

Come to Our House Warming SATURDAY

Our remodeled banking home is at last ready for your inspection and on the occasion of its opening the officers, directors and stockholders of this bank extend a cordial invitation to the people of Medford and the surrounding country to attend

Our Opening Reception
from 4 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Plans have been made to make this day a memorable occasion. We want everyone to inspect our splendid new home and see with their own eyes a bank which is without question housed in one of the finest banking buildings in this part of the state.

Especially do we want our friends to see our new vaults of substantial concrete, reinforced with steel. The vault doors are of pure manganese steel, the hardest steel known and are ingeniously fitted with intricate time locks and the most modern of safety devices. They are burglar, fire and torch proof and are typical of the strength and security of this institution.

You will like the little conveniences of our new home. You will appreciate the architectural beauty of its interior and the restful atmosphere of strength everywhere the keynote.

You will find a most cordial welcome next Saturday. Remember the date, December 22, and be sure and drop in to see us sometime during the day or evening.
