NAVAJO INDIANS MAY DECLARE WAR, SETTLERS PREPARE FAVOR ELIMINATION

ALBUOUEROUE, N. M. Feb. 11. Veiled from the pale of modern civil-igation by the isolation of their own baunts in New Mexico's hills, news of a war council by Navajo Indians in reprised for the death of a tribesman was awaited beyond the borders of the reservation today, the reservation today.

Attempts to communicate with the trading post nearest the scene of the Indians' camp where yesterday 100 braves refused to yield the body of the slain Navajo to the county jury were futile last night. The Indian was shot in a hand-to-hand strungle with a constable, who sought to ar-

with a constable, who sought to ar-rest him for moving a fonce from a homestcader's tract, it was reported. The scene of the trouble is near Cuba, N. M., about 75 miles from albuquerque. Homestcaders were re-ported arming in that section yester-day, in preparation for possible even-troublies.

ton, and associated with cats and kit-tens in a polite manner. The belligerent mature of both species when to-gether was entirely absent, from their action, not a cut getting its back up a skit. The first part was mild drama, and the second half pure nonsense.

The audience liked their stuff best. Hammer and Hammer, contertion-ists, opened the bill, with some difficult twisting, and were followed by Amedio on an accordion, who did well.

HOOD RIVER H. S. BEATS

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Feb. 11.—In a triangular debate with Bend and The Dalles high schools today the Hood River affirmative team, Clifton Emmel and Lois Jean Sinclair, defeated the Bend negative, Mary Bennett, and the Bend negative, any beautiful decision here. The Hood River negative, Roger Wooyard and Harriett Fuller, lost at The Dalles by two to one vote of the judges. The debaters discussed united ownership and control of coal mines. trol of coal mines.

Wood's Property Not Wood, But Lumber Y'd

In an article in Tuesday's paper concerning the city planning commis-sion Wallace Woods' property was re-ferred to as a wood yard. Mr. Woods desires the Mall Tribune to state that desires the Mail Tribine to state that he owns a lumber yard and not a wood-yard—this distinction forming the basis of the entire controversy, as to the proposed removal of the pro-

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Challengers for the heavyweight boxing crown now worn by Jack Dempsey should fight among themselves for an opportunity at the title in the opinion of the New York state boxing commission.

Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, appeared before the commission yesterday seeking information regarding the filling of a challenge and was told the commission would not regard preference in the matter, but favored an elimination contest.
