

INTRODUCE BEER BILL TO PAY FOR SOLDIER'S BONUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Representative Anthony, republican of Kansas, announced today that he expected to introduce in the house the "equal rights" amendment to the constitution placed before the senate Monday by Senator Curtis of his state. The measure is sponsored by the National Woman's party.

Sale and manufacture of beer containing not more than five per cent of alcohol and the levying of taxes upon it with which to pay adjusted compensation for world war veterans is asked in an amendment advocated by Representative Clancy, democrat, Minnesota.

Numerous proposed amendments to the constitution already are before the house. Amendments calling for restriction of child labor have been introduced by Representative Cooper Wisconsin, Rogers and Lullinger, Massachusetts; Johnson, Washington; Fitzgerald and Moore, Ohio and Perlmann, New York, all republicans and Hayden, Arizona and Tucker, California democrats.

Children born of alien parents in the United States would not be considered citizens under amendments introduced by Representative Johnson of Washington and Baker, Michigan.

Representative Woodruff, republican, would have the inauguration of the president advanced to the third Monday in January, and Representative Ramsayer, republican, Iowa, seeks to have the date set at January 24.

CONG. HAWLEY CALLED IN ON TAX CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—A preliminary conference today with Secretary Mellon by the ranking republican of the house ways and means committee, marked the actual beginning of its work on tax revision legislation.

Representative Green of Iowa, prospective chairman, and Representative Hawley of Oregon and Treadway of Massachusetts were designated as the committee to confer with the secretary on the tax reduction program proposed by the secretary and on general fiscal matters.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Well, I am truly glad to be able to say good morning to the readers of the Eagle Point Eaglets. I in the Medford Mail Tribune once more, from my own home in Eagle Point in our beloved southern Oregon, after an absence of almost six months. Not that I am at all sorry that I took my long journey up into an adjoining state for every moment of my time I was away from home I was either on my way from place to place and even then, was accompanied by loved ones taking me from place to place to visit members of my family or friends, so that my time was spent in the midst of dear ones, except on the train between Medford, Oregon and Lamont, Washington, where I was met by niece, Mrs. George Howell and granddaughter, Mrs. Charles J. Potts and taken to the home of the latter. But I see that I am going ahead of my intended account of my trip.

Leaving Medford on the morning of July 12th at 7:05 I had a pleasant ride on the S. P., where I had every comfort and attention I needed from the conductor until I reached the Union depot, where I was met by my son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Shaw and taken to their home where I was met by their two sons and one of their daughters. The other two came home the next day to meet me. And after a good night's rest, the next morning my daughter and I started to see Dr. J. C. Elliott King, a skin specialist, to have him try his hand to cure my face and neck eczema, and after waiting for about half an hour after my name had been sent in, I was ushered in and introduced myself to the noted M. D., I say noted, for a day or two after when I had to take two treatments, and was there for several hours, I counted forty different people who were ushered into his room, so the reader will see that he was kept busy the most of the time. I spent from that time to August the 11th in the waiting room and consequently saw but very little of Portland, as my daughter accompanied me wherever I went, especially in the business part of the city, as there is great danger of an old person that is unable to run across the street in different directions at the same time and the result was that I saw but very little of Portland except what I could see through the street car window unless it was at the entrance of the Corbett building, where I sometimes had to wait for an hour for my daughter to get through her shopping or visiting, and there I would amuse myself trying to keep count of the people passing both ways, each one rushing pell mell, as though they were rushing to save their homes from a destructive fire. Another grand sight to a backwoods sighter to go thru one of the big department stores, where one can find almost anything in the mercantile line desired from a box of pills to a five hundred dollar suit for the young bride—a place where one can go up or down on the elevators and be in a vast crowd all the time, where three thousand men and women are engaged selling and handling up goods and sometimes you make your purchase and pay your money and they are hustled off, you don't know where, and the salesman or woman hikes off to wait on another customer and you don't see anything of him, the goods or your money for a half an hour or more, but finally the clerk comes around with the goods and change, all O. K.

During the time that I was gone from here on my trip up to Washington there have been several changes taken place and some of them very serious. Among them was the death of Mrs. W. H. Crandall, who passed off about three weeks ago, leaving a young babe, only a few days old, the entire family was sick at the time and for a while one of the children was in a critical condition, but hopes are now entertained for his recovery. I met Mr. Crandall on the street Monday, but had not learned the sad news at that time. Mrs. Crandall was a devoted Christian woman and she and her devoted husband were workers in the Rescue creek Sunday school, and she will be missed, not only there, but in the entire community. Two other deaths also occurred in our community, that of the sad death of Bend, H. Brophy, mention of which was made in The Mail Tribune and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Thos. E. Nichols, one of our pioneer citizens, and one that is greatly missed, as she was a great worker in the W. C. T. U. and Red Cross societies and school. Notice of her death and activities in the Medford and Portland papers.

We have also had an addition to our school of another room, which is in charge of J. G. Thomson and he and his family are living in the Earnest Dahack has built a house on the highway and is keeping a gasoline stand. Mr. Nat Russell and family have moved into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Denton and Mr. H. W. Henshaw and family have moved into the Morgan house, the old Pool hotel, and W. F. Walden has settled among us and is operating the old Snowy Butte mill. Frank Dittworth has torn down the old barn on his place, the old John 60x80 feet, with 30-foot posts, a decided improvement. has returned to his shop to remain permanently.

Dr. A.W. Chase's Tonic Pills

The Old Reliable Family Remedy for Building Up the System, Nervous Affections, Insomnia, etc.

In this strenuous age, most people are afflicted with some form of nervous trouble. Hospitals are overflowing with men and women seeking to win back health of body and mind. If you are nervous, irritable, "jumpy," if your system is run down, if you feel that you may be on the verge of a nervous breakdown, read what P. J. Cole, of 628 S. Lambert Street, Brazil, Indiana, says:

"It would be hard for me to tell how much good I have received from the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic (nervine) Pills. I was so run down in health I could hardly go. I had no appetite. Could not sleep or rest. I was weak and so very nervous. I suffered some pain but the worst of my trouble was because being so weak and easy to get fired the nervous condition was worse than the pain."

"I decided to use your Tonic (nervine) Pills. A few boxes restored me to perfect health. I can eat and sleep well. I have never found anything better for a run-down nervous condition."

You can buy these Tonic Pills at all Drug Stores To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box—your protection against imitations.
