SUICIDE IS BROUGHT OUT
Forbes said Mortimer was drunk on another occasion soon afterward.

The inquiry was taken back to the bureau's plant at Perryville, Md.
"You leaned pretty heavy on Commander O'Leary in the sale of supplies there?" asked O'Ryan.
"O'Ryan, not so heavily."
Commander O'Leary was in charge of the veterans' bureau supply division and had testified at length about the Perryville sale.
Early Life Barred
O'Ryan then renewed his motion of yesterday that he be permitted to inquire into the early life record of Forbes, but Chairman Reed reiterated the decision of the committee not to go into that matter and O'Ryan announced that his cross examination was finished.
Chairman Reed took up the questioning.
"Do you know why Charles F. Cramer (former general counsel of the bureau) committed suicide?"
"I've asked a great many people," Forbes replied. "I've heard domestic difficulties; salary difficulties, and trouble with oil lands."
"Did you make any investigation of it?"
"No."
Asked whether he suspected that Cramer had "taken graft" the witness replied:

"The man is dead, senator."

Official A. A. A. Station
The Riverside Garage at 132 S. Riverside has been designated as the official A. A. A. station on the highway in Medford. This means considerable added prestige to the already popular shop, as the requirements necessary to qualify are rigid. Membership of garages in the A. A. A. is an attest of their reliability and capability. 205*
