

FUNDAMENTALS OF HEALTH ARE SERMON SUBJECTS

A large audience at the Presbyterian church last night listened with deepest interest to the sane and clear explanation of the Biblical basis for Divine Healing. The speaker, Rev. L. B. Quick, explained the seven fundamental elements of health as laid down by God thru Moses for the Children of Israel which if obeyed would have kept them from all disease. They were sanitation, sterilization, quarantine, physical culture, recuperation, hygiene and dietetics. These are the fundamentals which medical science have worked out in our day and are teaching thru every possible avenue to the general public as the basic laws of health. In the new Testament the speaker said, we find Jesus Christ presented as the Great Physician. He holds that Divine Healing is not in the atonement as taught by many, but comes thru Christ's suffering in his physical body thru the beating with the stripes which occurred before Calvary, so making physical healing a privilege of the Christian but not obligatory, which gives the Christian the right to use medical science or not as he chooses or to use both medical science and divine healing also. This explanation to the speaker's mind, removes many of the objections urged against divine healing as taught by many. If in the atonement, it would be obligatory on the Christian to avoid absolutely any leaning on medical science—making it a sin to use the doctors, but if divine healing is simply a privilege of the Christian he commits no sin by calling a doctor or may use both means as his faith dictates. "The basis for divine healing is a supreme faith in Almighty God thru Jesus Christ as the healer of body as well as of soul. "The prayer of faith shall save the sick," is the word of Jesus. The speaker told of many remarkable answers to prayer in his own ministry, among them being that of himself and wife, when from a medical standpoint there was no possible hope for either, also that of his own mother, the daughter of a prominent senator, from his own present field and many others.

At the close of the service, several were anointed and prayed for in the prayer meeting room in the presence of a group of praying workers. At a service next week, Mr. Quick will answer many of the present day objections to divine healing. Opportunity will also be given for others to be prayed for if they will speak to the local pastor, Rev. E. P. Lawrence.

ANNUAL PRAISE MEETING, PHOENIX

The Phoenix missionary society will hold its annual praise meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Frazier Brown on Tuesday, Nov. 20 at 2:30. The Ashland society will be the guests of Phoenix and expect to come in large numbers. The program will be unusually attractive. A very interesting presentation of village work in India will be given by Mrs. Malmgren. Mrs. Gammill, Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Young. Mrs. Angell will give a report from the recent synodical meeting at Albany. Mrs. Frame will have songs appropriate to the meeting. All ladies in the community are cordially invited. The members are asked to bring their thank offerings in the yellow envelopes.

The plans for the bazaar to be held on November 30th by the Phoenix Aid society are more extensive than for several years. The bazaar is to be at Clyde hall, which will be fitted up with various booths, so that all can find just the Christmas gifts they want to buy, or want others to buy for them, as there will be an apron booth, a bag booth, miscellaneous booth, "rummage" booth, candy booth, a sauerkraut and wiener stand, in addition to a tea room. Save the date, November 30th.

The regular November missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Malmgren on Thursday, Nov. 22. Mrs. Hartley will have charge of the study, "The Child and Recreation." Sunday morning, Nov. 18th the pastor will speak following the workers conference of Thursday evening and ask all who were present then and other members and friends of the church to come.

M'ADOO CLAIMS TAX CAN BE CUT AND BONUS PAID

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury in President Wilson's cabinet, is convinced that the federal government can both reduce federal taxation and provide soldiers' compensation, equivalent to a bonus, he declared in a statement, which was made at the telegraphic request of the Literary Digest, in which it will be published next week, added that the bonus question "should long ago have been taken out of politics and in no circumstances should be used for political advantage."

"We can have tax reduction and do justice to the American soldier as well," Mr. McAdoo says, "by treating adjusted compensation as a part of the war cost and funding it through an issue of fifty year bonds. The interest and sinking fund charge should not exceed 80 to 90 million dollars per annum. This would not prevent a reduction in taxes."

"The men who served in the trenches got $1.10 per day; those reserves in America got $1 per day. If the American people believe that it was worth $2.35 per day to serve in the trenches and $2 a day to serve in the reserves in America, then the difference between these rates and what the soldiers have already received should be paid as an act of justice."

"We gave more than 500,000 civil employees of the government during the war a bonus of $240 per annum, and this was continued for more than five years. Is it less right to give the men who fought the war equal consideration? . . . Justice must never be measured in dollars; it must be measured only in righteousness and humanity."

The statement was given in answer to a request for Mr. McAdoo's opinion of Secretary Mellon's recent statement on the soldier bonus and tax legislation.

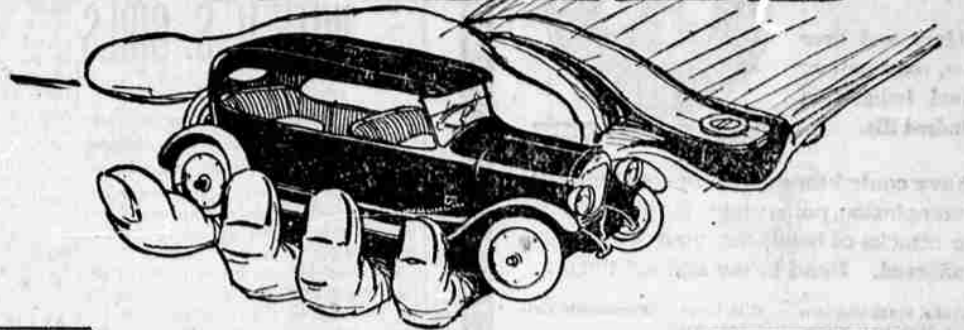

Macaroni At It's Best

KITCHEN BOUQUET, a purely vegetable product, is in almost every pantry. Housewives know it is the secret of making good gravies and soups, but KITCHEN BOUQUET is equally good in preparing many other dishes. Try your next dish of macaroni prepared this way—

BAKED MACARONI
1/2 package macaroni, broken in pieces
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
1 cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
Milk Butter
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, drain and blanch with acid water. Place one-third the cooked macaroni in buttered baking dish, dot with butter and sprinkle with grated cheese, then pour macaroni, butter and cheese upon dish to fill. Add Kitchen Bouquet to milk and pour this over the macaroni to cover; then sprinkle thickly with cheese. Bake in medium hot oven a half hour; add finely browned and serve immediately for dinner.
