

BAND CONCERTS AT CRATERIAN TO BE CONTINUED

The concert given by the band next Sunday afternoon and on Sunday thereafter.

That popular music organization which Medford has long been so proud added more laurels by its concert yesterday and an appreciation of its general merit the theater will no doubt be filled to capacity next Sunday afternoon, as only one price, and that the regular price, is charged for the usual Sunday film program and the concert of half an hour.

While all the numbers played yesterday won much applause, and the concert of last night was made by the last number on the concert program, a popular one, entitled "Dear One," in which the great Wurlitzer organ, presided over by Miss Grace Brown, joined in with the band, making a wonderful combination of harmony. This selection alone was well worth more than the price of admission to the entire matinee.

The band program was a mixture of light, popular and classical numbers. The moving picture program started first, and immediately after the comedy the curtain was lowered and Miss Brown played a very pleasing organ selection at the conclusion of which the curtain again went up, disclosing a charming sight with the band in their showy D. O. K. uniforms seated on stage and brilliant light and in a forest setting. The band then began its concert, after which the feature film was shown.

The band program was as follows: "March 'Ambassado'".....Tobani "Russian Fantasia".....Tobani Two numbers from Peer Gynt Suite (a) "Morning" (b) "Ase's Death".....Fisher Richardson Burile

DEFENDANT DENIES CHARGES IN SUIT

In his answer to a suit for $5000 damages filed by George Brown of Brownsboro, for alleged injuries received in an auto accident at the foot of Cingende hill, on the Crater Lake highway, last March, W. G. Nicholson asserts that Brown was "negligent and careless and failed to look," denies that the allegations of Brown that he was exceeding the speed limit, that his brakes were out of order, and that his horn was not audible. Nicholson avers that the engine of the Ford truck was running, and drowned out the sound of his horn.

LOCAL AGRICULTURAL PAMPHLET PRAISED BY CALIFORNIA EXPERTS

The printed report of the agricultural program for Jackson county published last summer following the county agricultural conference held here last spring is attracting wide attention throughout the agricultural and fruit districts of the nation.

Frank T. Swift, president of the California Pear Growers association is the latest to commend the pamphlet, and in writing to County Agent C. C. Case's office asking for 2000 copies to be distributed among the members of his association, opens his letter by saying:

"I think it is the best example of work while constructive work I have seen anywhere." In a letter he states that he is advocating a work to be done in California along similar lines.
