

FAMOUS VIOLINIST PLAYS TONIGHT AT PRESBYTERIAN CH.

Renee Chemet, the famous violinist, who has been the recipient of many honors in many lands, was recently asked her impressions of America. Her reply forms a remarkable tribute to America. For Mme. Chemet said: "I love it. It is the only place in the world today for the serious artist. I love my native country for a visit, for a vacation—but it is no stimulus. Europe today is the producer, but America is the consumer. In France, I am not inspired to give my best, because I am practically sure of being better than anyone else. Mediocrity is the accepted standard. But here there is competition, struggle. You have the best artists and one must be on one's mettle all the time. And the battle for success is the breath of life to me."

The great violinist plays here tonight at the First Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Civic Music club. She will include in her program Lalo's Spanish Symphony which she played at the Sunday night concert at the Metropolitan opera house, January 27, and which won her a remarkable ovation.

Radio News

In celebration of George Washington's birthday, KGO will broadcast two interesting programs, Thursday evening, February 22, at 8 o'clock. The "Big Brothers' Band" and the entire choir of the First Methodist church are to play and sing. Post No. 5, American Legion and Oakland lodge of Elks will furnish speakers and musical numbers.

On Saturday, February 23, at 8 o'clock, the KGO players, under the direction of Willis Wilson church, will return to the air offering "The County Fair," a rural radio drama in four acts. The cast will include some of the most talented players thus far developed by K. G. O. The Arion Trio will play characteristic music between the acts.

Hay Chapman will talk on the "Fascination of Golf" Tuesday evening, February 19, at 8 o'clock. On the same program will appear Myrtle McCabe, reader; Edwin Holton, tenor; Edna Fischer Hall, contralto; Margaret Avery, cello soloist.

The Screen

Just how much a "yard wide, dyed in the wool, guaranteed not to shrink" reputation means to the ordinary individual is vividly illustrated in "Her Reputation." A fast moving story of a lovely southern beauty who loses "Her Reputation" on her wedding day has been screened in this production which is as unusual as it is entertaining.

A spectacular flood, a gorgeously scenic forest fire, some exciting scenes in the editorial and press rooms of a big newspaper are realistically depicted.

Reputations, like identities are easily mistaken. A spectacular cafe raid scene at the end of the picture juggles them promiscuously around and thru a clever boomerang, brings justice to the heroine of the story—a role cleverly acted by May McAvoy.

"Her Reputation" has achieved a cinematic fitness that causes the reviewer to heave a thankful sigh from his thorny bed of roses.

BRITISH LABOR DISAPPOINTED BY LEADER'S SPEECH

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The general good will extended to the labor government by the London press is not withdrawn as a result of Premier Macdonald's statement of policy in the house of commons yesterday, but his declaration does not escape adverse criticism.

The comment that the premier dealt in platitudes and said much that the leader of any party might have said, is fairly general. The editorials are mostly indulgent.

The Times commends the premier's program as comprehensive and well arranged, but remarks that problems are not to be solved by merely stating them.

The paper thinks the most important feature of his forecast is the committee to consider the national debt and related issues.

Regarding Mr. Macdonald's allusions to Great Britain's relations with France the Times thinks he probably owes more to the hitherto unrewarded efforts of his predecessors than he is likely to acknowledge.

The Daily Telegraph complains that "there was a touch of arrogance not altogether pleasing" in his reference to the foreign policy, but otherwise sees hardly anything in the statement which might not have figured in a program speech by Stanley Baldwin or Mr. Asquith.

Several of the parliamentary writers agree in saying that the rank and file of the laborites were profoundly disappointed by the speech. They declare that the greater part of the cheers which accompanied the declaration came from the conservatives while the premier's own followers sat glum and unenthused, not attempting to conceal their dissatisfaction.

The Daily Express correspondent asserts that at the end the "Clyde-aiders" and the left wing generally were in a state of sulky anger, and the Daily Mail's parliamentary writer asks: "Is this the writing on the wall? Will labor's first premier prove too broadminded and sensible to win the applause of his own followers?"

