

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE MEDFORD PRINTING CO.

The Medford Sunday Morning Sun is furnished subscribers desiring the seven-day daily newspaper.

Office: Mail Tribune Building, 25-27-29 North Fir street. Phone 75.

A consolidation of the Democratic Times, the Medford Mail, the Medford Tribune, the Southern Oregonian, the Ashland Tribune.

ROBERT W. RUIH, Editor, S. SUMPTER SMITH, Manager.

By Mail—In Advance: Daily, with Sunday Sun, year, $7.50; Daily, with Sunday Sun, month, $1.25; Daily, without Sunday Sun, year, $6.00; Daily, without Sunday Sun, month, $1.00; Weekly Mail Tribune, one year, $2.00; Sunday Sun, one year, $2.00.

BY CARRIER—In Medford, Ashland, Jacksonville, Central Point, Phoenix, Talent and on Highways: Daily, with Sunday Sun, month, $1.75; Daily, without Sunday Sun, month, $1.25; Daily, with Sunday Sun, one year, $20.00; Daily, without Sunday Sun, one year, $15.00. All terms by carrier, cash in advance.

Entered as second-class matter at Medford, Oregon, under act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also to the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Ye Smudge Pot

Between Thomas A. Edison, who thinks nobody works enough, and John D. Rockefeller who thinks everybody spends too much, the country will never amount to anything. Some think Mr. Rockefeller talks too much, and Mr. Edison does not spend enough.

LOST—Pure white house cat; reward. Mark Howell, 1313 Jackson St.—(Oregon City Enterprise). The appropriately named owner of "Silent Cal's" cat.

This is the last week of the legislature. We made a successful batch of matters that would hustle the mentality of a grade school boy with his tonsils intact. 40 papers will fearlessly declare: "While the legislature apparently accomplished nothing, they pioneered in constructive legislation that will rebound to their glory in the coming years." Another 40 will allege: "The legislature acquitted itself." The sad part of this verdict is that their constituents have nothing at all to do with it.

A KARELESS KNIGHT ENTAILED (Albany Democrat) FOUND—On street, one K. K. K. membership card or receipt or something, paid up, stamped, countersigned by local insignia. Owner can have same by calling on the Sunday Democrat, Friday evening without a mask on and identifying his property.

One of these days a sensational preacher, who is occupying a pulpit with a monkey to disprove the theory of evolution, will have a congregation able to do its own comparing.

WANTED—Watching night or day by competent middle aged man. A-1 reference. Write, Watch, or Herald. —(Klamath Falls Herald.) What is he up to?

There is something delightfully quaint about the charge of the Portland Spectator, that our bigadier brindle writes editorials for the Klan paper. To keep the rank ranks straight, while fearlessly yanking a fountain pen from its scabbard, is no mean trick, or, militarily speaking, no mean maneuver on the left flank. It is as heroic as when the bigadier "swore off" cigarettes, to run for governor, and, as thrilling as when en route to Portland a couple of years ago he "was shot in the windshield."

"A live hits me just right," said our fire-wire and otherwise electrical mayor. It looks like somebody put a bug. (44) in the Mayor's ear.

BUT NOT THE WIDEST (Coos Bay Times) The 6th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stillwell of Bandon was observed recently. It is believed that they are the longest wedded pair in the state.

There is something to be said for the Turks, in chasing out the Greek patriarchs. The Greek patriarchs wear long whiskers.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kueck of Willow Creek were in Yreka Monday and declare that grass is growing on the cattle's backs out in their section, nice green grass.—(Yreka Journal.) Too much extract of barbwire in the home brew.

Mr. Roy Brown, who moved last week, is sick. Mr. Brown is old enough to know that the time to be sick is before moving.

3 new Packards on the Main Stem. The owners won a hard battle with Jackson Frost, blight, and the woolen apish.

"Man's Inhumanity to Man," will be exemplified one tomorrow night. Wrestlers, like osteopaths, never relent until something pops or busts.

"Now that my stomach trouble has all disappeared since taking a course of May's Wonderful Remedy I would ever consider getting married again." —(Fay, Med. Ad.) Counsel would like to ask the witness if he is sure he is cured.

