A few years ago, Josephine county farmers were shipping in large quantities of hay from outside points to feed the stock raised here. In 1923, with hay production on the increase, 26 cars of hay were shipped in. The following year saw a big change, however, and 40 cars were shipped out. The present year will see another increase in outgoing shipments, with the River Banks farm planning on sending out at least 100 cars of their own. This export of hay is in addition to the much larger amount consumed in the county through the addition of hundreds of head of cattle.—Grants Pass Courier.
