EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Last Tuesday afternoon I made a trip to Medford, and on my arrival about the first thing I did I made my way to the office of The Mail Tribune and reported the subscription of W. S. Chappell to the accommodation mailing clerk, for six months, and turned in my check for the amount, less my commission for the same.

I also left another list of the Eaglelets and spent a few pleasant moments visiting with the busy clerical force, although I knew that they, as a rule, have no time to spend in visiting, but we mutually enjoyed the meeting, after my long absence, and then spent the rest of the afternoon meeting friends who were congratulating me on my safe arrival home again after an absence of almost six months visiting my loved ones, and spent the rest of the time meeting friends, some of them, friends of years ago, among them Mrs. Harbail and Miss McCulloch of Jacksonville, whom I met in the states, when we were all in the bloom of youth. I also met among others, Mrs. James Owens of Wellen, who up to the time I left, owned two houses and lots in Eagle Point, but informed me that they had been sold, one to Cliff Hickson and the other to a newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ames, and that the two families were living in their respective homes.

Beside meeting those mentioned I also met a score or more, who congratulated me on my recovery of my sight sufficient to be able to write again for The Mail Tribune and assured me that my Eaglelets were greatly missed and made me feel rather proud to think that I, even in my declining years, was still able to do something to interest and I trust, help along my fellow citizens.

Among the items of interest that I have gathered for the readers of The Mail Tribune are that Charles Humphrey of Derby, the noted truck man, is still making his regular trips from his home, and it is off of the regular highway to Medford and our merchants can always depend on him if they desire help in his line, in spite of the rain or mud. He was here Wednesday morning on his way to Medford for goods for our merchants and I met him and he told me that he had not lost a day since he started in last spring on account of bad weather or bad roads. Such men as that are a great help to any community and are of great value.

The Eagle Point Parent-Teacher association have a large closely quilted quilt on exhibit in one of F. J. McPherson's show windows and are going to give a drawing to see who will be the lucky one who is to be the possessor. It is valued at $50 and the ladies are selling numbers at 25¢ each and expect to sell two hundred numbers at that price, and the drawing will be held on Friday evening before Christmas, December 21 in the large dance hall and after the drawing there will be an entertainment, given by the school children.

Another very important move that is getting under headway is the starting up of the old Snowy Butte grist mill under the management of the First State Bank of Eagle Point and Mr. H. E. Campbell, the principal owner and cashier of the bank, assures me that they intend to produce a good flour and other mill products of grain as can be found anywhere in southern Oregon. They have secured the services of Mr. W. F. Watson, a competent miller, to superintend the manufacturing department.

Among the callers at the Sunnyside Hotel, in addition to the regular boards has been Chas. Manning of Prospect, who was here last Saturday; Perry Foster, one of the pioneers of Rogue river valley, who has a fine home and farm on the west side of the Rogue river; Mr. Perry Clarno, who has a fine farm near the Crater Lake Highway, were here for dinner and Mr. F. O. Shade of Ashland, who spent Wednesday night with us.

J. L. Hoyer, the superintendent of the Alivista orchard, started Tuesday night for Hood River to meet his wife who had preceded some two weeks, to visit her parents.

W. S. Chappell, our cobler, who has been engaged in the saw mill business for the past year, tells me that he has returned to his shop to remain permanently.

Miss Crandall of Los Angeles, a sister of W. H. Crandall, is here with her brother to console and comfort him during his sad bereavement, and was in Eagle Point Wednesday.