A Massachusetts congressman has written a spring poem about Mr. Coolidge. This is what the President gets for being too busy to watch the eclipse of the sun, and advising campus kids to wear galluses.

The Rogue River Valley British set will have nothing to do with the Rogue River Valley Russians. The Russian set is composed of those after the U. S. marshalship, if Mr. LaFolius made the grade.

HERE AND THERE.

FIRST impressions are supremely important. Nine out of ten visitors to Medford secure their first impressions of the city from the Pacific Highway. The better the appearance of this street, the better the impression and the better for Medford. The movement inaugurated therefore by the Craters club to place attractive arches over the entrances to the city, and clean up that portion of the Pacific Highway which extends through the city as Riverside Avenue, should receive the hearty support of the City Council and the people of Medford. Neither first impressions nor appearances are everything. But in the strenuous game of competitive business, they are more than half the battle.

FLOYD COLLINS is dead. After life's fitful fever he sleeps well—nothing can touch him further. To risk more human lives, now that rescue is impossible merely to conform to the conventional idea of an orthodox burial, would seem foolhardy in the extreme. To retain this natural tomb as Collin's final resting place would seem not only the humane course, but eminently fitting.

IF THE Legislature maintains its present course of referring all controversial issues to a vote of the people, the ballot at the next election will be longer than a Mohammedan's prayer. The members of the Legislature are sent to Salem to decide issues, not multiply them. If their decisions are not satisfactory to their constituents, the people have a remedy in the initiative and referendum. This practice of passing the buck whenever public opinion seems divided, will eventually make the Legislature of no more value in the body politic, than a fifth wheel to a wagon. The members of the Legislature have the time and the equipment to obtain the necessary information on all important issues and thus lay the foundation for wise decisions. They should make their decisions,—each individual according to his lights—and thus advance the cause of representative government, instead of destroying it.

QUILL POINTS

- Naturally a sock will stay put if you roll it down to the shoe top. A woman loves most when in trouble; a man only when well pleased with himself. The grand manner is charming in a book, but it's a little annoying behind a counter. Correct greeting when meeting a lady friend after a separation of years: "How is the old pain?" At any rate all men are born equal so far as the per capita indebtedness is concerned. You may call him a typical American if he enjoys telling what he eats for breakfast. Why not place the license number on the front bumper so it will be stamped on the pedestrian as evidence? Those who tell us how to run our business may not be efficiency experts. They may be neighbors. Hint to reactionaries: A volcano wouldn't shake things up if it could get to the top without it.

TICKETS ON SALE THURSDAY FOR THE ASHLAND SERIES

When two good teams meet there is bound to be some action. When two bitter rivals like Medford HI and Ashland HI clash it is a foregone conclusion that a first class scrap will ensue.

Of the two week-end games, the first is to be played on the Ashland Army floor, Friday night and the second at the local Army on Saturday. The Medford girls will play the Ashland girls for a preliminary both nights and as is usually the case, a rough and hot game is in prospect.

With their regular first team lineup on the floor for the first time this year, Medford HI is going to have to play the best they have shown this year if they expect to hang it over the Ashland quintet. Although back on the first string again, Allen is not up to the form he displayed before taken sick. Chastain will probably bear the brunt of the offense for Medford and there is no better man on a high school team in the state to do it.

Marske being over with the attack of mumps, Ashland will also have their best team on the floor. In spite of the fact that Salem administered two beatings to them recently, Ashland is far from being a poor team. Many predict them to clean up the series of four games with Medford but that remains to be done. Should each team win two games a deciding contest will probably be played on a neutral floor to settle the southern Oregon championship which now rests between Medford and Ashland.

A large delegation of local rooters and backers of the team is expected to attend the game on Friday night and plans for a record crowd are being made for the contest at the Medford Armory on Saturday. Reserved seats for both games will go on sale at 1 p. m. Thursday noon.

THE USUAL WAY.

