Fruitgrowers, Attention!

A Letter of Interest to Every Fruit Grower in Southern Oregon

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
Bureau of Plant Industry
Washington
April 22, 1925.

Mr. H. W. Hamlin, Manager,
Medford Precooling & Storage Co.,
Palm Building, Medford, Oregon.
Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 13th inst. relative to the precooling and storage of pears is at hand. Under separate cover we are sending you two reports, one of which deals particularly with the precooling of Bartlett pears for shipping. This bulletin will, I believe, give you most of the information which you request.

Bartlett pears at 32 degrees will ripen only about one-tenth as rapidly as at 60 degrees, which is a much lower temperature than that prevailing in your district at the time of harvesting pears; consequently it is very important that the fruit be cooled as promptly as possible. In carlot shipments of hot fruit, four to five days elapse before the fruit temperature is as low as the car will hold the fruit unless it is cooled. Consequently, cooling the fruit promptly before loading it into the car will mean that the fruit will arrive in eastern markets in greener condition than if loaded directly from the field into the cars. Also, fruit may be picked in a more mature condition and still carry through to market in good shape if properly pre-cooled.

We should emphasize, however, that it is essential that the fruit be cooled thoroughly and promptly if precooling is to be a success. The previous experience in the Medford district has not always been favorable, as you know, due to the fact that the fruit was delayed three or four days in shipping, and then was not thoroughly chilled. This was due to trying to precool too much fruit with the small amount of refrigeration available.

Very truly yours,
J. R. MAGNESS,
Physiologist.

M'FARLANE, DIEGEL LEAD IN PLAY IN OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

WORCESTER, Mass., June 4.—(A. P.)—Luce Diegel and Willie McFarlane were in excellent position today for a dash to fame and fortune in the concluding 36-holes of the national open golf tournament.

With 141 each for the first 36 holes, they led the field by two strokes after the first day's play.

Diegel first smashed the competitive record by doing a 68, three under par, to add to a first round of 73. Then along came McFarlane with a 67 to add to a 74. A dozen and a half players had 150 or better for the first 36 holes play, and with the prospect of unwatched hot weather adding to the usual strain of the last two rounds the chances of anybody under 150 were considerably more than mere forlorn hopes.

This was especially true of Walter Hagen, tied for twelfth place with 148. Nor was Bobby Jones, one stroke ahead of Hagen, out of the running for his second open crown. He got a bad start with a 77, but showed his recuperative power with a 70 yesterday afternoon.

Among the surprises of the first day's play were two comebacks. Francis Ouimet, amateur, who as a boy twelve years ago won the open at Brookline, tied for second place yesterday with Francis Gallett of Milwaukee, Wis., and Al Espinosa of the Chicago district at 143. The other comeback was Gene Sarazen who after a year of mediocre golf, turned in a pair of 72's yesterday.

Among those considered to have little chance were MacDonald Smith, who, after weakened by the heat, took 132 for the first 36 holes and Cyril Walker, the present champion, two strokes higher than Smith.

WRESTLING GAME GAINS WITH BIG PURSES TO STARS

CHICAGO, June 4.—(By Associated Press.) The wrestling game at last is following in the footsteps of boxing in the matter of the big purses and not since Frank Gotch came from the Iowa corn fields to win the heavyweight crown has interest in the mat sport been so pronounced.

Now the big promoters are interested and wrestling contests are being advertised on a scale of boxing proportions, with purses at a healthy figure.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, who promoted the Lewis-Munn go in his sky blue arena at Michigan City built for boxing, collected 12,000 spectators for the diamond belt match, not as many as expected, but still above the usual wrestling turnout. The purse, originally set for $50,000 later was reduced to $30,000 when Munn suffered defeat at the hands of Stanislaus Zhyzsko, but remained an attractive figure.

The Zhyzsko-Stecher bout at St. Louis drew 8000 at the gate and the purse was advertised for $50,000, but apparently fell short of that figure.

