

LAST HOPE FADES FOR LIVES OF 70 ENTOMBED MINERS

COAL GLEN, N. C., May 28.—(A. P.)—The glimmer of hope that some of the three score or more miners entombed in the Carolina Coal company mine early yesterday might be rescued alive wavered and went out early today in the hearts of rescue workers who through the night had labored in the recesses of the mine.

After a long, dread enemy of the miners, claimed their lives, if they survived the series of explosions which closed their escape to the surface, rescue workers declared. But despite this belief, which gained headway through the night, they labored no less faithfully in the effort to reach their imprisoned comrades of yesterday. Through the night, hundreds of men, women and children, relatives of the entombed men, strained against the barrier ropes surrounding the dusky entrance to the mine.

For hours after the disaster, hope was entertained that the imprisoned men might still live. This hope was nurtured by the report that fresh air had been encountered by workers as they toiled downward seeking the entombed men.

As the cable drew its creaking burden into the outer darkness time after time and fresh crews of rescuers replaced tired workers until the 1500 foot level had been reached, without bringing evidence of the imprisoned men, the belief grew that afterward had claimed as its toll the lives which might have survived the explosions.

Early today eight bodies represented the sole fruit of the labor of rescue workers. Mine officials expressed the opinion that between fifty and sixty-five men still were buried beneath the 1500 foot level.

Arrival of a mine rescue car from West Virginia whence it was ordered by the bureau of mines today, was expected to facilitate the work of rescue.

LOOK OUT FOR SELF POISONING

Neglect of the liver results in self-poisoning! Not so quickly, perhaps, but just as surely as if you drank poison out of a bottle. If your liver is not doing its work of helping digestion, eliminating waste from the bowels and purifying the blood, you will always be troubled with sick headaches, nausea, biliousness, bad breath, gas, sour stomach, or constipation.

Cleanse and tone your liver! Put your system in condition so you feel your very best again! Try just a spoonful of Dr. H. S. Thacher's excellent Liver and Blood Syrup after the next few meals and notice the quick improvement in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel—the return of strength, vigor and energy. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise there will be no cost. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by Health Drug Store and all other leading druggists.

CITIZENSHIP

A Tribute to Our Soldier Dead and Their Influence on the Nation's Character, Issued by the BETTER SCHOOLS LEAGUE, INC.

Memorial Day brings to us a new reverence for those whose sacrifices made our country sure. In their valor and ideals they revealed the priceless possession of this nation—its abundant treasure of worthy citizenship.

Citizenship is the fiber of any nation. In our own nation it is the power supreme. It leaps the boundaries of birth and creed, feeds the love of hearth and home, sets aflame the passion of patriotism, lifts the nation above the individual and fosters liberty and equality.

Well may this nation be proud of its citizenship. From Lexington to Sumner, from Santiago to the Arconce, this citizenship has burned as a beacon of democracy. Whether on Flanders Fields or native soil, it revealed its mettle and its high, unselfish aims.

language of Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, probably the foremost investigator of child delinquency and dependency in this country, "it is better to make children think than to make them good." This leaves little doubt the course we should pursue.

Knowledge invigorates ideals. It discourages vice and crime. The school is our institution for the general diffusion of knowledge and the building of character. Taking the nation's manhood in the raw, it molds and inspires within those qualities that create the loftiest form of citizenship, the nobility of character which finds its highest expression in defense of democracy.

So, on this Memorial Day, with its lessons of devotion and loyalty to ideals as we pay tribute to the citizenship of our yesterday we may well have concern that we plan safely and well for the citizenship of the tomorrow.

Children taught what is right will tend to act right. The enlightened mind is the constructive mind. In the
