

72 Years Old, But Actively on the Job

Railroad Man Attributes Good Health and Strength to TANLAC.

Seventy-two years of age, but still in possession of the priceless boon of good health and actively on the job with the Central Vermont Railroad, where he has worked for 49 years, is the remarkable record of H. H. Moore, 24 Mossemer St., Albany, Vt., who attributes his present health and strength to the use of TANLAC.

money on things that proved worthless for stomach trouble of the most obstinate kind, TANLAC made me feel like an entirely different man. For nearly two years I had been gradually getting worse, and my strength and vitality had got so low it was hard for me to attend to my duties. Indigestion, constipation, and nervousness made life miserable before I found TANLAC, but now my health is normal and I feel happy as I work. I shall always be grateful to TANLAC.

SARDINE CREEK TO BEGIN WORK FOR COUNTY FAIR

SARDINE CREEK, Feb. 29.—Our school was visited one day the past week, by Miss Cowdell the state club leader, Mrs. Carter, county superintendent, Miss Tsch, home demonstration agent and Mrs. Moss, county club leader. Miss Cowdell gave a very interesting talk on club work and exhibited some of the sewing done by the girls' sewing clubs of the various schools. The sewing club here expects to reorganize soon and begin work on an exhibit for the county fair next fall.

Sam Dusenberry of Klamath Falls came over Monday for a few days' visit with relatives here. He reports the mildest winter in Klamath Falls that has been known for many years.

Work has been resumed on the new railroad, giving employment to many men.

L. Wilcox of the Willow Springs district, was in this vicinity this week buying feeder hogs.

There was no school Monday at Alderbrook, as our teacher, Miss Ethel Bryan, was given a holiday, to allow her to visit another rural school of the county where an experienced teacher is employed. This is a practice in the schools where new beginners teach to assist them in their work.

Ralph and Mildred Dusenberry, George and May Briggs were Sunday picnickers at Glendale.

Gerald Horman is now employed on the new road being built to the Blossom mine.

John Smith and Grant Powell were business visitors in Medford recently when John made final proof on an adjoining homestead.

Mrs. P. L. Wait was called to Medford Saturday by the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henselman.

REESE CREEK RIPLETS

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hammel who have a home cannery, spent a few days at Corvallis attending the canning school. They report a pleasant, as well as a profitable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammel visited Wednesday evening at the Watkins home.

Frank Courtney of San Jose, Calif., is visiting his brother, Sam Courtney, the brothers have a contract of painting, both inside and out on the residence of Mr. Luke Ryan of Medford.

Mr. Shearin is working for the ditch company.

Earl Britton made a hurried trip to Medford Wednesday forenoon. He took home a niece who had been visiting them the week previous.

The Crandall and Davidson families are all able to be up from the attack of the measles. Reva and Lomis Davidson have been going to school all week.

Myrtle Winter, who is attending high school in Ashland, was out for the week-end, returning Monday morning. Margaret Strauser, who is employed in Medford, was also home for the week end.

Fred Pettygrove and family called at Mr. Vestal's Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Merritt and family, also Eli Stille, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Watkins Sunday.

This vicinity will no doubt use a lot of alfalfa, clover and other grass seeds this spring, judging from a conversation I overheard of one order, which was near four thousand lbs.

There will be Sunday school at Reese Creek Sunday morning. Subject of lesson: "The revival under Samuel." Golden text, "Prepare your hearts unto the Lord, and serve Him only."

TABLE ROCK TABLETS

Byron DeFord and family were recent visitors here with relatives. They have just returned from the northern part of the state where they spent the last year.

There is much farm and orchard work being done here at the present time and everyone seems to be quite busy.

There was born on Feb. 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Howsley a fine baby boy who has been christened Neville.

Wm. Vaughn and family have moved to a place west of Medford which Mr. Vaughn has leased for the next year.

A large crew of men are employed at the Modoc orchard doing the regular work of caring for the trees and making preparations for the annual pruning.

T. E. Gaines of Trail arrived Wednesday to move his cattle which have been fed in this district for the past month, to their range in the mountains.

Mr. Gaines is being urged by some of his friends to enter the race for county commissioner.

Mrs. H. W. Davison visited relatives in Portland last week.

Orville Hamilton who has been employed at the Modoc orchard for the past year is now located at Rogue River where he has charge of a large orchard.

H. E. Webber who has been trucking apples to Klamath Falls reports that the Green Springs road is now closed to truck traffic.

Very few from here attended the farmers conference at Medford as many of our farmers have lost faith in the O. A. C. cures which generally consist of a program calling for heavier production of farm products. Farmers all agree that their sole remedy would be in the lowering of the prices of what they must buy or the raising of prices on what they produce.