Now comes Paddy Harmon, whose forte has been the promotion of six day bicycle races, with an offer of a $50,000 purse for a go between Lewis and Stecher to settle definitely the title.

DEMPESEY CABLES DESIRE TO FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 4.—(A. P.)—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, today cabled Billy Gibbons, manager of Gene Tunney, that he would meet the winner of the Tunney-Gibbons match if "proper inducements were offered." The cable came from Berlin, Germany.

The cablegram follows:
"Will positively meet the winner of the Tunney-Gibbons bout if proper inducements are offered. We both are enjoying the trip immensely. Thanks for the good wishes. Hope you have a sell out."
(Signed) "JACK DEMPSEY."

$4,400 A MINUTE PUGILIST'S PAY

NEW YORK, June 4.—(A. P.)—Payment on a basis of more than $4400 a minute will be made Gene Tunney and Tom Gibbons for their fifteen round heavyweight battle tomorrow night at the Polo grounds, if the bout goes the limit, it is stated.

The advance sale of tickets indicates an attendance of 60,000 and receipts of $400,000. Thirty per cent will be the share of Gibbons, giving him $120,000 or $8,000 for each three minute round. Tunney's share will be $80,000, representing twenty per cent of the receipts, or more than $5,333 per round.

The fighters are resting today after a month's preparation for the battle. Both are pronounced in perfect trim.

The Stage

Original Company with Miss Cowl.

Jane Cowl's triumphal sweep around the country in "Romeo and Juliet" is expected to reach its climax in a special west coast tour.

Having finished an unusually successful return engagement in Boston, the popular Miss Cowl will cross the continent without a stop to open her special western engagement in San Francisco Monday, May 25th. After a brief engagement she will journey direct to Medford for Monday night, June 8th.

Miss Cowl looks upon the production of "Romeo and Juliet" as the greatest reward of her career in the theatre. It means, for one thing, the realization of her greatest ambition, and it means, for another thing, that she is entitled to cherish the role of Juliet in her repertoire.

Miss Cowl brings to this city the complete original company, including Rollo Peters as Romeo. Mr. Peters enjoys the distinction also of having designed the sixteen scenes in which the play is set.

Frank Reicher, famous for unusual stage production directed Miss Cowl's present organization.

The Screen

By Ye Press Agent.

Jackie Coogan, Rialto.

Seemingly there is no end to the possibilities of Jackie Coogan's genius as an actor. He will be at the Rialto theatre the last time tonight in "Little Robinson Crusoe."

Every picture that Jackie makes is said to be his best. This one proves that, for it has everything in it that Jackie does best.

If the picture going public thinks it has seen the so called "last word" in animal performances on the screen, it is said to be mistaken and due for a genuine surprise tomorrow and Saturday at the Rialto theatre, where the ever-popular Tom Mix will be seen in his latest triumph, "Teeth."

DALLAS, Ore., June 4.—Investigation here today of a report from Walla Walla, Wash., that Levi Ankeny, Jr., grandson of the late Senator Ankeny of Washington, was married here two months ago to Klysta Cornett, daughter of a former Prineville, Ore., businessman and niece of R. A. Booth, former chairman of the Oregon state highway commission, revealed that a license had been granted to Lee Ankeny, 21, and Blanche Cornett, 18, on April 17, and that they were married here the same day.

—With the Right Oil

What is the right oil? Not a matter of opinion, nor of price. But one of selected crude, modern facilities, and careful refining.

An example of this is Aristo Motor Oil. It is made with quality as the only consideration. Yet its price is almost half that of eastern oils.

The reason for this is simple: Aristo does not carry excessive freight costs from the east. It is refined in California, from western crude of select quality. And it benefits by volume production.

Aristo combats the formation of carbon. It is an unexcelled lubricant.

If, in fact, a better lubricant were possible—regardless of price—it would be made by the Union Oil Company of California.

Aristo is sold wherever you see the Union Oil sign. At Union Oil service stations, and at independent dealers of the first class everywhere.
