DUBLIN, Nov. 20—

The first death of a hunger striker under the free state regime occurred in the Newbridge internment camp today when Denis Barry, a native of Cork, succumbed. Barry was an active member of the independent republican army during the fighting against the British. He had been on hunger strike 34 days. His brother was summoned to the camp last Sunday, but the prisoner was delirious and did not recognize him.

Nearly 300 prisoners are still hunger striking, including many political and military leaders, some of whom are reported to be very weak.

annual parish dinner, at which it is expected 150 will sit down.

After a short business meeting there will be a short program of entertainment and the remainder of the evening will be given to social enjoyment.

A feature of the entertainment will be an address by Col. C. G. Thompson, superintendent of Crater Lake, who will be the special guest of the Men's club.

The Rotary club luncheon was held at the Hotel Medford this noon.
