A matter of local interest was the fire disaster at Marshfield yesterday morning, wherein an entire family of five lost their lives. In an apartment above the business houses were also the Hegdahl family, together with Mrs. E. L. Watson, Mrs. Hegdahl's mother, who was contemplating a visit to relatives in this valley. When awakened, access to the stairway was cut off, and after the boy of nine was thrown to the awning below, an explosion from within threw all of them through the window out upon the awning. Mrs. Watson, because of her weight, was the most seriously injured. A telephone message to Medford informed relatives here that one lung was still badly involved by smoke inhaled, but hopes were entertained of entire recovery.

Mrs. Watson is a cousin of S. B. Holmes of Eagle Point and W. M. Holmes of Medford.
