

CROWN PRINCE OF SWEDEN MARRIES KING GEORGE'S KIN

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(By Associated Press.) Before the ancient altar of the little Chapel Royal in St. James Palace, where many a king and queen have been married since the days of Henry VIII, Crown Prince Gustave of Sweden took as his second wife this afternoon Lady Louise Mountbatten, niece of the reigning sovereigns of Britain.

There was none of the splendor of the ceremony such as the weddings of royalty in vast Westminster Abbey have known. The ceremony as simple as could be considering the high rank of the bridegroom and the bride and the presence of so many royal witnesses, ambassadors and titled aristocrats.

Prince Gustave wore the uniform of a general of the Swedish army, his father Prince Wilhelm, in a naval uniform, was best man.

The bride wearing a gown made of a fine piece of Indian silver gauze, which had been given her by her uncle, the Grand Duke of Hesse, accompanied to the altar by her father, Lord Louis Mountbatten. Acting as bridesmaids were the four princesses of the royal house in Sweden—Margaret, Theodora, Cecilia and Sophie—daughters of Prince Andrew and nieces of the bride. The bride's train was borne by her little stepmother and niece, the Earl of Marna and Lady Titiana Mountbatten, children of the Marquis of Milford-Aven, who is Lady Louise's brother.

The first part of the marriage ceremony was conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the second part by the Bishop of London, who is dean of the Chapel Royal. At either side of the bride and bridegroom sat the reigning sovereigns of Sweden and Great Britain. Members of both royal houses occupied nearby chairs. Band members were the bridesmaids and attributed through the rest of the chapel were notable of Great Britain and Sweden and of many other countries.

The reception did not last long and before midnight the crown prince had taken his bride away from London on their honeymoon, most of which will be spent in Italy. They will arrive in Stockholm on December 11.

DOLLAR NOW WORTH TRILLION MARKS

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—(By Associated Press.) New York's appraisal of the mark on the basis of one and two-third trillion to the dollar moved Chancellor Stresemann to convene a midnight session of his rump cabinet which several emergency ordinances were proclaimed for the purpose of forestalling a similar collapse of the mark in Berlin.

The government will permit payments to be made in foreign currency, though it is prohibited to specify gold exchange as the sole medium of payment. The falling paper mark will still rank as the official currency and its acceptance as such is made obligatory.

L. GEORGE DEPARTS WITH FINAL PLEA FOR AMERICAN AID

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—David Lloyd George today turned his face toward home, leaving behind him a final plea for the United States not to be too hard on Europe, but to drive home to that stricken continent the conviction that right is supreme over force.

In his last speech after a tour of the United States and Canada delivered in the crowded Metropolitan Opera house, the war time premier of Great Britain warned that, within this generation, civilization was doomed to a catastrophe such as history has never recorded unless the United States and the British empire together stamped out the belief that force alone rules the world.

Standing on the spot where a year ago Georges Clemenceau, premier of France during the great war, had urged this country not to neglect her post-war duties and had warned of another rise of German militarism, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"France at the present moment is committed to holding the wolf by the ear. She cannot let go, but ultimately it may turn and rend her."

SECY. MELLON DROPS THE PINCHOT CONTROVERSY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Secretary Mellon has decided to continue no further the controversy on prohibition enforcement initiated by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

In a statement published today the secretary presented for the judgment of public opinion a report "on the treasury's efforts to discharge a task of supreme difficulty," and added that "all persons interested in law enforcement will see the futility" of further controversy with Mr. Pinchot.

Enforcement of the dry laws can be accomplished, Mr. Mellon said, if two primary conditions were met—expansion of the enforcement machinery, which means larger appropriations and more active cooperation by local authorities.
