The Republican party is now guilty of giving a 16 year old girl a drink. Its state chairman is alleged to have been the host. The victim is said to have come from a long line of stalwart democrats.

BUT HIS MONEY TALKED (New York World) But we have seen Doheny, and when we saw him he was a meagre man, terrified and ineffective. He was trying to make a speech to the Democratic convention. This was in San Francisco in 1920. The speech was all written down on a sheet of paper, but Doheny was so horribly nervous that he could not even read what he had to say without stammering and stumbling.

'T WAS A PRETTY DAY (Hamilton, Ill. Times) Next Thursday has been set aside as a day for emphasizing the loss that happens through carelessness and unpreparedness. Governor Lowden has proclaimed it as a day of special observance. And you, beloved, might help out in the cause by seeing that the flues of your property are clean and in good repair; that the medicines are out of the reach of the baby, if you have one, and if you haven't it would be a good time to arrange to supply the deficiency for the worse lack to the state is a lack of babies.

3789 years ago today, gunpowder was discovered by the Chinese, and not a bank or a barbershop closed.

The Emperor of the Invisible Empire, who sold out boots and baggage, and masks and shirts for $148,000, is going to form the "Knights of the Flaming Sword," and will be the Imperial Dutchess Knife. It is peculiar how all those hallowed organizations that fatten on the sucker output, always select names that suggest fire. The wife of a most ardent and devout "Knight of the Fiery Cross," informed your corr. once, when the menace of Rome was being chased out of the Rhine provinces, by escorting a colored gentleman to a tree in the Siskiyou, that her "knights" just would not keep the woodbox full.

"Spring is lingering in the lap of Winter," but most of the side curtains are still up on the open faced vehicles. Ninety three million miles away, far from the most remote rural delivery route, it manages to keep itself so constantly before the public that every man, woman and child knows the sun by its first name and absolutely refuses to accept any substitute. —(Everybody's Magazine). And it seems to be doing fairly well considering the chance it has.

BEWARE OF FARCE, WILLIAM.

WILL WONDERS never cease? Yesterday McAdoo supporters from all over the country gathered in Chicago and fearlessly attacked the question of whether or not the recent oil disclosures had unfavorably effected Mr. McAdoo's availability as the democratic candidate.

Instead of reporting that Mr. Doheny's special counsel was not the man to lead a crusade against the practices which his former generous client so conspicuously represents, the delegates unanimously and solemnly agreed that the cause of Democracy will be lost unless Mr. McAdoo can be persuaded to sacrifice himself on the altar of public righteousness.

Marvelous! Marvelous! In the light of such a miracle one need not be surprised to find that Tammany Hall has endorsed Charley Murphy and that the Sacramento Johnson club is unanimously for Hiram. It may even develop that the republican state central committee of Massachusetts is favorably disposed toward President Coolidge!

Mr. McAdoo is a smart man. Unlike Penrod's new jackknife, he is not only bright but sharp. When it comes to playing the political game anyone who wishes to get ahead of William G. will have to get up early in the morning, and show no respect for the eight-hour day.

But even in the political game there is such a thing as being too smart. Every now and then super-cleverness defeats its own ends. This is particularly true when Uncle Sam's sense of humor is aroused. Nothing is more fatal in politics than to be laughed at. When a candidate ceases to be taken seriously his epitaph is engraved.

Perhaps this Chicago farce will, as the saying goes, "get by." Our capacity for bunkum is tremendous. But whether it does or not, the fact remains that in pulling this "clever stunt" Mr. McAdoo skated on ice that is dangerously thin.

A loud laugh from Al Smith or Underwood at the proper psychological moment might well wreck the McAdoo balloon, completely.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason THE ANCIENT MAN.

OLD GAFFER JINKS is eighty-three, and he wears carpet slippers and takes long drinks of boneset tea from cups and jugs and dippers. And everything the children do gives him a pain tantie; their racket keeps him in a stew, his nerves are in a panic. "When I was young," he says, "gadzoos, we didn't cut such capers; we read our Sanford-Merton books, and highly moral papers. When I was young the forward child filled parents' hearts with dudgeon, and while they still were feeling riled they plied a strap or bludgeon. When I was young the grandsire held the awe of all around him, and no discordant children yelled, to worry and confound him. When I was young the snowy hairs of aged men were respected, and kids upsetting stoves and chairs were with a club corrected. When I was young—" he keeps it up, as though in spite or malice, but pausing now and then to sup his bitters from a chalice. "When I was young!" Between his snores the ancient man keeps droning, and ranks himself with deadly bores who keep the young folks groaning. I too am old, my withers wrung, but never do I twitter about the days when I was young, the children to embitter.

