MAN WHO CLAIMS HE MADE LILLIAN GISH IS BANKRUPT

NEW YORK, May 21.—Charles H. Duell, former motion picture producer, who made Lillian Gish rich, according to his counsel, was on his way to Miami, Fla., today to attempt to make enough money in real estate to fight a federal indictment for perjury. There are reports that he has a $7500 a year job.

The man whose management netted Miss Gish a fortune of $250,000 in three years, was declared penniless by his counsel, Colonel William Hayward, in arguing for low bail. Friends in the American Legion provided a bond of $1,000.

During the war Duell was a lieutenant on a destroyer in the submarine zone.

"For three years Duell made Miss Gish and others rich," Mr. Hayward told Judge A. N. Hand. "Then they fought him. The resultant litigation wiped out his fortune."

The perjury indictment grew out of an unsuccessful suit by Duell to compel Miss Gish to live up to a contract to make pictures for him exclusively. During the trial, it is charged he made false statements. Among other things, he testified that he had been "unofficially" engaged to Miss Gish and that the engagement was to become "official" when he was divorced.