THE YOUNG man flew on hasty feet, to reach his rented cottage wherein his wife, serene and sweet, was cooking wholesome pottage. "I have good news," she heard him shriek, "the boss has looked me over, he raised my pay ten bones a week, and now we are in clover. The boss has eyes for sterling worth, and so he boosts my wages; as I am full of harmless mirth, excuse my joining rages. And, now my salary is fat, we'll buy ourselves a Lizzie; I'll get myself a stovepipe hat, and raiment glad and dizzly. I am no more a hard luck dub, for paltry wages grabbin'; I'll have to join the country club, and buy a mountain cabin. I know a hundred things we need, for which we've long been yearning, so don't your shopping rags with speed the wealth we must be burning." "Oh, Charles Adolphus," cries the wife, "your news has made me happy; it takes the shadow from my life and makes it gay and snappy. Now we can buy some Persian rugs, and paintings by old masters, and statuettes and art-ware jugs, and gems and myriad plasters." The grandire, in falsetto whine, speaks up like any miser: "To put the money down in brine, me-thinks would be much wiser." "What bores these dippy gray-beards are!" the young folks cry together; let's go and choose a nifty car, with seats of Spanish leather.

Abe Martin

The worst thing that's hit the farmer is basketball. Here's two things we ought to know even if we can't read—that we'll feel prosperity when it gets here an' that there's a lively demand for fancy hosiery.

Poems That Live

The Chambered Nautilus. This is the ship of pearl, which, poets feign, Sails the unshaded main.— The venturous bark that flings On the sweet summer wind its purple wings In gulfs enchanted, when the Siren sings, And coral reefs lie bare, Where the cold sea-haunts rise to sun their streaming hair.

Its webs of living gauze no more unfurl; Wrecked is the ship of pearl! And every chambered cell, Where its dim dreaming life was wont to dwell, As the frail tenant shaped his growing shell, Before these leaves revealed.— Its iris eadied rent, its sunless crypt unsealed!

Year after year behold the silent toll That spreads its lustrous coil; Still, as the spiral grows, He left the past year's dwelling for the new, Steals with soft step its shining archway through its idle door, Stretched in his last found home, and knew the old no more.

Thanks by the heavenly message brought by thee, Child of the wandering sea, Cast from her lap, forlorn! From thy dead lips a clearer note is born Than ever Triton blew from wreathed horn! While on mine ear it rings, Through the deep caves of thought I hear a voice that sings:— Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul, As the swift seasons roll! Leave thy low-vaulted past! Let each new temple, nobler than the last, Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast, Leth thou at length art free, Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea! —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

COMMUNICATIONS

Wants to Be Shown. To the editor: In Revelations chapter 22, verses 13 and 19, "If any man shall add to or take away, God shall take away his part out of the Book of Life," and so on. There has been several understandings in the history of the world as to the difference in genuineness of Christ as told by Matthew and Luke. Luke says Joseph was the son of Hell. He does not say, son-in-law. If Mary had been the daughter of Hell, Luke would have said so. The simple fact is there is too many people prone to make a Bible of their own. I only want to know where I will find Mary is the daughter of Hell and Joseph the son-in-law. Name the book, chapter, and verse and I will be satisfied. The answers given by the Medford and Butte Falls correspondents do not seem reasonable to the Central Point answer given by Mrs. Austin, as they are Bible students and all disagree. It is evident to me they have run up against a problem they can't answer! I do not care for a great amount of litag. Just show me where to find it is all I ask. SIMPSON WILSON, Central Point, Ore.

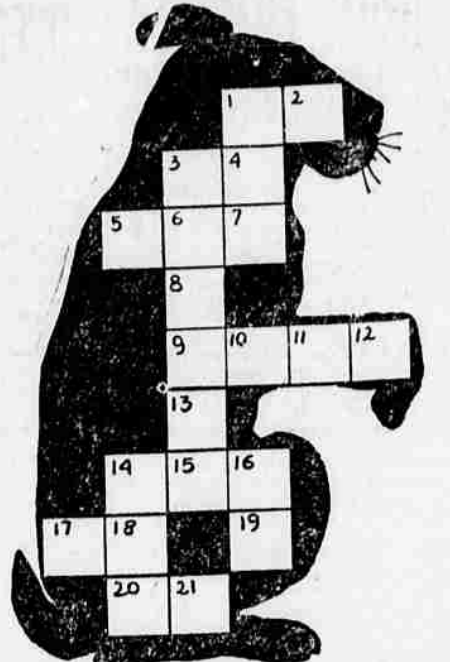

P. S. My dear friends I think I would be safe in saying that your contention is not to be found inside the lids of the Bible. S. W.