OFFICIALS THINK LETHAL GAS BEST FORM EXECUTION

CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—From the ancient days when condemned men were broken on the wheel or burned, to the time a man was executed by drifting instantly and painlessly into a sleep leading to death, the cycle in capital punishment had widened in mercy today as the record was closed in the case of the Chinese tong slayer whose life was taken by lethal gas at the state prison here recently.

The four official physicians, the chemists in charge of the execution and Warden Denver S. Dickerson were agreed that lethal gas had proved the swiftest and most humane form of death yet inflicted.

Gee Jon, the condemned man, sat strapped in a chair in the stone death chamber facing them, his features unheeded as he died. The physicians approached the boiler that he did not suffer, but that he lapsed into unconsciousness with the first breath of the gas. They hesitated to recommend lethal gas as a permanent form of execution only because of the danger attendant to others in the presence of large quantities of the gas. He pronounced it less harrowing and less painful than electrocution, hanging or shooting.

Gee Jon seemed to be dead six minutes after the gas was turned on, but it was more than two hours before the chamber was considered free of gas and the physicians could get in to certify the man's death. Some of the physicians thought death had ensued within a minute and the man's head merely had continued to move as a muscular reaction.

Two quarts of a hydrocyanic acid solution were used in the solution. The acid, brought from Los Angeles by motor because no railroad would transport the deadly consignment, was sent through the floor of the room in a fine liquid spray.

It was the first execution in Nevada since 1913 when a man was executed by a firing squad. Under the present state law, lethal gas is the only form of capital punishment.

AUCTION OFF OIL LAND, OKLAHOMA

PAWHERKA, Okla., Feb. 12.—The world struggle for oil will center in this small city in the Osage Indian country when on March 18 and 19, 100,250 acres of land will go under the hammer at a government oil lease auction.

Marital Troubles of The Willie Hoppes Will Be Threshed Out In Court

THE BILLIARD CHAMP WITH HIS FAMILY. NEW YORK—Peaceful family scenes such as the above exist no longer for the world's billiard champion. Charges of alleged indiscretions on the part of Mrs. Willie Hoppe, made by her husband in his application for divorce, will be heard by a trial jury at the request of Mrs. Hoppe early in February. The Hoppes have two children, both of them adept with the billiard cue.

Mrs. Hoppe blames her husband's relatives for the suit against her.

EAGLE POINT EAGLES

By A. C. Howlett

In my rounds last Saturday morning I met Mrs. J. Watterberg and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis who are located on the T. F. Nichols ranch on Rogue river, George W. Daley, Jr., Mrs. Frank Wilmoth who was visiting Mrs. J. P. Brown and Mrs. George Nichols, Jr., of Medford and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holbrook who is one of the numerous salesmen for the Husky Corner Motor Co. of Medford, and they were all as busy as a swarm of bees around a sugar barrel and kept Frank and Will Brown waiting on them. The same day I also met Mike Sidley, one of the prosperous farmers of Lake Creek, at Nichols & Ashpole's hardware store.

I also noticed that A. J. Florey has put down a neat walk connecting with the bridge he had placed across the slough that runs in front of his house between the house and the street, extending from the house to the sidewalk along the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles and family were also in town on business at the bank; also at the McPherson store. I also met Thomas F. Nichols, wife and two children, one of our farmers and capitalists, who have returned recently from an extended visit to Los Angeles, having recently returned to their beautiful home in our town, and Mrs. Nichols says that they had a lovely time and enjoyed the warm climate very much.

I also met F. J. Ayers for the first time since I returned from my trip to Washington, although I had seen him three times as he was driving along the street but always out of hearing distance, and he told me that the man he sold his ranch to is named Walter Engberg and that he is living on his farm and seems to be very well pleased with his location. Mr. Ayers has been feeling quite unwell, owing to his daughter, Mrs. William Perry says to me, because there was so much to do on the ranch, and he was not able to do the work, but now he feels much better and looks quite well.

Last Saturday morning in making my rounds I met Mrs. Thomas Petty and daughter. Mr. Petty has charge of the Butte Creek orchard (formerly known as the Corbin orchard) and is a brother to E. A. Petty who is now and has been in charge of the Vermont ranch.

Ray Davis who has charge of the T. F. Nichols farm, one of the best farms on Rogue river was here for dinner Saturday.