Rev. Maxfield who has been a regular attendant of our Sunday school this winter preached an excellent sermon after the close of Sunday school on Feb. 10. Which was followed by many persons "hitting the sawdust trail" there being ten or twelve at this meeting going to the front and accepting Christ as their guide in the future. This is a remarkable showing considering that this community has long been known as one of the hardest sections in which to get converts, and many a preacher after a hard two weeks drive has "shook the dust from his feet" and departed without obtaining a single conversion. Let the good work go on. The next program at the school house which will be Friday night will be in the form of a minstrel show.

At the stockholders meeting of the Southern Oregon Clay Products Co. held in Medford Feb. 18, Elmer Hull of Table Rock was elected as one of the directors of the company.

Clifford Collins returned last week from southern California where he spent the winter.

OXFORD WOMAN UNDERGRADS REBUKED FOR BAD TASTE

OXFORD.—Dowdiness or the other extremes, bad attempts at would-be naughtiness, are the curses of the average woman undergraduate at Oxford, writes "Sophy" in the new issue of Isis.

"It is entirely our fault," she says. "We have inherited it from our school days together with the puritan non-conformist complex which is always troubling us. If we have to dress, let us dress—not expensively or riotously. It is part of our education to learn to wear clothes, not to fling them on. It can be achieved like a good class in 'Gretch' and it is far more important unless we are to become educational machines."

POULTRY MARKET ABSORBING TOPIC IN EDEN PRECINCT

By Mary O. Carey.

EDEN PRECINCT, Feb. 29.—Poultry and poultry raising seems to be the all-absorbing topic all "up" and down the valley these days. Hardly a small ranch but what is planning to raise more or less of the little feathered tribe this spring. Several new yards of importance are coming into existence. Among the new ones is C. C. Bond of Talent. Mr. Bond is having a big poultry house put up on his place in the north end of town. He has bought several hundred year-old hens to start with and will buy several hundred eight weeks old pullets. He is making inquiries as to the place where he can secure these, and will buy where he can get them for the least cash. Mr. Bond has a sure market for his eggs in the California market. He knows just what he will do. This makes him safe in the way of marketing. If many more of us could find a sure way of knowing where we would market, we would put in more hens.

With the increasing production of eggs in the valley, comes the realization of a one-channel market. This has long been the farmers' need. The little lots dumped promiscuously here and there is the very thing that is keeping a good market out. It was made plain during the chamber of commerce meeting in Medford this last week that there was need for co-operation in the poultry business in this valley. I am informed that the grocers have promised their cooperation if the producers will come together, either by forming an association, or by selling in such a manner that all may be shipped at one time, or in car lots. Now this means the betterment of marketing for the poultry keepers. Otherwise the egg market will suffer from an over-production soon. There should be several meetings arranged and this matter talked over more thoroughly before the Poultry Producers association is forced to abandon the good work they have been doing in this valley.

Edward Williams of Talent returned from the big mills in the vicinity of Etna, Calif., Wednesday, where he went with a load of freight for some parties who were going over there.

We learn that Mr. and Mrs. Oden who recently sold out their home in North Talent, have left for California. The Odens did not expect to go until the close of school.

C. C. Bond of Talent bought one hundred and fifty fine young hens of Mrs. C. Carey last Wednesday. These with a few more will compose the first unit of his new poultry venture. Later he will buy a number of baby pullets.

We note a very tart reply to Coleman Creek's proxy column in last week's Daily Mail Tribune. It is best not to start anything if we do not want to gain displeasure. We all have our opinions on all subjects, but sometimes it is best not to express them. It is easy for a correspondent to get into "deep water."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dale of Powers, are visiting Mrs. Dale's sister, Mrs. Walter Allen in North Talent. They made a trip over to Rich last week but found their brother, Frank Rice, down with measles and could not go into the home with their small children, so had to come back.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shearer of Medford were visiting at the home of our correspondent in North Talent last Sunday. Mr. Shearer is well pleased with the prospect of a good crop of alfalfa on his little ranch in this vicinity.

Jim Harvey who has a fine little home place just under the ditch on the west edge of Phoenix, is intending to sell out and return to Myrtle Creek where he formerly lived.

The Monarch Seed and Feed Co. delivered a load of fine seed barley to J. M. Rader's place last Monday. Mr. Rader will sow certified seed and will undoubtedly get a fine crop as he has his field in fine shape.

Miss Bertha Hayman went back to Mountcrest last Sunday, and will remain until about the first of June.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Barnebury of East Eden were in Talent last Sunday visiting Mrs. Barnebury's mother, Mrs. T. J. Bell of the Bell House at that place.

C. Carey has a larger amount of plant beds this spring than usual. He has ordered several very fine new kinds of tomato seeds and other vegetable plant seed.
