

Breakfast in the chuck-house calls for Hills Bros Coffee

IN THE open country, where men must work, whatever the weather, breakfast must sustain. It calls for hearty, filling food . . . and that wonderful western coffee—Hills Bros. Red Can.

When you break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros., the aroma that is wafted upward tells you that here is no ordinary coffee. And when you moisten your lips with that first savory sip, you understand why it is The Recognized Standard of coffee excellence.

Really, there is no finer coffee to be had. It is delicious beyond description. The Quality Quartet—aroma, flavor, strength, freshness—makes Hills Bros. the favorite of coffee-lovers everywhere. Hills Bros. Coffee is economical to use.

I. O. O. F. CONVENTION IN ASHLAND ENDS, DELEGATES DEPART

ASHLAND, May 21.—The Grand Lodge of the affiliated orders of I. O. O. F. of Oregon closed its 1525 session with the installation of officers Thursday afternoon. More than 1500 members were in session, an indication of the importance of the work by the degree staff of Salem at the Armory last night the official count recorded 781 Rebekahs present. During the assembly 333 took the assembly degree. This was the record class taking this degree. Late Thursday afternoon, Mary D. Moss, retiring president, assisted by the degree staff, installed the following officers: Myrta R. James, president; Newport; Dora Sexton, vice president; The Dalles; Edna Sanderson, warden; The Dalles; Ora L. Cosper, secretary; Tillamook; Edna Jacobs, treasurer; Clallam; Tugle, marshal; Corvallis; Charlotte Burnett, conductor; Seaside; Edna Wines, Portland, chaplain; Madras; Rogers, inside guardian; Enterprise; Ethel M. Smith, outside guardian; Haines, Assembly trustee; Antoinette Nolan, Fannie Barger and May Wagner, Trustee for home; Nellie Gustin, Portland, and as representative to association of Rebekah assemblies. Mrs. Mary D. Moss, lovely gifts and beautiful flowers were presented the officers after installation. A special team of Ashland Past Noble Grants received more complimentary mention from the assembly for the efficient manner used in seating the officers. The decorations which meant so much time and effort spent, were spoken of in highest terms, and Ashland visitors expressed heartfelt appreciation of the welcome demonstrated in the courtesies extended them.

Tuesday, May 26, the ceremonial of the Daughters of the Nile occurs in Ashland at the Masonic hall. Guests will be entertained at dinner at 7 p. m. at Hotel Ashland, followed by a dance. Members are requested to note the date. An excellent attendance is expected.

Miss Ramona Wise, a graduate of 1924, and who took post graduate work in Ashland high this year, left for Portland recently, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Louis Schwein, to take a course in nurse's training school at Emanuel Hospital in Portland. Miss Wise has lately recovered from a severe illness of many weeks' duration. Miss Wise will be missed from the social activities of her young friends but all wish for her abundant success in her chosen profession.

The I. O. O. F. Hospital corps won the cup for the I. O. O. F. organization making the best showing in the parade yesterday. The prize for the largest number in uniform was awarded the Eugene Canton, Hovey No. 4, Medford Auxiliary No. 8 were awarded the cup for the best display in the parade and Olive Rebekah lodge No. 28 won the prize for the best float in the parade. The best decorated car was that of the Kiwanis, with its comprehensive motto and harmonious and graceful arrangement in decoration. Miss Elizabeth Wagner, who has been spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wagner of Oak street, has returned to San Francisco.

Mrs. T. W. Miles was a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen T. Wagner, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark, who formerly lived in Ashland for a time, but who have been traveling extensively for the last four years, are in Ashland and calling on old friends. They are driving through from Long Beach, where they wintered, to Alberta, where Mr. Clark has large property interests. Mr. Clark says in all their travels they have been constant boosters for Ashland. He says he has not found a place that suited him quite so well since he left here. The Clarks will probably stop in Ashland again upon their return from Canada.

The post office inspector, P. D. Houghton, of Medford, is at the local office today.

Invitations from Miss Harriet Wheeler of Medford, of the class of 1925 of Medford high, have been received by her relatives and friends. Miss Wheeler is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Andrews, Fairview street, and Mrs. H. W. Andrews, Church street.

The marriage of Miss Opal Harvey and Mrs. Frank Wright was solemnized Saturday, May 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker of Klamath Falls. The bride was very lovely in a dainty gown of white, with wedding veil, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. There were many relatives and friends present and the bride's attendants were close friends in Klamath Falls. The rooms were fragrant in Ashland roses sent by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elhart. Dainty cakes and sherbet were served after the ceremony. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home in Klamath Falls, where the groom holds a good position.

Mrs. F. G. Swendenburg left Wednesday for a four month's tour of Europe. She will be accompanied by her daughters, Genevieve and Eleanor, who are in school at Stockholm, Italy, France and Spain will be visited. Mrs. Swendenburg returns in the fall. The girls remain in Stockholm for another year's work. Dr. and Mrs. Swendenburg took their daughters over last summer and spent some time there in a delightful continental trip.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON SUNDAY

The annual Medford high school baccalaureate service tendered the graduating class by the Medford churches will be observed Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock in the Craterian theater. While it is customary to hold this service in one of the churches, in consideration of the large class and the great number of people who wish to attend, no church auditorium in the city could accommodate the congregation. The morning services of the churches participating will be omitted that all the congregations may take part, though the regular Bible schools will be held as usual and all evening services also. Rev. J. H. Coan, pastor of the South Methodist church was invited by the class of 1925 to deliver the baccalaureate sermon. The local ministers will participate in the service. The graduating class this year is the largest in the history of the school numbering about ninety.

The Screen

By Ye Press Agent.

Thrilling Film at Rialto. Good old melodrama comes swooning across the screen at the Rialto theatre today and tomorrow in "The Midnight Express." As the title implies it concerns a few thrilling races through the night in speeding express trains, but there are also plodding freight train, runaway engines and all the other necessary adjuncts to a correct melodrama of the railroad yards.

There is some magnificent photography in the offering. The thrill of the crashing power of the huge locomotives thundering and crashing over the ribbons of steel cannot escape one. The night scenes are especially vivid and present something more than mere screen play emphasis.

The plot has a pretty girl and a handsome man in the persons of Elaine Hammerstein and William Haines, and the other members of the cast have been well selected for type. The good and the bad, in which of course, the good always triumphs over the bad, have been included in the weaving of the plot. Romance is the moving element for melodrama, naturally. But there is action enough to suit the fan who requires his thrills along with his loves of the screen.

The usual short subjects in comedy and review reel complete the bill.

Alice Terry at Craterian. Seldom have we seen such a combination of cast, production and story as in "The Great Divide," the Metro-Goldwyn picture which opened at the Hunt's Craterian theatre Wednesday and will show tomorrow matinee and night, laying off tonight for the legitimate production, "So This is London."

The story, which is from the famous stage play by William Vaughn Moody, is strong and full of numerous twists and thrills that keep one spellbound from start to finish. The cast headed by Conway Tearle and Alice Terry, contains also the names of Wallace Beery, Huntly Gordon, Zasu Pitts, Allan Forrest, Geo. Cooper and William Arlmond. The story starts in a small New England village and travels from there to the Painted Desert of Arizona. It is a psychological story of a woman's pride and a battle between her conscious mind and her subconscious instincts.

There has never been a screen offering before with more beautiful photographs than in "The Great Divide."