Our community was again visited by the messenger of death and summoned one of our bright pupils from our school, and from one of our pioneer families, Mrs. Dolly Jacks, nee Wilbur Nichols, her oldest son John Dolly Jacks, aged 12 years, one month and 12 days. An obituary notice has already appeared in the Mail Tribune of last Saturday. The funeral services were conducted at the graves in the Central Point cemetery on Monday noon; the religious services being conducted by Rev. Lawrence, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Medford, and the funeral was prepared at the Perl Funeral Home in Medford.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols, the mother, Dolly Jacks the daughter, Edna, and son request me to express their thanks to their friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during their hours of sickness and bereavement and for the beautiful display of flowers.

Among the business callers Saturday were William G. Pierce who owns a farm about three or four miles northeast of Eagle Point. He was selecting a quantity of garden seed at the McPherson store and intends to devote considerable time to gardening this season as considerable of his farm is under the Eagle Point canal. I also met Mrs. M. L. Pruitt, one of our farmers living a few miles west of here.

I also met Carlyle Natwick and Rubie Johnson, two of our well to do farmers and capitalists.

Frank Ledgerwood of Butte Falls, came in Saturday afternoon and called for a room and remained until Monday, going up to Butte Falls on the stage. Al Robinson was also a lodger and boarder here Saturday night.

D. R. Patrolek (this is the name I have been writing for some time) A. J. D. Patrolek) was here Saturday night and Sunday and wrote his name properly spelled.

Mr. and Mrs. Cordell S. Smith of Portland, who are engaged in selling pensils for a Chicago firm, and Miss Eileen Hay of Medford were also here for dinner.

KLAN LEADER IN HERRIN DEPARTS, QUIET RESTORED

HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 12.—(By Associated Press) That Williamson county would not be placed under martial law, was the statement issued by Major General Milton J. Foreman, in command of two regiments of Illinois National Guard troops stationed in the county to maintain law and order, following the disturbance of Friday night when Constable Caesar Cagle was killed and Deputy Sheriff John Layman was wounded.

"The sole aim of the military forces is to exert and vindicate the supremacy of the law which will be enforced to the fullest extent," reads the last sentence of a statement signed by General Foreman, appearing in placards posted in every city and along all roads in the county.

"Hereafter, carrying of firearms or other weapons by any but duly authorized officers of the law, is prohibited and troops are instructed to confiscate all firearms and weapons so carried and to hold the offenders for appropriate action."

S. Glenn Young, leader of the klan forces in Williamson county and acting chief of police of Herrin, until John Ford, the regular chief of police, resumed office today, after being "kidnaped," left last night for his home at Marion. Young said he would leave the last of the week for Washington in response to a letter from W. A. Anderson, Chicago chief of the general prohibition agents, directing him to finish the matter of the first group of injunctions against alleged bootleggers arrested in the liquor raids.

ALFALFA BOOSTER MID-WEST PASSES

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 12.—H. D. "Alfalfa" Watson, the man who introduced the growing of alfalfa on the vast semi-arid areas of Nebraska, died at his home here recently after a long illness. He was 77 years old. To Mr. Watson, who spent much time and money popularizing alfalfa among the Nebraska farmers after he had introduced it in the unirrigated regions of this state, has been given the credit for the present prosperity of these sections. The Nebraska legislature in 1915 gave him a vote of thanks for his work.

He came to Nebraska in 1888 from Greenfield, Mass. He studied alfalfa growth in California previously to settling near Kearney, Neb. His holdings at the time of his death were estimated at $600 acres about Kearney.

In Hard Lines

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by all druggists.

FALL OF BOOZE TO BE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS C. POINT

Dr. Chas. C. Jesse, who will deliver an address in the Christian church at Central Point on Thursday, February 14, at 7:30 p. m., on the subject "The Fall of Booze and the Reign of Law," is said to be a speaker of great ability, convincing logic and faultless diction—a modern prophet with a message that America needs.

Indeed his ability as a speaker is such as to have elicited words of commendation from Law R. Serrett, professor of public speaking, Northwestern University, who said: "I have heard Chas. C. Jesse speak several times, and each time he has impressed me with his splendid power. His manner is sincere and convincing; the subject matter of his address is concrete and gripping. Altogether he is a most effective speaker."

The meeting is free to the public. Everybody is invited.
