

COMMANDMENTS ARE REVISED FOR MODERN SOCIETY

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A "positive" version of the Ten Commandments in which "Thou shalt" is substituted for "Thou shalt not," has been written by the Rev. Dr. Norman Guthrie, Episcopal minister. His church, St. Marks-in-the-Bowrie, has been the scene of ritual dancing by barefoot girls, of which Bishop Manning disapproved.

Dr. Guthrie's decalogue is 3000 words long. It is designed, he says, to meet the requirements of modern scientific and spiritual development.

"Thou shalt honor, worship and realize thy union with the one Immanent and Transcendent God that unifies the universe," says Dr. Guthrie's code.

"Thou shalt reverently recognize and acknowledge that One in all forms, however backward and repugnant they may be to thee, if those forms are to others by sincerely acceptable and the only symbols intellectually and emotionally effective for thy fellow men."

Subscribers to this decalogue would not only be permitted to worship graven images if they desired, but they also would be enjoined from interfering with the worship of such idols by others.

Dr. Guthrie's fourth commandment reads:

"Thou shalt make thy conduct keep pace with and fully affirm the most recent ascertained knowledge."

And his seventh commandment reads:

"Thou shalt regard the sacredness of all ways whereby God provideth for the perfecting of human individuals. . . . Thou shalt strive to make such a relation by thyself and thy mate indissoluble and unique, and to establish for thy fellows the ideal, not by vain, cruel and hypocritical prohibitions, defamations and punitive sanctions to secular and ecclesiastical laws, but by the sincere, passionate praise of love, of beauty, of harmony—which alone can effect the approach to the perfection of breed and type, glorifying God for having made male and female."

SIMS SCORES NAVY

Battleship Obsolete. When the examination turned to Brigadier-General Mitchell's charges that army and navy officers are "muzzled," Admiral Sims said he recently asked a young naval officer why he did not testify before the committee and quoted this officer as replying: "I've got a wife and three children, and I am afraid if the navy knew what I think I would get turned down by the first selection board."

"Do you think General Mitchell was right in bringing up the aircraft defense issue?" Admiral Sims was asked. "Notwithstanding that Mitchell may be a little over-enthusiastic about aviation," he replied, "I think he has done an enormous benefit for the defense of the country in testifying as he has."

Asked what he considered "most important for the navy," Admiral Sims replied:

"Airplanes and submarines, provided they are supplemented with surface craft."

"Would you have battleships in the navy?" asked Representative Perkins, republican, New Jersey.

"No."

"Then you consider the battleship obsolete?"

"Yes."

"What has replaced it?"

"The aircraft carrier."

"Then you do not agree with the navy general board that the battleship is most important to the fleet?"

"No, sir."

"Can a battleship control the sea today?"

"No, against a fleet with airplane carriers."

STATE PRESENTED WITH PARK BY PHONE COMPANY

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 27.—Contracts for hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of road work were let today by the state highway commission.

The offer of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company of a park of 3.6 acres of land near Viento in Hood River county was accepted by the commissioners.

Chairman William Duly announced to a Linin county delegation that the commission is still committed to the policy of naming no new state highways, holding this classification down to roads that have been named state highways by the legislature or designated so by former commissioners.

The bidding on road and bridge work was livelier than for many months. There were from six to fourteen bids received on each project advertised.

Commissioner H. R. Van Duzer explained that the presentation of the park by the telephone company was to make up in part for the company's having brought down a large number of fine old trees along the highway near Yeon's cut-off in Hood River county. The commission had planned to make a state park where the phone employees cut down the trees in November, 1923.

At first the highway commission was going to sue for damages, but when the company offered to buy a tract of land suitable for park purposes somewhere along the Columbia river highway, it was decided to forego legal proceedings and allow the corporation to work out its plan.

The new park, which was officially named "Viento Park" is eight miles from Hood River and four miles from Mitchell Point.

ACID THROWING TRAGEDY AVERTED, BOTH RECOVERING

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 27.—When Darby Day, wealthy Chicago insurance man arrives here from the east today he will find his son, Darby Day, Jr., well on the road to recovery from effects of an acid attack last Monday.

According to his physician, the young man's eyesight has apparently been saved and it may be possible to prevent permanent disfigurement of his face.

Mrs. Bernice Lundstrom Day, who police allege hurled the acid in her husband's face, before swallowing poison in a suicide attempt, was reported steadily improving early today, and her ultimate recovery no longer appeared to be in doubt.
