.

The creation of a new federal judicial district, including parts of southern and eastern Oregon with the federal building at Klamath Falls, is almost a certainty, according to Senator McNary. At present there are but two federal judges in Oregon, both in Portland. Due to the great distance of southern Oregon and eastern Oregon from Portland, heavy expense is involved in taking witnesses to federal court trials, and Senator McNary thinks a great saving of both time and expense would be effected by locating a federal judge in Klamath Falls. A large number of federal judgeships were created in the United States last year by act of congress, and Orogon was included in the increase.—Portland Journal.

MONEY FLEW IN LAST MINUTES OF WILSON'S REIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Circumstances surrounding the acquisition of a hospital site at Excelsior Springs, Mo., today came under further scrutiny before the special senate committee investigating the affairs of the veterans' bureau.

E. L. Morse, a widely known figure in Missouri republican politics and manager of the Lowden campaign in that state in 1920 was questioned in detail about the deal in connection with which the site, of which he was owner, passed to government control. He was cross examined on the basis of testimony given yesterday by government employes who declared the transaction was rushed through on the last day of the Wilson administration after there had been a last minute increase in the rental price.

Under questioning by John O'Ryan, counsel for the committee, Morse went into involved explanation of the various transactions connected with the hospital plant, with the result that the committee was left in considerable confusion.

Documents and records from which General O'Ryan read showed that Morse received a final payment from the Veterans' Bureau of $173,000. Among the individual items was the $90,000 agreed price for the Morse homestead, $26,100 for the additional land which Morse purchased in an agreement with the government and $66,237, which Morse had expended in addition to the original buildings.

These made a total of $182,337 and after deducting the rental paid by the government in 1921, General O'Ryan said the sum due Morse in the final settlement apparently was $176,846. He added that there was no records to sho whow the round sum of $173,000 was reached.

"They gave me an offer and I took it," Morse broke in. "They had notified me that they were going to cancel the lease and I was anxious to get the sale closed up."

LAST VESTIGE OF WHITE FORCES IN RUSSIA BEATEN

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—Defeat of the last vestige of the white forces in Russia was reported today by G. G. Suddock, agent at Port Ayan on the Okhtosk sea for Olaf Swenson and company, traders of this city, who arrived Saturday on the steamship President McKinley from Port Ayan by way of Kobe.

Mr. Suddock declared that the commisars of the Russian soviet government in Siberia were devoting themselves to the economic salvation of the country, and doing so with success.

The final fragment of white military forces was swallowed, reported Mr. Suddock early on the morning of June 17, when the fifth regular soviet army surprised General Peplief at Port Ayan and captured him and his army without firing a shot. General Peplief and his men, related Suddock, were taken as prisoners of war to Vladivostok. This victory gave the soviet complete control of the province of Yakutsk, including the basin of the river Lena, which Mr. Suddock declared one of the richest regions in the world, abounding in timber, furs, cattle and gold.

GRANGE INCOME TAX SUIT IS UNDER WAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30.—Right of the state grange to require thru mandamus the income tax referendum league to disclose its records, was contested in arguments in circuit court here today. Thomas G. Ryan of counsel for the referendum league declared neither organization involved is political in nature and that therefore the grange committee had no legal power to force the opening of the league's books. The suit is in connection with the referendum on the state income tax law which will be voted on November 26.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 30.—The first move to put John W. Davis, a native son of West Virginia and former ambassador to Great Britain in the front rank of presidential possibilities in 1924 was made here last night when leading democrats formed the John W. Davis for president club of Marshall county.

Plans for organizing similar clubs throughout the country were discussed.

RADIO VALUABLE IN OPERATIONS DOCTOR DECLARES

DES MOINES, Oct. 30.—Motion pictures of patients conversing with nurses and surgeons while major operations were in progress were shown here today by Dr. Robert E. Farr of Minneapolis, who spoke on the use of local anaesthesia. Dr. Farr said he had found radio concerts and talking machines of value in entertaining patients where operations were carried on with local anaesthesia. No portion of the body need be exempted from such treatment, he declared.

Dr. Byron B. Davis of the University of Nebraska told the physicians experiments of the past year had not advanced the search for the cause of cancer.

"We only know it is a cell that has lost its normal relation and has become an outlaw," he said.

Dr. Davis declared the man who has physical limitations and lives within them, as he lives within his bank account, will live longer than the man who thinks he has no ailments.

ELECTRICIANS IN PORTLAND GO OUT ON STRIKE

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30.—One hundred and twenty employes of the Northwestern Electric company in this city and at Vancouver, Wash., went out today in attempt to enforce a demand for an increase in the day's wage scale from $7.20 to $8 a day. The reduction proposed by the management was refused.

Employes taking part in the strike include linemen, wiremen, station operators, meter testers and some other classes, but workmen at the steam plants are unaffected.

Members of the local International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light and Power company also have made demand for increased pay.

Their agreement with the company expires tomorrow night.

Thomas Lee, one of the general officers of the international brotherhood arrived last night from Seattle and will remain on the ground to direct the strike.

Quality

If you are willing to pay 30% interest—the cheap overcoat is willing to lend you money.

There is a legal rate of interest for money—but in overcoats you can pay from 6 to 60% for the accommodation.

Take a cheap coat—take it out into a storm and what style—what workmanship—and what wool is in it will soon be put out of business and then what have you for your money?

Pay the difference at the start—and you won't have to start for three or four years.

Quality counts—and the lack of it shows up so fast that a shrewd man won't take a chance.