Favors Bible Reading. To the Editor: I have been reading with much interest the controversy over the genuineness of Christ, as given by Luke and Matthew. Kindly allow me a little space in your paper. Now I am a Christian man, I believe in a reward after death, although the Bible tells us there is none. But that makes no difference. Now, let us get down to solid facts; first, I must say there is many good things in the Bible and there is many bad things; it was written by different people at different times, hence many mistakes and contradictions. Some of them on purpose, and some accidental. The Bible is not the word of God, but the word of men who talked about God. That is why there is so many mistakes and so many errors. If Luke and Matthew told different stories about the genuineness of Christ, what of it. It was their opinion and why so much fuss? We are not here to worship the Bible, we are here to worship our Creator. Our Oregon legislature is doing the only good thing, if it is made a law to teach the Bible in our public schools, all the good things will be picked out of the Bible, and put in

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE STORY

BOW-WOW-WOW WHOSE DOG ART THOU?

Whose little 3-6-8-9-13-15 do you think this is? He can sit up and 14-15-16. He does not belong to 17-18! Is he your dog? What a 9-10-11-12 fellow he is. Throw a stick for him, 14-18-20 he will 16-19 and fetch it! See, he wants you to 3-4 it again! I can tell 1-2 the look in his eyes! 1-4-7, 5-6-7, he says 20-21 all who speak to him.

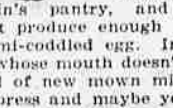

Answer to Last Puzzle: (1-4-7-13-20) house, (6-9-15-21-28) needs, (27-28) is, (10-17-24-25) cone, (21-22-23-24) number, (29-30) Ed, (11-12-13-14-15-16) nested, (11-19-25) not, (3-4-5-6) lawn, (25-26) to, (16-22) do, (1-2) he, (7-8-9) use, (25-26) to, (17-18) of, (2-5-8-14) east.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D. Noted Physician and Author

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady in a stamped, self-addressed envelope if enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper.

Acid or No Acid. mush had better not lay in an abnormal supply of onions, for while onions are powerful they cannot wake the dead. If space were available here it would be in order to tell many more physiological truths about the gastric juice, but before we go on let us understand clearly that the term gastric is just a highfalutin way of saying stomach. People who imagine it refers to the air they swallow or the gas they raise or don't, need not feel embarrassed if they have misinterpreted the meaning of the word; it is Greek to us all. Add the suffix itis (crossword hounds please overlook) and you have gastritis, stomach inflammation, which has the accent on the first i, not on the gas nor on the treat. The muriatic (hydrochloric) acid, HCl, of the gastric juice is formed from the chloride of the blood, chief of which is sodium chloride, common salt. If an individual is kept for a few weeks on a salt free diet the gastric juice no longer contains hydrochloric acid. But don't discard salt; you haven't heard the half of it yet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Touch of Neuritis. What food should I take— I am troubled at times with a touch of neuritis in my arms. (S. M.) Answer—What food are you offered? From your letter, which has some initials but not your name signed, one would suspect you had writer's cramp. It is not the way of neuritis to trouble the patient "at times" or as a "touch." So far as I know, diet has nothing to do with neuritis. Apples. To settle a be . . . (Miss D. M. A.) Answer—No, apples are not fattening. Oily Skin. Is there any way to correct excessive oiliness of the nose and cheeks? Could a dermatologist do anything? (B. W. C.) Answer—Try dabbling on the skin at night some "white lotion"—a dram of zinc sulphate and a dram of diluted potassium permanganate in four ounces of rose water. In some cases of seborrhea (excessive oil secretion of skin) X-ray treatments are beneficial. Mineral Oil. Kindly inform me if the purified mineral or paraffin oils are fattening, as I am overweight and take such an oil daily for intestinal stasis. (Mrs. L. W.) Answer—No, mineral oil has no food value.