Finally found health in Kellogg's Bran after suffering long with constipation

Mr. Patch writes that Kellogg's Bran "solved his problem." It has solved the problem of constipation—mild and chronic—for thousands of others. It has brought relief when all else has failed because Kellogg's Bran is ALL Bran. Nothing but ALL Bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read Mr. Patch's letter: Dear Sirs: I have been a constant sufferer from constipation and have wondered what was the cause of it. I have tried about all the cereals I could think of, and finally tried Kellogg's Bran. This solved my problem. I feel 100 per cent better and I owe it to your Bran. Thanking you very kindly for this great cereal, I am Very respectfully, Chester C. Patch, 761 Main St., Greenwood, Mass. For the permanent relief of constipation, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestines. It rids them of the dangerous poisons that lead to other diseases. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor—so different from ordinary, tasteless cereals. Sprinkle it over the cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Eat it in Kellogg's Bran muffins, griddle cakes and many other wonderful recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. It is sold by all grocers.

This is nothing but another name for chilblains. From the fact that there are other names for it you may deduce that we don't know so very much about it. I spoke succinctly in a previous article about the cause and prevention of chilblains. Now I grow prolix, for we're coming to the treatment.

Mild chilblain which itches or burns may be relieved by bathing with a pinch of alum in some warm water, drying and powdering profusely with plain talcum or boric acid powder. If the itching or burning is intense sop on with the fingers some calamin lotion containing one or two per cent of phenol. Such a lotion is made by mixing these ingredients: Zinc oxide.....4 drams Calamin.....4 drams Glycerin.....2 drams Laine water.....2 ounces Carbolic solution (5 per cent).....2 ounces Rose water.....Enough to fill an 8 ounce bottle. Five per cent carbolic solution is the standard phenol solution which may be legally sold by druggists without prescription.

When blisters form they should not be disturbed until it is necessary to be up and about; then each blister should be punctured with a sterile needle near its lower side and the serum gently pressed out upon a clean towel or cloth. The surface may then be freely powdered with talcum or boric powder or any combination of these.

In a number of cases of recurring chilblain success in prevention has been obtained by taking calcium lactate or calcium chloride, about 10 grains after each meal for a few weeks, to supply an adequate calcium ration to the blood, which is presumed to be deficient in its lime content, wherefore the vessels are too permeable. Either the lactate or the chloride of calcium should be taken very well diluted with water. This line of treatment has proved efficacious in relieving hay fever in some cases, that condition, too, being perhaps invited by a deficiency in calcium metabolism.

It is an old belief that the frequent rubbing of the feet with stimulating lotions or liniments such as camphor or witch hazel or bay rum or just ordinary bathing alcohol improves the local circulation and tends to prevent the chilblains. A proper method of considerable value is the X-ray treatment more particularly in the prolonged after effects of chilblain or frostbite.

LAUREL GRAY LOVE GOSIP

THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD by Laurel Gray

No matter what sort of a man a girl marries, she will always discover long before the honeymoon has waned that there are certain wifely duties entailed in the marriage game which can not be neglected nor sidestepped. If a girl marries a poor young man, she must be prepared to work and save and scrimp and go without. That's tough. If she marries a rich man she must be prepared to give and give and give. She must yield her own ideas and her prejudices and her preferences to his. Not that this is just not fair nor reasonable. But it is as the cards lie. And that's the tough. If a girl marries a genius—a brilliant fellow who thinks in poetic measures and who sees a ravishing picture in a common-place sunset, then she must play up to him and pretend enthusiasms which she does not feel and which do become a fruitful bore. If a girl marries a dull prosaic business man she must listen to his interminable stories of what is going on at the office or the shop and beam upon him when he tells her how much profits were grossed last week. Altogether, it is a tough life—this married life. But somehow all these drawbacks do not seem to impair the popularity of the enterprise and it is still doing business at the old stand!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Never Mind the Operation You Had Many a correspondent's chance to get some sympathy if not some advice from me goes glimmering in the first page or two when the correspondent insists on telling me (1) all about the operation, (2) how many doctors gave the patient up to die, and (3) what opinions the neighbors, Mrs. Sumsey and Mr. Ben Told, rendered at various critical turns. I never could get really interested in the study of history, but I do like to extend a helping hand or at least a sympathetic hearing whenever I can do so without first grappling with the neighbors, Mrs. Sumsey and Ben Told.

