A heavy frost is predicted for tonight by the weather bureau at San Francisco. However, it is said at the county agent's office that such a heavy frost would do no damage to the early fruit, and only a freeze would affect such fruit now, but that the trees will probably be so far developed by next Sunday that a heavy frost would do damage. The minimum temperature of this morning was 30 degrees. Fair weather is the prediction for Friday. 302*

Farsightedness proved costly to four people yesterday when they attempted to make away with a handsome hand-made quilt from a hotel in Grants Pass. G. B. Hoose and Abe Mayer, with two women, traveling in a Hudson machine, were stopped here yesterday afternoon by the police department after being advised of their act in Grants Pass. Parties from whom the quilt was taken asked that only a fine of $10 be imposed, sufficient to cover costs but when the men were unable to procure the money or securities an elaborate gold watch was left with Chief McNabb as good faith in their intentions to pay their debt. They left town shortly after appearing at the police office. Ashland Tidings.

CONFISCATED FOWLS OUT OF STORAGE

Ray C. Steel, federal game warden for the states of Washington and Oregon was in Medford Tuesday and Wednesday attending to the release of about two hundred ducks and geese from the cold storage plants, left there by Medford sportsmen, contrary to the game and storage laws of the country. This game was sent to the poor farm and other institutions in the valley to be used for the good of the inmates. It is the opinion of Warden Steel that no further action will be taken by the government on the case as this is the first time that anything of the kind has ever happened in this part of the country, and the law may not have been properly understood. The confiscating of the game will act as sufficient warning to any further offenders and the matter will probably be dropped. 302*

BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Even if a woman's features are regular, her form symmetrical, she cannot be physically attractive if she is suffering from weaknesses peculiar to her sex. Many women owe their ill health to carelessness, late hours, etc., until Nature calls a halt. Sometimes it is too late; but in most cases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just the womanly tonic and nerve required. This wonderful herbal remedy was discovered 50 years ago by Dr. Pierce. It is a pure, reconstructive tonic for women. Try it! 302*
