Automobile Owners Time to Take Your Profit

If you have owned a car for ten years without carrying liability and property damage insurance and have escaped paying any claims for injuries to persons or damage to other's property, your savings amounts to about $200.00.

It would be perfectly safe to state that traffic on the streets today is almost double that of even two years ago and it would be just as safe to say that the number of accidents have been doubled as well. If you have had a favorable experience in the past it is about time to cover up and take your profit.