Let Us Keep the Home Fires Burning To the Editor: Who is this type of manhood, Living under our American flag, Who seeks to rob our soldiers To fill his money bag Can he be a loyal American? Can he be an American's son? I cannot think he belongs with us; He must be a deported Hun. Where are the loyal Americans? Friends of the boys who fell, Fighting for peace and freedom, Through that rain of shot and shell, We promised to give them help When they came home again. Must they now go empty-handed? Must they look for help in vain? The cruel war is over, Have we so soon forgotten them? The boys who fought so bravely Upon that bloody spot, Who gave their lives for freedom And fought for you and me, Have we so soon forgotten them? We meet each day on every hand, True and many types, of America's noble soldiers Who stood by the stars and stripes, Can we ignore those noble boys, Who came back with empty hand, Why we should rob them of their dues I cannot understand. Let us kindle up our fires once more, Let us keep them burning hot, Let us show that we are loyal, That our boys are not forgot, Let us keep the home fires burning, Though taxes do come high, Remember the boys who risked their lives, To fight for you and I, Cut off the rich man's salary, Cut out the high-priced shoes, Cut out silk Sox and stockings, And give the boys their dues, There are many high-priced luxuries That can easily take a fall, When our boys went in the army They freely gave their all, Let us keep the home fires burning While with love our hearts abound, And vote the soldier's bonus, When election day comes around, MRS. P. R. SMITH.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

STATE REPRESENTATIVES I have represented the people of Jackson County one term in the State legislature and feel that the legislative experience gained has fitted me for a larger and more practical service in the future. I therefore announce myself as a candidate for the State Representative subject to the republican primary. RALPH COWGILL, Adv. it.

SHERIFF I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election as one of the two representatives from Jackson County to the State Legislature, subject to the May primary. I feel that my previous service in the legislature enables me to better serve the people. JOHN H. GARKIN, Adv. it.

CORONER I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the republican ticket for coroner of Jackson County, subject to nomination at the coming primary for the office of coroner of Jackson county. My experience as a deputy sheriff of Jackson County, and my qualifications as a lawyer, have taught me that no peace officer can give satisfactory and efficient service to the public when his authority and responsibility are shared by another. The present unsatisfactory law enforcing conditions is largely attributable to divided authority between antagonistic peace officers, elements that are certain to produce conflict, inefficiency and useless expense. If elected I shall insist upon and expect to maintain the right to perform all the duties of Sheriff in this County and it follows that I will be uncompromisingly opposed to special officers except Federal Agents, with whom I pledge full and complete cooperation. I am in thorough accord with both the letter and spirit of the prohibition laws and pledge my active and untiring efforts in their enforcement. Adv. it. J. J. McCLAY, Adv. it.

I have for the past five years been a deputy county clerk and am familiar with every phase of the office, and if elected, I will give close attention to the duties of the office and feel confident that I will prompt and efficient support. DELILIA STEVENS, Medford R. F. D. 1, Adv. it.

COUNTY CLERK I am a candidate for the office of County Clerk, on the republican ticket, subject to the primary on May 18. I will give to the office that high degree of efficiency which the people are justified in demanding of a public officer. CARL Y. TRINGWALD, Medford, Adv. it.

JUDGE COUNTY COURT I hereby announce my candidacy for County Judge, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary, on the following platform: Reduce taxes through an economical and business-like administration of county affairs. Stop needless expenditures and waste and give proper support and attention to good roads, public schools and other vital and public necessities. Enforce the prohibition law efficiently and properly through proper agencies and eliminate special law enforcing organizations which are causing divided authority and needless expense. Give to all a fair, square deal and not be responsible to any political faction, clique or organization. WILLIAM ULRICH, Adv. it.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT I am a candidate at the May primaries for the republican nomination as County School Superintendent of Jackson County.
