

REPORT MECCA CAPTURED BY MOSLEM REDS

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—It has been learned that a telegram was received in London from King Hussein of Hedjaz, dated at Mecca, Saturday night, describing the situation there as "very grave." No news has been received however, definitely indicating that the city has fallen.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—While the Moslem world is anxiously awaiting confirmation of the report that Mecca has been captured by the Wahabis—fanatical Mohammedan puritan reformers, who held the holy city for a few years at the beginning of the nineteenth century—what little news is reaching the outside world by way of rumor, suggests that the report is likely to be true.

King Hussein, who during the Great War made Mecca the capital of his new kingdom of the Hedjaz, is reported by the Daily Chronicle's Cairo correspondent to be retreating with his scanty forces of Hashemites to Jeddah, the port of Mecca. The belief is held, according to the correspondent's dispatches, that Hussein's allies have failed in their attempt to recapture Taif, which the Wahabis seized recently. Capture of Taif is of importance to Mecca because it is from there that the capital receives most of its food-stuffs. The tribes between Mecca and Taif are reported to have refused to help Hussein whose safety, according to current reports, is in danger.

The Chronicle's correspondent says that the rumors of the fall of Mecca created a sensation in Cairo and is causing a stir throughout Islam.

Ribbed Fabrics Show Even On Millinery

Ribbed weaves have been indicated for several seasons, and now show signs of maintaining a place among the fabrics classed as fancies. In promoting rib weaves a French milliner has adopted bengaline and given them important presentation in her fall and winter collection of hats for general wear. American milliners, and manufacturers of skirts and dresses also are advertising ribbed weaves with fair success. Fine ribs are appropriate for dresses, while the heavier ribs, classed as ottomans, meet with the approval of manufacturers looking for an appropriate novelty with which to make dressy wraps and coats.

Large Hats Make Dent in Modes

Large hats, especially in felt with velvet trimming, are making quite an impression on the mode, declares the Dry Goods Economist. Heretofore are progressing rather slowly, although recent importations that will be widely copied, include the tam type. Off-the-face models are featured in practically all lines to the extent that they are almost certain to go over with success. They offer an agreeable change from the small rolled brim model.

In the small hats there is a tendency to turn the narrow brim up sharply at back and turn it down in front over the eyes. In felt models with a felt bow the effect is tailored and smart. This hat is a good choice for wear with coats of generous fur collars, as the short back suits the collar.

Skirts Cut Circular. Golf and other sports skirts are expected to be in demand for fall, and short fur coats are likely to require tailored cloth skirts that can be worn with blouses of a thinner, more comfortable fabric than cloth would be. The tendency to circular cuts in skirts is marked. The flare is moderate and seams enable the skirt to be fitted at the top without fullness.—Dry Goods Economist.

Bible Thought for Today

HOW TO TRUST.—Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths.—Prov. 3: 5, 6.

DON'T BUST THE TRUSTS OR YOU'LL BUST THE WORKER

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Frank T. Johns of Portland, Ore., socialist-labor candidate for president in speeches delivered here yesterday and last night said the party he represented was opposed to any trust-busting policy, because "if you smash the trusts today the working class would starve to death." "Does Senator LaFollette want us to go back to the days of making shoes by hand?" he asked. "Keep the trusts with their efficiency, but eliminate private profit." An industrial organization of delegates from the various industries of the country which would administer the nation's government at the same time that it carried on the business of production and distribution was his expressed idea of the socialist-labor party objective. "By the constitutional rights of the ballot the political machine could be secured and the governmental control changed from congress to industrial delegates," the candidate explained.