An interesting quality about gastric juice is its resistance to putrefaction. A sample of this fluid, with its 0.2 to 0.5 per cent of hydrochloric acid, will keep perfectly for months, and that shows it has marked antiseptic power. Antiseptic, we must remember, means simply the prevention of growth or multiplication of germs. The antiseptic action of the gastric juice, after it leaves the stomach as chyme (gastric juice mixed with food) and enters the intestine, opposes putrefaction there. This is the reason why people with excessive intestinal putrefaction or fermentation do well upon green or raw onions, which tend to stimulate the secretion of a greater amount of gastric juice and a juice of higher acid content. But my poor friend whose stomach declines to "water" even for fried corn meal was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Hell." These are the words, verbatim, Mr. Saylor says that Luke did not intend that Joseph's name should be included in the genealogy. I do not know what Luke intended, I only know he put it there. I do not know what Matthew intended. I only know he put Joseph's name there and put Jacob as his father. As far as Mary (Christ's mother) is concerned, she also might be a descendant of David. I am not contesting that part. Mr. Saylor is fine on the camouflage, and certainly has read a great deal other books than the Bible.

More Gospel Discussion. To the Editor: I feel very grateful to Mr. B. A. Saylor of Medford for his very intelligent communication to The Tribune in a reply to my letter of recent date, touching on the genealogy of Christ as told by Matt. and Luke. I feel very thankful to The Tribune for printing these communications. I feel that I have gained information equal to a six months' term of school. The Tribune evidently penetrates every hole and corner of our globe, judging from the personal letters I receive, some of them lauding me to the sky, some if them putting me on the road to "sheel." Now for Mr. Saylor, he agrees with me on the many Christs that have made their appearance on earth first and last. A lady wrote me to go out and air myself. I intended to take her advice, but Mr. Saylor came to my rescue. We have the question simmered down to Joseph in Luke's genealogy, it stands. Joseph's Father? The Bible says, He, And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as

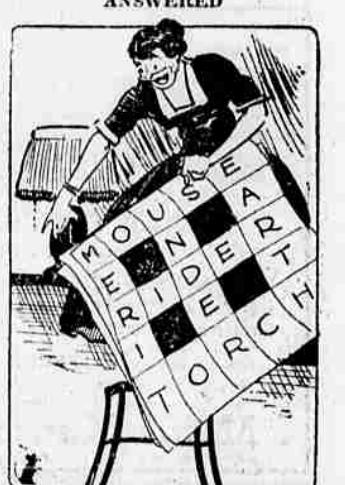

JUNIOR CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE. The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

- Running across. Word 1. In the picture. Word 4. Your first grade reading book. Word 5. A slanting cover to keep off the sun. Running down. Word 2. A weapon used by the Indians. Word 3. A large body of water.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

Who's Who

Dean Roscoe Pound The east loses and the west gains a noted educator in the selection of Dean Roscoe Pound as president of the University of Wisconsin. He will assume his new duties at the beginning of the next school year. Dean Pound will leave Harvard, where he has been at the head of the law school for many years. Dean Roscoe Pound has long been recognized as one of the leading liberals of the country as well as one of its foremost educators in the field of jurisprudence. He has been a professor at Harvard since 1910 and Dean of the Law School since 1916.

Dean Pound was born in Lincoln, Neb., fifty-four years ago, and educated at the state university. Recently he has been mentioned as a possibility for attorney general and for one of the judges of the World Court. He opposed former Attorney General Palmer's "Red" prosecutions and has pleaded for amnesty for political prisoners. He was one of the architects of the Boston Trade College and has been chairman of the American Bar association's educational committee.

Famous Austrian Surgeon Restored by Gland Treatment

Dr. Lorenz, famous Austrian surgeon, according to a recent press dispatch, has submitted himself to glandular treatment. This treatment, according to the doctor's own statement, has restored him to the health and vigor of his earlier days, and he is highly enthusiastic about this new branch of medical science. Thousands of men and women who are lacking in health and energy, are taking advantage of science's most recent discovery and are using Glandogen, a highly concentrated glandular tonic, in convenient tablet form, prepared from the glands of healthy young animals. Glandogen has had remarkable success in the treatment of run-down, nervous individuals. Glandogen is obtainable at Heath's Drug Store and Haskins Drug Store. Adv.

Quick Starting SHELL GASOLINE. DYEING HATTERS CLEANERS PLEATERS. Phone 244 23 N. Fir St.

YOU NEED INSURANCE CALL ON US First Insurance Agency A. L. HILL, Manager 88 North Central Medford, Ore. Phone 188