LADIES HAIR CUTTING PARLORS TO OPEN

An exclusive ladies' and children's hair cutting parlor is the latest innovation to be introduced in Medford. W. K. Kellogg, who recently moved here from the east, has announced that he would open such an establishment in room 423, Medford bldg., on Monday, February 11th. Mr. Kellogg has had considerable experience in women's and children's hair cutting work and the news that he is opening an exclusive parlor here will be greeted with pleasure by Medford people.

C. E. "Pop" Gates, of the Gates Auto company who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Kellogg, is enthusiastically backing him in this project. "Kellogg is, in my estimation, one of the very best men in his line I have ever seen," says Mr. Gates, "and I believe his new establishment will be popular thruout southern Oregon."

Mr. Kellogg is now putting on the finishing touches on his room in the Medford building and installing a special hair cutting chair for ladies, dressing table and hair drying machines, and has announced that it will be ready for inspection Monday.

OBITUARY

BOWMAN—Mrs. Margie Bowman died at her home in Central Point February 7, aged 53 years, 3 months, 2 days. The deceased was born November 5, 1870 in Holland where she lived but four years of her life. On arriving in the United States, the family made their home in Lincoln Neb., where they stayed five years, then went to Kansas, where in 1894 Miss Smith was married to J. H. Bowman, and to this union eight children were born, six boys and two girls; Curtis and Noble, residing in Portland, Ore.; Mrs. J. D. Lenz of Sacramento, Calif.; John, Wallace, Raymond, Wayne, and Grace, all of Central Point. In 1899 they moved to North Dakota, then in 1908 to Spokane, and eleven years ago she came to Oregon. About nine months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman came to Central Point, where, although Mrs. Bowman has been red ridden most of the time she had made many friends. In 1900 Mrs. Bowman joined the Dunkard church, of which she had been a faithful member ever since.

She leaves to mourn her loss besides her many friends and children, her husband and one sister formerly of Kansas. Funeral services will be held Sunday, February 10 at the Union church, Central Point at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Lanegar of Ashland officiating. Interment in the Central Point cemetery.
